

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO
EASTERN DIVISION

IN RE: NATIONAL PRESCRIPTION
OPIATE LITIGATION

THIS DOCUMENT RELATES TO:

OptumRx and Express Scripts cases listed in ECF Nos. 5546-1, 5547-1, 5548-1, 5565-1

MDL No. 2804

Case No. 1:17-md-02804-DAP

Judge Dan Aaron Polster

THE PBMS' JOINT OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFFS' OMNIBUS MOTIONS FOR LEAVE TO AMEND

[PART II]

TABLE OF CONTENTS*Page

1.	City of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45000-DAP: Plaintiff Lorain City, Ohio .....	213
2.	City of Parma v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45001-DAP: Plaintiff Parma City, Ohio .....	217
3.	County of Cuyahoga v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45004-DAP: Plaintiff Cuyahoga County, Ohio .....	221
4.	City of Toledo v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Toledo City, Ohio .....	225
5.	Anderson County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45006-DAP: Plaintiff Anderson County, Kentucky .....	229
6.	Franklin County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45007-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Kentucky .....	233
7.	Shelby County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45009-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Kentucky .....	236
8.	Henry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Henry County, Kentucky .....	240
9.	Madison County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45011-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, Kentucky .....	243
10.	Fiscal Court of Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45012-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland County, Kentucky .....	247
11.	Louisville/Jefferson County MetroGovernment v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45013-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Kentucky .....	251
12.	Fiscal Court of Union County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45015-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Kentucky .....	255
13.	Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45016-DAP: Plaintiff Carlisle County, Kentucky .....	259
14.	Boyle County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Boyle County, Kentucky .....	263

15.	Fleming County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45019-DAP: Plaintiff Fleming County, Kentucky .....	266
16.	Boone County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45020-DAP: Plaintiff Boone County, Kentucky .....	270
17.	Pendleton County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45021-DAP: Plaintiff Pendleton County, Kentucky .....	274
18.	Campbell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45022-DAP: Plaintiff Campbell County, Kentucky .....	278
19.	Garrard County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Garrard County, Kentucky .....	281
20.	Lincoln County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45024-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, Kentucky .....	285
21.	Nicholas County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Nicholas County, Kentucky .....	289
22.	Bell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45026-DAP: Plaintiff Bell County, Kentucky .....	292
23.	Harlan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Harlan County, Kentucky .....	296
24.	Knox County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Knox County, Kentucky .....	299
25.	Leslie County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45029-DAP: Plaintiff Leslie County, Kentucky .....	303
26.	Whitley County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45030-DAP: Plaintiff Whitley County, Kentucky .....	307
27.	Clay County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45031-DAP: Plaintiff Clay County, Kentucky .....	310
28.	Dayton v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45032-DAP: Plaintiff Dayton City, Ohio .....	314

29.	Clermont County Board Of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff Clermont County, Ohio .....	318
30.	Belmont County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45034-DAP: Plaintiff Belmont County, Ohio .....	322
31.	Brown County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45035-DAP: Plaintiff Brown County, Ohio .....	327
32.	Vinton County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Vinton County, Ohio .....	331
33.	Jackson County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45037-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Ohio.....	334
34.	Scioto County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45038-DAP: Plaintiff Scioto County, Ohio .....	338
35.	Pike County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45039-DAP: Plaintiff Pike County, Ohio .....	341
36.	Ross County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45040-DAP: Plaintiff Ross County, Ohio .....	344
37.	City of Cincinnati v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45041-DAP: Plaintiff Cincinnati City, Ohio .....	348
38.	City of Portsmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45042-DAP: Plaintiff Portsmouth City, Ohio .....	352
39.	Gallia County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45043-DAP: Plaintiff Gallia County, Ohio .....	355
40.	Hocking County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45044-DAP: Plaintiff Hocking County, Ohio .....	359
41.	Lawrence County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45045-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Ohio .....	363
42.	City of Everett v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45046-DAP: Plaintiff Everett City, Washington .....	367

43.	City of Tacoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45047-DAP: Plaintiff Tacoma City, Washington .....	370
44.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45048-DAP: Plaintiff St. Clair County, Illinois .....	374
45.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Jersey County, Illinois .....	379
46.	People of State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45050-DAP: Plaintiff Alexander County, Illinois.....	383
47.	Wyoming County Commission v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Wyoming County, West Virginia .....	386
48.	Fiscal Court of Oldham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45067-DAP: Plaintiff Oldham County, Kentucky .....	390
49.	Fiscal Court of Henderson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45069-DAP: Plaintiff Henderson County, Kentucky .....	394
50.	Fiscal Court of Christian County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45070-DAP: Plaintiff Christian County, Kentucky.....	397
51.	Fiscal Court of Marshall County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45071-DAP: Plaintiff Marshall County, Kentucky .....	400
52.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45078-DAP: Plaintiff Christian County, Illinois.....	404
53.	City of Fort Payne, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45079-DAP: Plaintiff Fort Payne City, Alabama .....	407
54.	St. Louis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff St. Louis County, Missouri.....	411
55.	Boyd County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45084-DAP: Plaintiff Boyd County, Kentucky .....	415
56.	County of Upshur v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45085-DAP: Plaintiff Upshur County, Texas .....	419
57.	County of Morris v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45086-DAP: Plaintiff Morris County, Texas.....	422

58.	Fiscal Court of Greenup County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45088-DAP: Plaintiff Greenup County, Kentucky .....	425
59.	Fiscal Court of Kenton County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45089-DAP: Plaintiff Kenton County, Kentucky .....	428
60.	Jessamine County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45090-DAP: Plaintiff Jessamine County, Kentucky .....	432
61.	Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45092-DAP: Plaintiff Lexington-Fayette Urban County, Kentucky .....	435
62.	Adams County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45093-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Wisconsin .....	439
63.	Scott County Indiana Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45094-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Indiana.....	442
64.	Marathon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45095-DAP: Plaintiff Marathon County, Wisconsin.....	446
65.	Tallapoosa County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45097-DAP: Plaintiff Tallapoosa County, Alabama.....	449
66.	Sauk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45098-DAP: Plaintiff Sauk County, Wisconsin .....	452
67.	Iowa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45099-DAP: Plaintiff Iowa County, Wisconsin .....	456
68.	Luzerne County, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45100-DAP: Plaintiff Luzerne County, Pennsylvania .....	459
69.	City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP: Plaintiff Etowah County, Alabama .....	463
70.	City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP: Plaintiff Gadsden City, Alabama .....	467
71.	County of Wayne et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45102-DAP: Plaintiff Oakland County, Michigan.....	470
72.	People of the State of Illinois, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45103-DAP: Plaintiff Wabash County, Illinois.....	474

73.	Door County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45104-DAP: Plaintiff Door County, Wisconsin .....	477
74.	Laurel County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45105-DAP: Plaintiff Laurel County, Kentucky .....	480
75.	Fond du Lac County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45106-DAP: Plaintiff Fond Du Lac County, Wisconsin .....	484
76.	Douglas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45107-DAP: Plaintiff Douglas County, Wisconsin .....	486
77.	Rock County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45108-DAP: Plaintiff Rock County, Wisconsin .....	490
78.	Pulaski County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Pulaski County, Kentucky .....	493
79.	Perry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45110-DAP: Plaintiff Perry County, Kentucky .....	497
80.	Eau Claire County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45112-DAP: Plaintiff Eau Claire County, Wisconsin .....	501
81.	Washington County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45114-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Wisconsin .....	504
82.	Rusk County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45116-DAP: Plaintiff Rusk County, Wisconsin .....	507
83.	Columbia County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45118-DAP: Plaintiff Columbia County, Wisconsin .....	510
84.	Shawano County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45119-DAP: Plaintiff Shawano County, Wisconsin .....	514
85.	Jackson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45121-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Wisconsin .....	517
86.	Jefferson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Wisconsin .....	520
87.	Washburn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45123-DAP: Plaintiff Washburn County, Wisconsin .....	523
88.	Langlade County v. Purdue Frederick Co et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45124-DAP: Plaintiff Langlade County, Wisconsin .....	527
89.	Florence County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45125-DAP: Plaintiff Florence County, Wisconsin .....	530
90.	Price County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45126-DAP: Plaintiff Price County, Wisconsin .....	533

91.	Wood County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45127-DAP: Plaintiff Wood County, Wisconsin.....	536
92.	Sheboygan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45128-DAP: Plaintiff Sheboygan County, Wisconsin .....	539
93.	Oneida County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45129-DAP: Plaintiff Oneida County, Wisconsin.....	543
94.	Ashland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45130-DAP: Plaintiff Ashland County, Wisconsin .....	546
95.	Chippewa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Chippewa County, Wisconsin .....	550
96.	Dunn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45133-DAP: Plaintiff Dunn County, Wisconsin .....	553
97.	Forest County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45134-DAP: Plaintiff Forest County, Wisconsin .....	557
98.	Manitowoc County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45135-DAP: Plaintiff Manitowoc County, Wisconsin .....	560
99.	Marquette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Marquette County, Wisconsin.....	563
100.	Sawyer County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45137-DAP: Plaintiff Sawyer County, Wisconsin .....	565
101.	Trempealeau County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45138-DAP: Plaintiff Trempealeau County, Wisconsin .....	568
102.	Waushara County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45139-DAP: Plaintiff Waushara County, Wisconsin .....	572
103.	Buffalo County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45141-DAP: Plaintiff Buffalo County, Wisconsin .....	575
104.	Calumet County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45142-DAP: Plaintiff Calumet County, Wisconsin.....	578
105.	Dodge County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Dodge County, Wisconsin.....	581
106.	Kenosha County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45144-DAP: Plaintiff Kenosha County, Wisconsin .....	584
107.	Marinette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45145-DAP: Plaintiff Marinette County, Wisconsin.....	588
108.	St. Croix County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45147-DAP: Plaintiff St. Croix County, Wisconsin .....	592
109.	Vernon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45148-DAP: Plaintiff Vernon County, Wisconsin .....	595

110.	Clark County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45150-DAP: Plaintiff Clark County, Wisconsin .....	598
111.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45151-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Illinois .....	601
112.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45152-DAP: Plaintiff Gallatin County, Illinois.....	604
113.	Buncombe County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45153-DAP: Plaintiff Buncombe County, North Carolina.....	607
114.	County of Rusk v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45154-DAP: Plaintiff Rusk County, Texas .....	611
115.	County of Cherokee v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45155-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee County, Texas .....	614
116.	Township of Irvington v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45156-DAP: Plaintiff Irvington Township, New Jersey .....	618
117.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45157-DAP: Plaintiff Hamilton County, Illinois .....	622
118.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45158-DAP: Plaintiff Pulaski County, Illinois .....	625
119.	County of Bowie v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45159-DAP: Plaintiff Bowie County, Texas .....	628
120.	County of Red River v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45160-DAP: Plaintiff Red River County, Texas .....	632
121.	County of Titus v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45161-DAP: Plaintiff Titus County, Texas .....	635
122.	County of Lamar v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45162-DAP: Plaintiff Lamar County, Texas .....	638
123.	Pierce County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45165-DAP: Plaintiff Pierce County, Wisconsin .....	642
124.	Waupaca County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45166-DAP: Plaintiff Waupaca County, Wisconsin .....	645
125.	Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45167-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, Wisconsin.....	648
126.	Clark County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45172-DAP: Plaintiff Clark County, Kentucky .....	651

127.	Scott County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Kentucky .....	654
128.	Woodford County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:17-op-45174-DAP: Plaintiff Woodford County, Kentucky .....	657
129.	Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan v. Purdue Pharma , Case No. 1:18-op-45001-DAP: Plaintiff Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan, Massachusetts .....	660
130.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45003-DAP: Plaintiff Hardin County, Illinois .....	663
131.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45004-DAP: Plaintiff Bond County, Illinois .....	667
132.	Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee Town, Alabama .....	670
133.	Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Colbert County, Alabama .....	674
134.	Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Alabama .....	678
135.	Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Tuscumbia City, Alabama .....	683
136.	New Hanover County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45006-DAP: Plaintiff New Hanover County, North Carolina .....	687
137.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45007-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Illinois .....	690
138.	Fiscal Court of Bullitt County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45009-DAP: Plaintiff Bullitt County, Kentucky .....	694
139.	Fiscal Court of Hopkins County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Hopkins County, Kentucky .....	697
140.	City of Opp, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45011-DAP: Plaintiff Opp City, Alabama .....	701
141.	Ashland County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45012-DAP: Plaintiff Ashland County, Ohio .....	705

142.	American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health &amp; Security Plan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45013-DAP: Plaintiff American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan, New York .....	708
143.	Yadkin County, North Carolina v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45014-DAP: Plaintiff Yadkin County, North Carolina .....	708
144.	Rockingham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45015-DAP: Plaintiff Rockingham County, North Carolina .....	712
145.	City of Greenfield, v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45017-DAP: Plaintiff City of Greenfield, Massachusetts .....	716
146.	Rowan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Rowan County, Kentucky .....	720
147.	Houston County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45019-DAP: Plaintiff Houston County, Alabama .....	723
148.	City of Greenville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Greenville City, Alabama .....	727
149.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45024-DAP: Plaintiff White County, Illinois .....	732
150.	Sedgwick County Board of Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Sedgwick County, Kansas .....	735
151.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45026-DAP: Plaintiff Jasper County, Illinois .....	739
152.	Coshocton County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Coshocton County, Ohio .....	742
153.	Buchanan County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Buchanan County, Missouri.....	745
154.	Ottawa County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45031-DAP: Plaintiff Ottawa County, Ohio.....	749
155.	County of Lake v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45032-DAP: Plaintiff Lake County, Ohio .....	752

156.	County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff Cascade County, Montana.....	755
157.	County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff Gallatin County, Montana .....	759
158.	Lawrence County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Mississippi.....	762
159.	Fairfield Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45038-DAP: Plaintiff Fairfield County, Ohio .....	765
160.	Licking County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45041-DAP: Plaintiff Licking County, Ohio.....	768
161.	Adams County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45042-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Ohio .....	772
162.	Guernsey County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45044-DAP: Plaintiff Guernsey County, Ohio .....	775
163.	Darke County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45046-DAP: Plaintiff Darke County, Ohio .....	779
164.	Logan County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45047-DAP: Plaintiff Logan County, Ohio .....	782
165.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Edwards County, Illinois .....	786
166.	Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45052-DAP: Plaintiff Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe, Minnesota.....	789
167.	Township of Bloomfield, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45053-DAP: Plaintiff Bloomfield Township, New Jersey .....	792
168.	City of Lansing v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45054-DAP: Plaintiff Lansing City, Michigan .....	795
169.	Morrow County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45059-DAP: Plaintiff Morrow County, Ohio .....	798

170.	Clinton County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45060-DAP: Plaintiff Clinton County, Ohio.....	802
171.	Champaign County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45065-DAP: Plaintiff Champaign County, Ohio.....	806
172.	Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45070-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi.....	810
173.	Marion County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45075-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Mississippi.....	813
174.	City of Mobile, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45076-DAP: Plaintiff Mobile City, Alabama .....	817
175.	County of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45078-DAP: Plaintiff Lorain County, Ohio.....	821
176.	County of Trumbull v. Purdue Pharma L.P. , Case No. 1:18-op-45079-DAP: Plaintiff Trumbull County, Ohio .....	824
177.	City of Elyria v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45080-DAP: Plaintiff Elyria City, Ohio .....	827
178.	County of Smith v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45081-DAP: Plaintiff Smith County, Texas .....	830
179.	Saginaw, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45082-DAP: Plaintiff Saginaw County, Michigan.....	833
180.	Genesee, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff Genesee County, Michigan .....	836
181.	City of Detroit, Michigan, A Municipal Corporation v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45084-DAP: Plaintiff Detroit City, Michigan .....	839
182.	Macomb, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45085-DAP: Plaintiff Macomb County, Michigan .....	841
183.	Surry County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45086-DAP: Plaintiff Surry County, North Carolin .....	844
184.	County of Summit, Ohio et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45090-DAP: Plaintiff Akron City, Ohio .....	847
185.	Amite County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45097-DAP: Plaintiff Amite County, Mississippi.....	850

186.	Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45098-DAP: Plaintiff Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, North Carolina.....	853
187.	Cecil County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45100-DAP: Plaintiff Cecil County, Maryland.....	857
188.	City of Woburn v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45103-DAP: Plaintiff Woburn City, Massachusetts .....	862
189.	Marquette, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45104-DAP: Plaintiff Marquette County, Michigan .....	865
190.	City of Methuen v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45106-DAP: Plaintiff Methuen Town City, Massachusetts .....	868
191.	Haywood County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45107-DAP: Plaintiff Haywood County, Tennessee.....	872
192.	Onslow County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45114-DAP: Plaintiff Onslow County, North Carolina.....	876
193.	City of Jacksonville v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45115-DAP: Plaintiff Jacksonville City, North Carolina .....	880
194.	Polk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45116-DAP: Plaintiff Polk County, Iowa .....	883
195.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Brown County, Wisconsin .....	886
196.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Crawford County, Wisconsin.....	889
197.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Kewaunee County, Wisconsin .....	892
198.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Outagamie County, Wisconsin .....	895
199.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Ozaukee County, Wisconsin .....	899
200.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Pepin County, Wisconsin.....	902
201.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Racine County, Wisconsin.....	904

202.	Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Winnebago County, Wisconsin.....	907
203.	Tippah County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45118-DAP: Plaintiff Tippah County, Mississippi.....	911
204.	Benton County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45119-DAP: Plaintiff Benton County, Mississippi.....	915
205.	Union County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45120-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Mississippi.....	919
206.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Bremer County, Iowa .....	923
207.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Buchanan County, Iowa .....	926
208.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Carroll County, Iowa.....	929
209.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Clay County, Iowa.....	932
210.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Clayton County, Iowa.....	935
211.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Dallas County, Iowa.....	938
212.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Humboldt County, Iowa.....	941
213.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Johnson County, Iowa .....	945
214.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Iowa .....	948
215.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Mitchell County, Iowa.....	951
216.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Plymouth County, Iowa.....	954
217.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Iowa.....	958
218.	Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Winneshiek County, Iowa .....	961

219.	City of Cleveland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Cleveland City, Ohio.....	964
220.	Campbell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. (JRG2) , Case No. 1:18-op-45133-DAP: Plaintiff Campbell County, Tennessee .....	968
221.	Williamson County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45134-DAP: Plaintiff Williamson County, Tennessee .....	972
222.	Greene County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Greene County, Tennessee .....	976
223.	Muskingum County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45137-DAP: Plaintiff Muskingum County, Ohio.....	979
224.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45138-DAP: Plaintiff Coles County, Illinois .....	982
225.	Catawba County North Carolina v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45145-DAP: Plaintiff Catawba County, North Carolina.....	986
226.	Forrest County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45147-DAP: Plaintiff Forrest County, Mississippi.....	989
227.	Wayne County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45150-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne County, Ohio.....	993
228.	Baldwin County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45152-DAP: Plaintiff Baldwin County, Alabama.....	996
229.	Hancock County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45153-DAP: Plaintiff Hancock County, Tennessee.....	1000
230.	City of Revere v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45155-DAP: Plaintiff Revere City, Massachusetts .....	1004
231.	City of Baton Rouge v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45160-DAP: Plaintiff Baton Rouge City, Louisiana.....	1007

232.	Franklin County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45162-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Ohio.....	1011
233.	City of Lebanon v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45163-DAP: Plaintiff Lebanon City, Ohio.....	1016
234.	Johnson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. (TVI) , Case No. 1:18-op-45164-DAP: Plaintiff Johnson County, Tennessee.....	1019
235.	Gaston County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45166-DAP: Plaintiff Gaston County, North Carolina.....	1023
236.	County of Onondaga, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45170-DAP: Plaintiff Onondaga County, New York .....	1026
237.	Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Dora City, Alabama .....	1029
238.	Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Jasper City, Alabama .....	1033
239.	Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Alabama .....	1037
240.	Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Pickens County, Alabama.....	1041
241.	Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Sumiton City, Alabama .....	1045
242.	Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Walker County, Alabama .....	1050
243.	Skagit County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Burlington City, Washington .....	1054
244.	Skagit County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Mount Vernon City, Washington.....	1058
245.	Skagit County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Sedro-Woolley City, Washington.....	1061
246.	Skagit County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Skagit County, Washington .....	1065
247.	Municipality of Guayanilla v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45176-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Guayanilla, Puerto Rico .....	1068
248.	Municipality of Loiza, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45177-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Loiza, Puerto Rico.....	1072

249.	Phenix City, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45179-DAP: Plaintiff Phenix City, Alabama .....	1075
250.	Washington County, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45180-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Alabama .....	1079
251.	Wilcox County, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45181-DAP: Plaintiff Wilcox County, Alabama .....	1083
252.	Coffee County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45182-DAP: Plaintiff Coffee County, Alabama .....	1087
253.	City of Demopolis, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45183-DAP: Plaintiff Demopolis City, Alabama .....	1092
254.	Burke County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45184-DAP: Plaintiff Burke County, North Carolina .....	1095
255.	Stokes County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45185-DAP: Plaintiff Stokes County, North Carolina .....	1099
256.	Mobile County, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45186-DAP: Plaintiff Mobile County, Alabama .....	1102
257.	Marengo County, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45188-DAP: Plaintiff Marengo County, Alabama .....	1106
258.	Talladega County, Alabama et al. v. Cardinal Health Inc et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45190-DAP: Plaintiff Talladega City, Alabama .....	1110
259.	Talladega County, Alabama et al. v. Cardinal Health Inc et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45190-DAP: Plaintiff Talladega County, Alabama .....	1113
260.	Calhoun County, Alabama v. Cardinal Health Inc et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45191-DAP: Plaintiff Calhoun County, Alabama .....	1117
261.	Trussville, City of v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45192-DAP: Plaintiff Trussville City, Alabama .....	1120
262.	Winston Medical Center v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45193-DAP: Plaintiff Winston Medical Center, Mississippi .....	1125
263.	Sumter County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45194-DAP: Plaintiff Sumter County, Alabama .....	1127
264.	Tuscaloosa County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45196-DAP: Plaintiff Tuscaloosa County, Alabama .....	1132

265.	Municipality of Sabana Grande et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45197-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Cayey, Puerto Rico.....	1136
266.	City of Selma, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45198-DAP: Plaintiff Selma City, Alabama.....	1139
267.	Morgan County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45200-DAP: Plaintiff Morgan County, Alabama.....	1143
268.	City of Decatur, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45201-DAP: Plaintiff Decatur City, Alabama.....	1148
269.	City of Moulton, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45202-DAP: Plaintiff Moulton City, Alabama .....	1152
270.	Lowndes County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45203-DAP: Plaintiff Lowndes County, Alabama.....	1155
271.	City of Union Springs, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45204-DAP: Plaintiff Union Springs City, Alabama .....	1160
272.	Cherokee County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45207-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee County, Alabama .....	1164
273.	Pitt County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45208-DAP: Plaintiff Pitt County, North Carolina.....	1169
274.	Greene County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45209-DAP: Plaintiff Greene County, Alabama .....	1172
275.	City of Enterprise, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45213-DAP: Plaintiff Enterprise City, Alabama.....	1176
276.	City of Ozark, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45214-DAP: Plaintiff Ozark City, Alabama .....	1179
277.	Crockett County, TN v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45215-DAP: Plaintiff Crockett County, Tennessee .....	1183
278.	City of Marion, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45217-DAP: Plaintiff Marion City, Alabama .....	1187

279.	Mecklenburg County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45221-DAP: Plaintiff Mecklenburg County, North Carolina .....	1191
280.	Brunswick County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45222-DAP: Plaintiff Brunswick County, North Carolina.....	1194
281.	Cullman County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45227-DAP: Plaintiff Cullman County, Alabama.....	1198
282.	Lawrence County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45228-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Alabama.....	1201
283.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Albertville City, Alabama.....	1205
284.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Arab City, Alabama .....	1210
285.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Boaz City, Alabama .....	1214
286.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Douglas Town, Alabama .....	1218
287.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Grant Town, Alabama.....	1221
288.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Guntersville City, Alabama .....	1225
289.	Marshall County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Marshall County, Alabama .....	1229
290.	Augusta, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45233-DAP: Plaintiff Augusta-Richmond County Consolidated Government, Georgia.....	1233
291.	Wilkes County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45239-DAP: Plaintiff Wilkes County, North Carolina.....	1238
292.	City of Lakewood v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45240-DAP: Plaintiff Lakewood City, Ohio .....	1242
293.	Pickett County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45242-DAP: Plaintiff Pickett County, Tennessee .....	1245

294.	Rutherford County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45243-DAP: Plaintiff Rutherford County, North Carolina.....	1248
295.	Barbour County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45244-DAP: Plaintiff Barbour County, Alabama.....	1252
296.	Perry County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45245-DAP: Plaintiff Perry County, Ohio.....	1255
297.	Bullock County, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45246-DAP: Plaintiff Bullock County, Alabama.....	1259
298.	Clay County, Alabama v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45248-DAP: Plaintiff Clay County, Alabama .....	1263
299.	Indiana County, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45249-DAP: Plaintiff Indiana County, Pennsylvania .....	1267
300.	Sandusky County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45254-DAP: Plaintiff Sandusky County, Ohio.....	1270
301.	Sumner County, Tennessee v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45255-DAP: Plaintiff Sumner County, Tennessee .....	1275
302.	Geauga County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45256-DAP: Plaintiff Geauga County, Ohio.....	1279
303.	Williams County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45257-DAP: Plaintiff Williams County, Ohio.....	1283
304.	Beaufort County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45261-DAP: Plaintiff Beaufort County, North Carolina.....	1286
305.	Caldwell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45263-DAP: Plaintiff Caldwell County, North Carolina.....	1290
306.	Delaware County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45266-DAP: Plaintiff Delaware County, Ohio.....	1293
307.	Chatham County, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45267-DAP: Plaintiff Chatham County, Georgia .....	1296

308.	City of Brunswick, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45270-DAP: Plaintiff Brunswick City, Georgia .....	1299
309.	Hamilton County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45272-DAP: Plaintiff Hamilton County, Ohio .....	1301
310.	Randolph County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45275-DAP: Plaintiff Randolph County, North Carolina.....	1305
311.	Person County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45276-DAP: Plaintiff Person County, North Carolina.....	1309
312.	Barron County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45277-DAP: Plaintiff La Crosse County, Wisconsin.....	1311
313.	Barron County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45277-DAP: Plaintiff Lafayette County, Wisconsin.....	1314
314.	Barron County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45277-DAP: Plaintiff Menominee County, Wisconsin.....	1318
315.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Ashburn City, Georgia .....	1321
316.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Calhoun City, Georgia .....	1324
317.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Cartersville City, Georgia .....	1328
318.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Chatsworth City, Georgia .....	1331
319.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Chattooga County, Georgia.....	1334
320.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Colquitt County, Georgia.....	1337
321.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Dawsonville City, Georgia.....	1339
322.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Floyd County, Georgia.....	1342
323.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Gordon County, Georgia.....	1345
324.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Helen City, Georgia .....	1348

325.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson City, Georgia .....	1350
326.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Marietta City, Georgia .....	1353
327.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff McDonough City, Georgia.....	1356
328.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Moultrie City, Georgia.....	1359
329.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Murray County, Georgia.....	1362
330.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Ringgold City, Georgia.....	1365
331.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Rome City, Georgia .....	1368
332.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Snellville City, Georgia.....	1371
333.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Telfair County, Georgia .....	1375
334.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Valdosta City, Georgia.....	1378
335.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Villa Rica City, Georgia.....	1381
336.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Whitfield County, Georgia.....	1384
337.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Winder City, Georgia.....	1388
338.	City of Rome et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Woodstock City, Georgia.....	1391
339.	Bacon County Hospital Foundation, Inc. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45285-DAP: Plaintiff Bacon County (GA) Hospital Authority, Georgia .....	1393
340.	Crawford County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45288-DAP: Plaintiff Crawford County, Ohio .....	1396
341.	Columbiana County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45289-DAP: Plaintiff Columbiana County, Ohio.....	1399

342.	Seneca County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45290-DAP: Plaintiff Seneca County, Ohio .....	1402
343.	Erie County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45291-DAP: Plaintiff Erie County, Ohio.....	1406
344.	Huron County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45292-DAP: Plaintiff Huron County, Ohio .....	1409
345.	Hawkins County, TN v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45299-DAP: Plaintiff Hawkins County, Tennessee .....	1413
346.	County of Camp v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45301-DAP: Plaintiff Camp County, Texas .....	1416
347.	County of Franklin v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45302-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Texas.....	1419
348.	Black Hawk County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45303-DAP: Plaintiff Des Moines County, Iowa .....	1423
349.	Black Hawk County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45303-DAP: Plaintiff Harrison County, Iowa .....	1425
350.	Black Hawk County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45303-DAP: Plaintiff Lyon County, Iowa .....	1428
351.	Black Hawk County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45303-DAP: Plaintiff Tama County, Iowa .....	1430
352.	City of Richmond Hill, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45305-DAP: Plaintiff Richmond Hill City, Georgia.....	1432
353.	Orange County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45308-DAP: Plaintiff Orange County, North Carolina.....	1435
354.	City of Rockford v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45309-DAP: Plaintiff Rockford City, Illinois .....	1438
355.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45310-DAP: Plaintiff Winnebago County, Illinois .....	1442
356.	Athens County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45326-DAP: Plaintiff Athens County, Ohio .....	1448
357.	Limestone County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45328-DAP: Plaintiff Limestone County, Alabama .....	1451

358.	City of Anniston Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45329-DAP: Plaintiff Anniston City, Alabama .....	1454
359.	City of Broadview Heights v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45330-DAP: Plaintiff Broadview Heights City, Ohio .....	1458
360.	Broward County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45332-DAP: Plaintiff Broward County, Florida .....	1462
361.	City of Lima v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45333-DAP: Plaintiff Lima City, Ohio .....	1465
362.	City of Pittsfield v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45335-DAP: Plaintiff Pittsfield City, Massachusetts .....	1468
363.	City of Easthampton, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45336-DAP: Plaintiff Easthampton Town City, Massachusetts .....	1471
364.	City of Northampton v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45337-DAP: Plaintiff Northampton City, Massachusetts .....	1475
365.	County of Oneida, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45338-DAP: Plaintiff Oneida County, New York .....	1480
366.	County of Shiawassee, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45350-DAP: Plaintiff Shiawassee County, Michigan .....	1483
367.	County of Lenawee, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45351-DAP: Plaintiff Lenawee County, Michigan.....	1485
368.	County of Sanilac, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45352-DAP: Plaintiff Sanilac County, Michigan .....	1488
369.	County of Hillsdale, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45355-DAP: Plaintiff Hillsdale County, Michigan.....	1491
370.	Calhoun County, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45363-DAP: Plaintiff Calhoun County, Florida .....	1493
371.	Jefferson County, Ohio v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45365-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Ohio.....	1497
372.	St. Croix Chippewa Indians of Wisconsin v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45367-DAP: Plaintiff St. Croix Chippewa Indians of Wisconsin .....	1502
373.	County of Floyd v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45369-DAP: Plaintiff Floyd County, Kentucky .....	1505
374.	Panama City, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45373-DAP: Plaintiff Panama City, Florida .....	1509

375.	County of Fulton v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45374-DAP: Plaintiff Fulton County, Georgia.....	1512
376.	Halifax County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45376-DAP: Plaintiff Halifax County, North Carolina.....	1516
377.	City of Mansfield v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45380-DAP: Plaintiff Mansfield City, Ohio.....	1519
378.	Martin County Fiscal Court v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45388-DAP: Plaintiff Martin County, Kentucky .....	1523
379.	Wayne County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45389-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne County, Kentucky .....	1526
380.	Family Practice Clinic of Booneville, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45390-DAP: Plaintiff Family Health Care Clinic, PSC, Kentucky.....	1530
381.	Family Practice Clinic of Booneville, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45390-DAP: Plaintiff Family Practice Clinic of Booneville, Inc., Kentucky .....	1533
382.	City of Pooler, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45391-DAP: Plaintiff Pooler City, Georgia.....	1536
383.	Carter County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45392-DAP: Plaintiff Carter County, Kentucky .....	1538
384.	Elliott County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45393-DAP: Plaintiff Elliott County, Kentucky .....	1542
385.	Bracken County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45395-DAP: Plaintiff Bracken County, Kentucky .....	1546
386.	Itawamba County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45396-DAP: Plaintiff Itawamba County, Mississippi.....	1549
387.	Marshall County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45397-DAP: Plaintiff Marshall County, Mississippi .....	1552
388.	City of Charleston, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45398-DAP: Plaintiff Charleston City, Mississippi .....	1556

389.	Tallahatchie County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45399-DAP: Plaintiff Tallahatchie County, Mississippi.....	1559
390.	Allen County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45401-DAP: Plaintiff Allen County, Ohio .....	1563
391.	Milwaukee County Wisconsin v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45402-DAP: Plaintiff Milwaukee County, Wisconsin.....	1566
392.	Madison County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Coropration et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45403-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, Tennessee .....	1570
393.	Henderson County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Coropration et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45404-DAP: Plaintiff Henderson County, Tennessee.....	1574
394.	Grand Rapids, City of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45406-DAP: Plaintiff Grand Rapids City, Michigan.....	1578
395.	Chambers County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45408-DAP: Plaintiff Chambers County, Alabama.....	1580
396.	Thurston County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45409-DAP: Plaintiff Thurston County, Washington .....	1584
397.	Walthall County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45411-DAP: Plaintiff Walthall County, Mississippi.....	1587
398.	Bibb County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45413-DAP: Plaintiff Bibb County, Alabama .....	1591
399.	Shelby County Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45414-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Alabama.....	1595
400.	Blount County Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45415-DAP: Plaintiff Blount County, Alabama .....	1599
401.	City of Midfield v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45416-DAP: Plaintiff Midfield City, Alabama.....	1603
402.	Montgomery County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45418-DAP: Plaintiff Montgomery County, Tennessee .....	1607
403.	Fentress County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45419-DAP: Plaintiff Fentress County, Tennessee.....	1611

404.	Hale County, Alabama v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45420-DAP: Plaintiff Hale County, Alabama .....	1614
405.	City of Greensboro, Alabama v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45421-DAP: Plaintiff Greensboro City, Alabama.....	1618
406.	City of Evergreen, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. , Case No. 1:18-op-45422-DAP: Plaintiff Evergreen City, Alabama .....	1622
407.	Town of Yellow Bluff, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. , Case No. 1:18-op-45423-DAP: Plaintiff Yellow Bluff Town, Alabama .....	1625
408.	City of North Royalton v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45427-DAP: Plaintiff North Royalton City, Ohio.....	1629
409.	St. Louis County, Minnesota v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45430-DAP: Plaintiff St. Louis County, Minnesota .....	1633
410.	City of Huron v. Cardinal Health Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45431-DAP: Plaintiff Huron City, Ohio.....	1635
411.	City of Fostoria v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45433-DAP: Plaintiff Fostoria City, Ohio.....	1639
412.	City of Warren v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45434-DAP: Plaintiff Warren City, Ohio .....	1643
413.	Town of McKenzie, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45435-DAP: Plaintiff McKenzie Town, Alabama.....	1647
414.	City of Georgiana, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45436-DAP: Plaintiff Georgiana Town, Alabama.....	1650
415.	City of Abbeville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45437-DAP: Plaintiff Abbeville City, Alabama .....	1653
416.	Butler County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45441-DAP: Plaintiff Butler County, Alabama .....	1657
417.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Clackamas County, Oregon.....	1661
418.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Clatsop County, Oregon .....	1665
419.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Columbia County, Oregon.....	1668
420.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Oregon.....	1671
421.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Josephine County, Oregon.....	1675
422.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Lane County, Oregon .....	1678

423.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Oregon .....	1682
424.	County of Clackamas et al. v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45442-DAP: Plaintiff Yamhill County, Oregon .....	1685
425.	City of Macedonia, Ohio v. Amerisource Bergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45447-DAP: Plaintiff Macedonia City, Ohio.....	1689
426.	City of East Cleveland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45448-DAP: Plaintiff East Cleveland City, Ohio .....	1693
427.	Village of Newburgh Heights, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45449-DAP: Plaintiff Newburgh Heights Village, Ohio .....	1697
428.	Village of Brooklyn Heights v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45450-DAP: Plaintiff Brooklyn Heights Village, Ohio .....	1701
429.	Cherokee County, Kansas, Board of Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45452-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee County, Kansas .....	1705
430.	Bay County, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45455-DAP: Plaintiff Bay County, Florida.....	1709
431.	City of Guin, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45457-DAP: Plaintiff Guin City, Alabama .....	1712
432.	Lexington, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Coroproration et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45458-DAP: Plaintiff Lexington City, Tennessee .....	1716
433.	City of Warwick, RI v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45460-DAP: Plaintiff Warwick City, Rhode Island.....	1720
434.	Town of North Providence v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45461-DAP: Plaintiff North Providence Town, Rhode Island .....	1723
435.	Town of Johnston v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45462-DAP: Plaintiff Johnston Town, Rhode Island.....	1727
436.	City of Pawtucket, RI v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45463-DAP: Plaintiff Pawtucket City, Rhode Island .....	1731

437.	City of East Providence v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45464-DAP: Plaintiff East Providence City, Rhode Island .....	1734
438.	Town of Cumberland, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45465-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland Town, Rhode Island .....	1738
439.	City of Central Falls, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45466-DAP: Plaintiff Central Falls City, Rhode Island.....	1741
440.	Town of Charlestown Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45467-DAP: Plaintiff Charlestown Town, Rhode Island.....	1744
441.	Town of Bristol v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45468-DAP: Plaintiff Bristol Town, Rhode Island.....	1748
442.	Town of Barrington v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45469-DAP: Plaintiff Barrington Town, Rhode Island .....	1751
443.	Town of Burrillville v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45470-DAP: Plaintiff Burrillville Town, Rhode Island .....	1754
444.	Town of Coventry Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45471-DAP: Plaintiff Coventry Town, Rhode Island .....	1757
445.	City of Cranston, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45472-DAP: Plaintiff Cranston City, Rhode Island .....	1761
446.	Town of Foster v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45473-DAP: Plaintiff Foster Town, Rhode Island.....	1764
447.	Town of Glocester v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45474-DAP: Plaintiff Glocester Town, Rhode Island.....	1767
448.	Town of Hopkinton Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45475-DAP: Plaintiff Hopkinton Town, Rhode Island.....	1770
449.	Town of Jamestown, a municipal corporation v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45476-DAP: Plaintiff Jamestown Town, Rhode Island.....	1774

450.	Town of North Kingstown v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45477-DAP: Plaintiff North Kingstown Town, Rhode Island .....	1777
451.	Town of Narragansett v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45478-DAP: Plaintiff Narragansett Town, Rhode Island .....	1781
452.	City of Newport, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45479-DAP: Plaintiff Newport City, Rhode Island .....	1785
453.	Town of Richmond v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45480-DAP: Plaintiff Richmond Town, Rhode Island.....	1788
454.	Town of Smithfield v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45481-DAP: Plaintiff Smithfield Town, Rhode Island.....	1791
455.	Town of South Kingstown Municipal Corporation v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45482-DAP: Plaintiff South Kingstown Town, Rhode Island .....	1794
456.	Town of West Greenwich v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45483-DAP: Plaintiff West Greenwich Town, Rhode Island .....	1797
457.	Town of West Warwick, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45484-DAP: Plaintiff West Warwick Town, Rhode Island .....	1800
458.	Town of Westerly v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45485-DAP: Plaintiff Westerly Town, Rhode Island.....	1804
459.	City of Malden v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45487-DAP: Plaintiff Malden City, Massachusetts .....	1808
460.	Big Bend Community Based Care, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45493-DAP: Plaintiff Big Bend Community Based Care, Florida.....	1812
461.	Big Bend Community Based Care, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45493-DAP: Plaintiff Central Florida Behavioral Health Network, Florida.....	1816
462.	Big Bend Community Based Care, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45493-DAP: Plaintiff Central Florida Cares Health System, Florida .....	1820

463.	Big Bend Community Based Care, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45493-DAP: Plaintiff Lutheran Services Florida, Florida .....	1823
464.	Big Bend Community Based Care, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45493-DAP: Plaintiff Southeast Florida Behavioral Health Network, Florida.....	1828
465.	Catoosa County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45497-DAP: Plaintiff Catoosa County, Georgia.....	1832
466.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45499-DAP: Plaintiff Effingham County, Illinois .....	1835
467.	Prince George’s County Maryland v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45501-DAP: Plaintiff Prince Georges County, Maryland .....	1838
468.	Lac du Flambeau Band of Chippewa Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45502-DAP: Plaintiff Lac du Flambeau Band of Chippewa Indians, Wisconsin .....	1843
469.	DeKalb County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45503-DAP: Plaintiff DeKalb County, Georgia .....	1846
470.	County of Wilcox, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45506-DAP: Plaintiff Wilcox County, Georgia.....	1850
471.	City of Hattiesburg, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45512-DAP: Plaintiff Hattiesburg City, Mississippi.....	1852
472.	City of Sarasota v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45513-DAP: Plaintiff Sarasota City, Florida .....	1857
473.	City of Lowell v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45514-DAP: Plaintiff Lowell City, Massachusetts .....	1860
474.	Town of East Greenwich v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45515-DAP: Plaintiff East Greenwich Town, Rhode Island .....	1864
475.	City of Sandy Springs, Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45516-DAP: Plaintiff Sandy Springs City, Georgia.....	1868
476.	City of Clarksville, Tennessee v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45517-DAP: Plaintiff Clarksville City, Tennessee .....	1871
477.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45518-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Illinois.....	1875

478.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45519-DAP: Plaintiff Massac County, Illinois .....	1878
479.	Martin County, NC v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45522-DAP: Plaintiff Martin County, North Carolina.....	1881
480.	McDowell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45524-DAP: Plaintiff McDowell County, North Carolina.....	1884
481.	Watauga County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45525-DAP: Plaintiff Watauga County, North Carolina.....	1888
482.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45527-DAP: Plaintiff Livingston County, Illinois .....	1891
483.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45528-DAP: Plaintiff Saline County, Illinois .....	1895
484.	Marion County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45529-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Ohio .....	1899
485.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45532-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Illinois .....	1902
486.	Fiscal Court of Bourbon County, Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45533-DAP: Plaintiff Bourbon County, Kentucky .....	1906
487.	Fiscal Court of Owen County, Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45534-DAP: Plaintiff Owen County, Kentucky .....	1909
488.	Warren County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45536-DAP: Plaintiff Warren County, North Carolina.....	1912
489.	City of Metropolis, Illinois v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45537-DAP: Plaintiff Metropolis City, Illinois.....	1916
490.	Marshall County Health Care Authority v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45538-DAP: Plaintiff Marshall County Health Care Authority, Alabama .....	1920

491.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45539-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Illinois.....	1923
492.	Henry County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45543-DAP: Plaintiff Henry County, Alabama.....	1927
493.	City of Tuskegee, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45544-DAP: Plaintiff Tuskegee City, Alabama.....	1931
494.	City of Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45545-DAP: Plaintiff Wilkes-Barre City, Pennsylvania .....	1935
495.	Harrison County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45547-DAP: Plaintiff Harrison County, Ohio.....	1938
496.	Mayor and Alderman of the City of Savannah v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45550-DAP: Plaintiff Savannah City, Georgia.....	1942
497.	Miami-Dade County, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45552-DAP: Plaintiff Miami-Dade County, Florida.....	1947
498.	City of Tuscaloosa, Alabama v. Cardinal Health Inc et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45553-DAP: Plaintiff Tuscaloosa City, Alabama.....	1950
499.	Town of Brewster v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45556-DAP: Plaintiff Brewster Town, Massachusetts .....	1953
500.	Jefferson County Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45558-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Alabama .....	1957
501.	Town of Billerica v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45560-DAP: Plaintiff Billerica Town, Massachusetts .....	1961
502.	Dale County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45561-DAP: Plaintiff Dale County, Alabama .....	1964
503.	City of Hamilton, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45564-DAP: Plaintiff Hamilton City, Alabama .....	1968
504.	City of Weaver, Alabama v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45565-DAP: Plaintiff Weaver City, Alabama .....	1972
505.	Cleburne County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45566-DAP: Plaintiff Cleburne County, Alabama .....	1976

506.	Columbus Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45567-DAP: Plaintiff Columbus City, Georgia .....	1979
507.	Overton County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45568-DAP: Plaintiff Overton County, Tennessee .....	1984
508.	Auglaize County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45570-DAP: Plaintiff Auglaize County, Ohio.....	1988
509.	Van Wert County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45571-DAP: Plaintiff Van Wert County, Ohio.....	1991
510.	Hancock County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45572-DAP: Plaintiff Hancock County, Ohio .....	1994
511.	City of Woodbury Georgia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45575-DAP: Plaintiff Woodbury City, Georgia .....	1997
512.	Macon County Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P.,et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45577-DAP: Plaintiff Macon County, Georgia .....	2000
513.	Peach County Georgia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45579-DAP: Plaintiff Peach County, Georgia .....	2003
514.	Schley County Georgia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45580-DAP: Plaintiff Schley County, Georgia.....	2006
515.	Town of Derry, New Hampshire v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45582-DAP: Plaintiff Derry Town, New Hampshire .....	2009
516.	Greene County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45584-DAP: Plaintiff Greene County, North Carolina.....	2012
517.	Wayne County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45585-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne County, North Carolina.....	2015
518.	Richmond County, North Carolina v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45586-DAP: Plaintiff Richmond County, North Carolina .....	2018
519.	Carteret County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45587-DAP: Plaintiff Carteret County, North Carolina.....	2023
520.	Tulalip Tribes v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45589-DAP: Plaintiff Tulalip Tribes, Washington .....	2026

521.	City of Kent v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45590-DAP: Plaintiff Kent City, Washington .....	2029
522.	City of Paducah, Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45592-DAP: Plaintiff Paducah City, Kentucky .....	2032
523.	County of Ballard Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45593-DAP: Plaintiff Ballard County, Kentucky .....	2035
524.	City of Harrisburg, Illinois v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45594-DAP: Plaintiff Harrisburg City, Illinois.....	2038
525.	Town of Salisbury v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45595-DAP: Plaintiff Salisbury Town, Massachusetts .....	2042
526.	City of Everett v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45596-DAP: Plaintiff Everett City, Massachusetts .....	2046
527.	Monroe County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45597-DAP: Plaintiff Monroe County, Ohio.....	2050
528.	City of Princeton, Illinois v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45599-DAP: Plaintiff Princeton City, Illinois .....	2053
529.	Forsyth County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45605-DAP: Plaintiff Forsyth County, North Carolina.....	2057
530.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45606-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, Illinois .....	2060
531.	County of Sacramento v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45608-DAP: Plaintiff Sacramento County, California .....	2064
532.	County of McCracken Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45611-DAP: Plaintiff Mccracken County, Kentucky .....	2067
533.	Clallam County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45612-DAP: Plaintiff Clallam County, Washington .....	2071
534.	County of San Diego et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45613-DAP: Plaintiff San Diego County, California.....	2074
535.	St. Clair County, Alabama v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45614-DAP: Plaintiff St. Clair County, Alabama .....	2077
536.	Bergen County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45616-DAP: Plaintiff Bergen County, New Jersey .....	2080

537.	City of Frostburg v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45617-DAP: Plaintiff Frostburg City, Maryland.....	2084
538.	County of Mariposa, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45618-DAP: Plaintiff Mariposa County, California .....	2087
539.	County of Tuolumne, et al. v. Amerisource Bergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45619-DAP: Plaintiff Tuolumne County, California .....	2091
540.	City of Alma, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45620-DAP: Plaintiff Alma City, Georgia.....	2093
541.	City of Hagerstown, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45622-DAP: Plaintiff Hagerstown City, Maryland.....	2096
542.	City of Cumberland, Maryland v AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45624-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland City, Maryland .....	2100
543.	County of Mono v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45626-DAP: Plaintiff Mono County, California .....	2103
544.	County of Butte v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45627-DAP: Plaintiff Butte County, California.....	2106
545.	County of Nevada v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45628-DAP: Plaintiff Nevada County, California .....	2109
546.	County of El Dorado v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45629-DAP: Plaintiff El Dorado County, California .....	2111
547.	County of Siskiyou v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45630-DAP: Plaintiff Siskiyou County, California .....	2114
548.	County of Imperial et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45631-DAP: Plaintiff Imperial County, California .....	2116
549.	City of Portland, Oregon v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45633-DAP: Plaintiff Portland City, Oregon.....	2120
550.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff Bridgeport city, Alabama.....	2126

551.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff Geraldine Town, Alabama.....	2130
552.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff Henagar City, Alabama.....	2134
553.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Alabama.....	2138
554.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff New Hope City, Alabama.....	2142
555.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff Scottsboro City, Alabama.....	2147
556.	Jackson County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45634-DAP: Plaintiff Woodville Town, Alabama.....	2151
557.	City of Mayfield Heights v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45635-DAP: Plaintiff Mayfield Heights City, Ohio.....	2155
558.	City of Lyndhurst v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45636-DAP: Plaintiff Lyndhurst City, Ohio.....	2159
559.	City of Wickliffe v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45637-DAP: Plaintiff Wickliffe City, Ohio.....	2163
560.	City of St. Marys, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45638-DAP: Plaintiff St. Marys City, Ohio.....	2166
561.	County of Glenn v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45639-DAP: Plaintiff Glenn County, California.....	2169
562.	County of Sutter v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45640-DAP: Plaintiff Sutter County, California.....	2172
563.	County of Modoc v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45641-DAP: Plaintiff Modoc County, California ....	2175
564.	County of Placer v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45642-DAP: Plaintiff Placer County, California.....	2178
565.	County of Merced, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45643-DAP: Plaintiff Merced County, California .....	2181

566.	County of Fresno v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45644-DAP: Plaintiff Fresno County, California.....	2184
567.	County of Calaveras, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45645-DAP: Plaintiff Calaveras County, California.....	2188
568.	County of Inyo, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45646-DAP: Plaintiff Inyo County, California .....	2191
569.	County of Madera, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45647-DAP: Plaintiff Madera County, California .....	2194
570.	County of Yuba v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45648-DAP: Plaintiff Yuba County, California.....	2196
571.	County of Plumas v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45649-DAP: Plaintiff Plumas County, California....	2199
572.	County of Trinity v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45650-DAP: Plaintiff Trinity County, California ....	2202
573.	Allegany County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45652-DAP: Plaintiff Allegany County, Maryland.....	2204
574.	County of San Benito v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45653-DAP: Plaintiff San Benito County, California .....	2208
575.	County of Mendocino v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45654-DAP: Plaintiff Mendocino County, California .....	2211
576.	County of Del Norte v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45655-DAP: Plaintiff Del Norte County, California .....	2215
577.	County of Contra Costa v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45656-DAP: Plaintiff Contra Costa County, California.....	2218
578.	City of Winston-Salem v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45658-DAP: Plaintiff Winston-Salem City, North Carolina .....	2222
579.	Craven County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45660-DAP: Plaintiff Craven County, North Carolina.....	2226

580.	Knox County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45665-DAP: Plaintiff Knox County, Ohio .....	2229
581.	Dallas County, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45667-DAP: Plaintiff Dallas County, Alabama.....	2232
582.	Shelby County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45668-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Ohio .....	2237
583.	County of Osceola v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45669-DAP: Plaintiff Osceola County, Florida .....	2240
584.	Wilkinson County Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45671-DAP: Plaintiff Wilkinson County, Georgia .....	2244
585.	Monroe County Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45672-DAP: Plaintiff Monroe County, Georgia.....	2248
586.	Town of Watertown v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45674-DAP: Plaintiff Watertown Town City, Massachusetts.....	2251
587.	Town of Plymouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45675-DAP: Plaintiff Plymouth Town, Massachusetts .....	2256
588.	Town of Acushnet, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45676-DAP: Plaintiff Acushnet Town, Massachusetts .....	2260
589.	City of Amesbury v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45678-DAP: Plaintiff Amesbury Town City, Massachusetts .....	2265
590.	County of Tehama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45680-DAP: Plaintiff Tehama County, California .....	2269
591.	Dare County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45683-DAP: Plaintiff Dare County, North Carolina.....	2272
592.	City of Wilmington v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45684-DAP: Plaintiff Wilmington City, North Carolina.....	2275
593.	Alachua County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45685-DAP: Plaintiff Alachua County, Florida .....	2279

594.	Town of Southbridge v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45686-DAP: Plaintiff Southbridge Town City, Massachusetts.....	2283
595.	Town of Winchendon Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45687-DAP: Plaintiff Winchendon Town, Massachusetts.....	2288
596.	Town of Auburn v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45688-DAP: Plaintiff Auburn Town, Massachusetts .....	2291
597.	Town of Charlton v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45689-DAP: Plaintiff Charlton Town, Massachusetts .....	2295
598.	City of Prichard, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45690-DAP: Plaintiff Prichard City, Alabama .....	2298
599.	Town of Carver v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45691-DAP: Plaintiff Carver Town, Massachusetts .....	2302
600.	City of Chelsea v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45693-DAP: Plaintiff Chelsea City, Massachusetts .....	2307
601.	City of Holyoke v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45694-DAP: Plaintiff Holyoke City, Massachusetts .....	2311
602.	Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe of the Pyramid Lake Reservation v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45696-DAP: Plaintiff Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe of the Pyramid Lake Reservation, Nevada .....	2315
603.	Paiute-Shoshone Tribe of the Fallon Reservation and Colony v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45697-DAP: Plaintiff Paiute-Shoshone Tribe of the Fallon Reservation and Colony, Nevada.....	2318
604.	Walker River Paiute Tribe of The Walker River Reservation v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45698-DAP: Plaintiff Walker River Paiute Tribe of The Walker River Reservation, Nevada .....	2322
605.	Reno-Sparks Indian Colony v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45699-DAP: Plaintiff Reno-Sparks Indian Colony, Nevada .....	2325
606.	United Food and Commercial Workers Union UFCW Local 1529 and Employers Health and Welfare Plan and Trust v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45700-DAP: Plaintiff United

	Food and Commercial Workers Union UFCW Local 1529 and Employers Health and Welfare Plan and Trust, Tennessee .....	2328
607.	City of North Adams v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45702-DAP: Plaintiff North Adams City, Massachusetts .....	2332
608.	Town of Nantucket v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45703-DAP: Plaintiff Nantucket Town, Massachusetts .....	2336
609.	Town of Hanson v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45704-DAP: Plaintiff Hanson Town, Massachusetts .....	2340
610.	Town of Freetown v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45705-DAP: Plaintiff Freetown Town, Massachusetts .....	2344
611.	Town of Douglas v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45706-DAP: Plaintiff Douglas Town, Massachusetts .....	2348
612.	Town of Dudley v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45707-DAP: Plaintiff Dudley Town, Massachusetts .....	2352
613.	Town of Leicester v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45709-DAP: Plaintiff Leicester Town, Massachusetts .....	2356
614.	City of Leominster v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45710-DAP: Plaintiff Leominster City, Massachusetts .....	2360
615.	Town of Northbridge v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45711-DAP: Plaintiff Northbridge Town, Massachusetts .....	2364
616.	Lincoln County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45719-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, North Carolina.....	2368
617.	Town of East Bridgewater v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45721-DAP: Plaintiff East Bridgewater Town, Massachusetts .....	2371
618.	Lincoln County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45722-DAP1: Plaintiff Lincoln County, Mississippi .....	2375
619.	Prentiss County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45723-DAP: Plaintiff Prentiss County, Mississippi.....	2378

620.	Tyrrell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45725-DAP: Plaintiff Tyrrell County, North Carolina.....	2381
621.	City of Fayetteville v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45726-DAP: Plaintiff Fayetteville City, North Carolina.....	2383
622.	City of Franklin, NH v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45728-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin City, New Hampshire .....	2388
623.	Escambia County, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45729-DAP: Plaintiff Escambia County, Florida.....	2391
624.	Nez Perce Tribe v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45730-DAP: Plaintiff Nez Perce Tribe, Idaho .....	2396
625.	United Food and Commercial Worker Local 1000 Oklahoma Health and Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45733-DAP: Plaintiff United Food and Commercial Workers Local 1000 Oklahoma Health and Welfare Fund, Oklahoma.....	2398
626.	Chilton County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45735-DAP: Plaintiff Chilton County, Alabama .....	2401
627.	City of Hartselle, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45736-DAP: Plaintiff Hartselle City, Alabama .....	2405
628.	City of Nauvoo, Alabama, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45737-DAP: Plaintiff Carbon Hill City, Alabama .....	2409
629.	City of Nauvoo, Alabama, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45737-DAP: Plaintiff Cordova City, Alabama .....	2413
630.	City of Nauvoo, Alabama, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45737-DAP: Plaintiff Nauvoo Town, Alabama .....	2418
631.	City of Nauvoo, Alabama, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45737-DAP: Plaintiff Oakman Town, Alabama .....	2421
632.	City of Nauvoo, Alabama, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45737-DAP: Plaintiff Parrish Town, Alabama .....	2425
633.	City of Nauvoo, Alabama, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45737-DAP: Plaintiff Sipsey Town, Alabama .....	2429
634.	City of Winfield, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45738-DAP: Plaintiff Winfield City, Alabama.....	2433

635.	Town of Double Springs, AL v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45739-DAP: Plaintiff Double Springs Town, Alabama.....	2437
636.	Conejos County et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45740-DAP: Plaintiff Alamosa City, Colorado.....	2442
637.	Conejos County et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45740-DAP: Plaintiff Alamosa County, Colorado.....	2445
638.	Conejos County et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45740-DAP: Plaintiff Conejos County, Colorado.....	2448
639.	Conejos County et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45740-DAP: Plaintiff Las Animas County, Colorado.....	2451
640.	Conejos County et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45740-DAP: Plaintiff Otero County, Colorado.....	2455
641.	Eastern Atlantic States Carpenters Health Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45741-DAP: Plaintiff Eastern Atlantic States Carpenters Health Fund, New Jersey .....	2459
642.	Pinellas County, Florida v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45742-DAP: Plaintiff Pinellas County, Florida .....	2462
643.	Town of Lakeville v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45743-DAP: Plaintiff Lakeville Town, Massachusetts .....	2466
644.	Town of North Attleborough v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45744-DAP: Plaintiff North Attleborough Town, Massachusetts.....	2470
645.	Seneca Nation of Indians v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45746-DAP: Plaintiff Seneca Nation of Indians, New York .....	2475
646.	Cabarrus County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45747-DAP: Plaintiff Cabarrus County, North Carolina.....	2479
647.	Blackfeet Tribe of The Blackfeet Indian Reservation v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45749-DAP: Plaintiff Blackfeet Tribe of The Blackfeet Indian Reservation, Montana .....	2481
648.	Town of Marshfield, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45752-DAP: Plaintiff Marshfield Town, Massachusetts.....	2485
649.	Town of Bridgewater, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45754-DAP: Plaintiff Bridgewater Town, Massachusetts .....	2489

650.	Town of Mashpee, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45755-DAP: Plaintiff Mashpee Town, Massachusetts.....	2493
651.	Vance County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45759-DAP: Plaintiff Vance County, North Carolina.....	2497
652.	Town of Danvers, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45760-DAP: Plaintiff Danvers Town, Massachusetts.....	2501
653.	City of Newark, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45761-DAP: Plaintiff Newark City, New Jersey .....	2505
654.	Hancock County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45762-DAP: Plaintiff Hancock County, Mississippi .....	2508
655.	City of Henderson v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45768-DAP: Plaintiff Henderson City, North Carolina.....	2512
656.	Town of Somerset, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45769-DAP: Plaintiff Somerset Town, Massachusetts .....	2515
657.	Town of Tyngsborough, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45770-DAP: Plaintiff Tyngsborough Town, Massachusetts.....	2519
658.	City of Parma Heights v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45773-DAP: Plaintiff Parma Heights City, Ohio.....	2523
659.	Iredell County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45774-DAP: Plaintiff Iredell County, North Carolina.....	2527
660.	Stone County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45775-DAP: Plaintiff Stone County, Mississippi.....	2530
661.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Santa Fe v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45776-DAP: Plaintiff Santa Fe County, New Mexico .....	2534
662.	Worth County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45777-DAP: Plaintiff Worth County, Missouri .....	2536
663.	Perry County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45778-DAP: Plaintiff Perry County, Mississippi.....	2540

664.	Montgomery County, Kansas v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45780-DAP: Plaintiff Montgomery County, Kansas .....	2543
665.	Bourbon County, Kansas v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45781-DAP: Plaintiff Bourbon County, Kansas .....	2547
666.	County of Volusia, Florida v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45782-DAP: Plaintiff Volusia County, Florida.....	2551
667.	Town of Milford, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45783-DAP: Plaintiff Milford Town, Massachusetts.....	2554
668.	Town of Munford, Alabama v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45785-DAP: Plaintiff Munford Town, Alabama.....	2558
669.	City of Lincoln, Alabama v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45786-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln City, Alabama .....	2561
670.	Town of Norton, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45787-DAP: Plaintiff Norton Town, Massachusetts .....	2565
671.	City of Sandusky v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45788-DAP: Plaintiff Sandusky City, Ohio.....	2568
672.	City of Lynn, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45789-DAP: Plaintiff Lynn City, Massachusetts.....	2572
673.	Town of West Tisbury, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45790-DAP: Plaintiff West Tisbury Town, Massachusetts.....	2576
674.	Town of Marblehead, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45791-DAP: Plaintiff Marblehead Town, Massachusetts .....	2580
675.	Holmes County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45793-DAP: Plaintiff Holmes County, Mississippi .....	2585
676.	Nodaway County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45795-DAP: Plaintiff Nodaway County, Missouri .....	2589
677.	Atchison County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45797-DAP: Plaintiff Atchison County, Missouri .....	2592

678.	City of Saint Joseph, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45798-DAP: Plaintiff St. Joseph City, Missouri.....	2596
679.	Rowan County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45799-DAP: Plaintiff Rowan County, North Carolina.....	2600
680.	City of Lakewood, CO et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45800-DAP: Plaintiff Wheat Ridge City, Colorado.....	2603
681.	Dane County, Wisconsin v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45802-DAP: Plaintiff Dane County, Wisconsin.....	2607
682.	Pike County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45803-DAP: Plaintiff Pike County, Alabama ....	2610
683.	City of Pinellas Park v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45807-DAP: Plaintiff Pinellas Park City, Florida .....	2614
684.	Town of Plainville, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45808-DAP: Plaintiff Plainville Town, Massachusetts.....	2619
685.	Town of Spencer, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45809-DAP: Plaintiff Spencer Town, Massachusetts .....	2623
686.	Town of Sutton, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45810-DAP: Plaintiff Sutton Town, Massachusetts .....	2627
687.	Town of Warren, Massachusetts, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45811-DAP: Plaintiff Warren Town, Massachusetts .....	2631
688.	Town of West Springfield, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45813-DAP: Plaintiff West Springfield Town City, Massachusetts .....	2635
689.	Town of Winthrop, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45814-DAP: Plaintiff Winthrop Town City, Massachusetts.....	2639
690.	Town of Norwell, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45815-DAP: Plaintiff Norwell Town, Massachusetts .....	2643
691.	Town of Truro, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45816-DAP: Plaintiff Truro Town, Massachusetts .....	2648

692.	Cobb County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45817-DAP: Plaintiff Cobb County, Georgia.....	2652
693.	Town of Middletown, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45818-DAP: Plaintiff Middletown Town, Rhode Island .....	2656
694.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff Chesapeake Hospital Corporation, Virginia.....	2659
695.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff Mary Immaculate Hospital, Incorporated, Virginia .....	2662
696.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff Maryview Hospital, Virginia .....	2665
697.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff Memorial Regional Medical Center, Inc., Virginia .....	2668
698.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff Richmond Community Hospital, Incorporated, Virginia .....	2671
699.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff St. Francis Medical Center, Inc., Virginia .....	2674
700.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff St. Mary's Hospital of Richmond, Inc., Virginia .....	2676
701.	Bon Secours Health System, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45821-DAP: Plaintiff St. Francis Hospital, Inc., South Carolina .....	2679
702.	Town of Pembroke, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45823-DAP: Plaintiff Pembroke Town, Massachusetts .....	2683
703.	Town of Rockland, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45824-DAP: Plaintiff Rockland Town, Massachusetts.....	2686
704.	Chitimacha Tribe of Louisiana v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45825-DAP: Plaintiff Chitimacha Tribe of Louisiana, Louisiana.....	2690
705.	San Juan County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45829-DAP: Plaintiff San Juan County, New Mexico .....	2694

706.	Adams County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45831-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Mississippi.....	2696
707.	Green Lake County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45832-DAP: Plaintiff Green Lake County, Wisconsin.....	2700
708.	Green Lake County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45832-DAP: Plaintiff Taylor County, Wisconsin.....	2703
709.	Green Lake County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45832-DAP: Plaintiff Vilas County, Wisconsin .....	2706
710.	Town of Leverett, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45836-DAP: Plaintiff Leverett Town, Massachusetts.....	2708
711.	Jefferson County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45839-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Mississippi.....	2712
712.	Lafayette County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45840-DAP: Plaintiff Lafayette County, Missouri .....	2716
713.	Cass County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45841-DAP: Plaintiff Cass County, Missouri....	2719
714.	Neshoba County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45843-DAP: Plaintiff Neshoba County, Mississippi .....	2722
715.	City of Providence, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45844-DAP: Plaintiff Providence City, Rhode Island .....	2725
716.	Columbus County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45847-DAP: Plaintiff Columbus County, North Carolina.....	2729
717.	Minneapolis, Minnesota v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45850-DAP: Plaintiff Minneapolis City, Minnesota .....	2733
718.	Pasco County, Florida v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45851-DAP: Plaintiff Pasco County, Florida.....	2736
719.	Cochise County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45855-DAP: Plaintiff Cochise County, Arizona .....	2739
720.	Town of North Reading, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45856-DAP: Plaintiff North Reading Town, Massachusetts .....	2742

721.	Town of West Boylston, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45858-DAP: Plaintiff West Boylston Town, Massachusetts.....	2746
722.	Town of Westborough, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45859-DAP: Plaintiff Westborough Town, Massachusetts.....	2751
723.	City of Peabody, Massachusetts, v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45860-DAP: Plaintiff Peabody City, Massachusetts.....	2755
724.	Santa Rosa County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45861-DAP: Plaintiff Santa Rosa County, Florida.....	2759
725.	Town of Barnstable, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45862-DAP: Plaintiff Barnstable Town City, Massachusetts .....	2763
726.	Town of Eastham, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45864-DAP: Plaintiff Eastham Town, Massachusetts .....	2767
727.	City of North Miami, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45872-DAP: Plaintiff North Miami City, Florida .....	2770
728.	Town of Holliston, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45874-DAP: Plaintiff Holliston Town, Massachusetts .....	2774
729.	Caswell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45875-DAP: Plaintiff Caswell County, North Carolina.....	2778
730.	Town of Sudbury, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45877-DAP: Plaintiff Sudbury Town, Massachusetts.....	2781
731.	County of Riverside et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45878-DAP: Plaintiff Riverside County, California.....	2785
732.	Town of Georgetown, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45879-DAP: Plaintiff Georgetown Town, Massachusetts .....	2789
733.	Town of Seekonk, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45881-DAP: Plaintiff Seekonk Town, Massachusetts .....	2793
734.	Town of Clarksburg, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45882-DAP: Plaintiff Clarksburg Town, Massachusetts .....	2797

735.	Town of Williamsburg, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45883-DAP: Plaintiff Williamsburg Town, Massachusetts .....	2800
736.	County of Washtenaw, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45886-DAP: Plaintiff Washtenaw County, Michigan .....	2805
737.	County of Berrien, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45887-DAP: Plaintiff Berrien County, Michigan .....	2807
738.	County of Clinton, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45889-DAP: Plaintiff Clinton County, Michigan .....	2809
739.	Town of Mattapoisett v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45890-DAP: Plaintiff Mattapoisett Town, Massachusetts .....	2811
740.	Town of Sandwich, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45891-DAP: Plaintiff Sandwich Town, Massachusetts .....	2815
741.	City of Springfield, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma, L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45899-DAP: Plaintiff Springfield City, Missouri .....	2819
742.	Polk County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45900-DAP: Plaintiff Polk County, North Carolina .....	2823
743.	City of Westland, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45903-DAP: Plaintiff Westland City, Michigan .....	2826
744.	Town of Belchertown v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45905-DAP: Plaintiff Belchertown Town, Massachusetts .....	2829
745.	Town of Ludlow v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45906-DAP: Plaintiff Ludlow Town, Massachusetts .....	2833
746.	Town of Ware v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45907-DAP: Plaintiff Ware Town, Massachusetts .....	2836
747.	Robinson Rancheria v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45912-DAP: Plaintiff Robinson Rancheria, California .....	2840
748.	Hopland Band of Pomo Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45913-DAP: Plaintiff Hopland Band of Pomo Indians, California.....	2842
749.	Scotts Valley Band of Pomo Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45914-DAP: Plaintiff Scotts Valley Band of Pomo Indians, California .....	2845

750.	Round Valley Indian Tribes et al. v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45915-DAP: Plaintiff Round Valley Indian Tribes, California .....	2848
751.	Redwood Valley or Little River Band of Pomo Indians of the Redwood Valley Rancheria v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45916-DAP: Plaintiff Redwood Valley or Little River Band of Pomo Indians of the Redwood Valley Rancheria, California .....	2850
752.	Guidiville Rancheria of California v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45917-DAP: Plaintiff Guidiville Rancheria of California, California .....	2854
753.	Big Valley Band of Pomo Indians of the Big Valley Rancheria v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45922-DAP: Plaintiff Big Valley Band of Pomo Indians of the Big Valley Rancheria, California .....	2856
754.	Big Sandy Rancheria of Western Mono Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45923-DAP: Plaintiff Big Sandy Rancheria of Western Mono Indians, California .....	2859
755.	Lac Courte Oreilles Band Of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45932-DAP: Plaintiff Lac Courte Oreilles Band Of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians, Wisconsin .....	2862
756.	County of Hudson v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45937-DAP: Plaintiff Hudson County, New Jersey .....	2866
757.	Humboldt County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-45942-DAP: Plaintiff Humboldt County, California .....	2870
758.	Spokane County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45943-DAP: Plaintiff Spokane County, Washington .....	2872
759.	Franklin County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 45944-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Washington .....	2875
760.	Laurens County, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45945-DAP: Plaintiff Laurens County, Georgia.....	2878
761.	City of Jersey City, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45948-DAP: Plaintiff Jersey City, New Jersey .....	2882
762.	City of New Albany, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45949-DAP: Plaintiff New Albany City, Mississippi.....	2886
763.	City of Greenwood, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45950-DAP: Plaintiff Greenwood City, Mississippi.....	2890

764.	City of Melrose, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45951-DAP: Plaintiff Melrose City, Massachusetts .....	2894
765.	Town of Chelmsford, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45952-DAP: Plaintiff Chelmsford Town, Massachusetts .....	2899
766.	Gulf County, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45953-DAP: Plaintiff Gulf County, Florida.....	2902
767.	Whatcom County v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45954-DAP: Plaintiff Whatcom County, Washington .....	2907
768.	Lummi Tribe of the Lummi Reservation v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45955-DAP: Plaintiff Lummi Tribe of the Lummi Reservation, Washington .....	2910
769.	Conecuh County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45957-DAP: Plaintiff Conecuh County, Alabama .....	2913
770.	Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45959-DAP: Plaintiff Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians, Minnesota.....	2918
771.	Village of Herkimer, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45964-DAP: Plaintiff Herkimer Village, New York .....	2921
772.	Jackson County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45965-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Missouri.....	2924
773.	City of Covington, Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45967-DAP: Plaintiff Covington City, Kentucky .....	2927
774.	City of Meridian v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45969-DAP: Plaintiff Meridian City, Mississippi....	2930
775.	Polk County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45970-DAP: Plaintiff Polk County, Florida.....	2934
776.	County of Eaton v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45971-DAP: Plaintiff Eaton County, Michigan.....	2937
777.	Waukesha County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45978-DAP: Plaintiff Waukesha County, Wisconsin.....	2940
778.	Cherokee County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45979-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee County, North Carolina.....	2943
779.	Island County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45982-DAP: Plaintiff Island County, Washington .....	2947

780.	Allamakee County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45983-DAP: Plaintiff Allamakee County, Iowa .....	2949
781.	Pasquotank County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45986-DAP: Plaintiff Pasquotank County, North Carolin .....	2953
782.	St. John the Baptist Parish v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45987-DAP: Plaintiff St. John The Baptist Parish, Louisiana.....	2957
783.	Walworth County Wisconsin v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45988-DAP: Plaintiff Walworth County, Wisconsin .....	2960
784.	Essex County, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45989-DAP: Plaintiff Essex County, New Jersey.....	2963
785.	Town of Sturbridge v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45990-DAP: Plaintiff Sturbridge Town, Massachusetts .....	2967
786.	Lenoir County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45991-DAP: Plaintiff Lenoir County, North Carolina.....	2970
787.	South Central UFCW Unions and Employers Health &amp; Welfare Trust v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45998-DAP: Plaintiff South Central UFCW Unions and Employers Health & Welfare Trust, Texas .....	2973
788.	City of Garfield Heights v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45999-DAP: Plaintiff Garfield Heights City, Ohio.....	2976
789.	Town of South Hadley v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46000-DAP: Plaintiff South Hadley Town, Massachusetts .....	2980
790.	Town of Sheffield, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46001-DAP: Plaintiff Sheffield Town, Massachusetts .....	2983
791.	Ely Shoshone Tribe of Nevada v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46003-DAP: Plaintiff Ely Shoshone Tribe of Nevada, Nevada .....	2987
792.	Town of Westford, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46007-DAP: Plaintiff Westford Town, Massachusetts .....	2991
793.	Kittitas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46008-DAP: Plaintiff Kittitas County, Washington .....	2995

794.	Walla Walla County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46010-DAP: Plaintiff Walla Walla County, Washington .....	2998
795.	City of North Olmsted v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46012-DAP: Plaintiff North Olmsted City, Ohio .....	3002
796.	City of Euclid v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46013-DAP: Plaintiff Euclid City, Ohio.....	3006
797.	City of Olmsted Falls v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46014-DAP: Plaintiff Olmsted Falls City, Ohio .....	3011
798.	City of North Ridgeville v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46015-DAP: Plaintiff North Ridgeville City, Ohio .....	3015
799.	South Fork Band of the Te-Moak Tribe of Western Shoshone Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46016-DAP: Plaintiff South Fork Band of the Te-Moak Tribe of Western Shoshone Indians .....	3019
800.	Battle Mountain Band of the Te-Moak Tribe of Western Shoshone Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46017-DAP: Plaintiff Battle Mountain Band of the Te-Moak Tribe of Western Shoshone Indian, Nevada .....	3022
801.	Alleghany County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46019-DAP: Plaintiff Alleghany County, North Carolina.....	3026
802.	Makah Indian Tribe v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46022-DAP: Plaintiff Makah Indian Tribe, Washington .....	3029
803.	Jefferson County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46023-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Washington .....	3032
804.	City of Hamilton, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46024-DAP: Plaintiff Hamilton City, Ohio .....	3035
805.	City of Ironton, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46025-DAP: Plaintiff Ironton City, Ohio.....	3039
806.	Moore County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46028-DAP: Plaintiff Moore County, North Carolina.....	3043
807.	City of Kansas City, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46029-DAP: Plaintiff City of Kansas City, Missouri .....	3047
808.	Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46031-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland County, North Carolina .....	3051
809.	County of San Bernardino et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46032-DAP: Plaintiff San Bernardino County, California .....	3054

810.	Oneida Nation v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46034-DAP: Plaintiff Oneida Nation, Wisconsin ....	3057
811.	Township of Painesville v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46035-DAP: Plaintiff Painesville Township, Ohio.....	3060
812.	Sarpy County, Nebraska v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46038-DAP: Plaintiff Sarpy County, Nebraska .....	3064
813.	City of Palmetto v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 46055-DAP: Plaintiff Palmetto City, Florida .....	3067
814.	City of Kingman v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 46057-DAP: Plaintiff Kingman City, Arizona .....	3071
815.	St. Charles County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46059-DAP: Plaintiff St. Charles County, Missouri.....	3074
816.	Board of County Commissioners of Washington County, Maryland v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation , Case No. 1:18-op- 46060-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Maryland .....	3077
817.	Adams County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Idaho .....	3081
818.	Adams County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Blaine County, Idaho .....	3083
819.	Adams County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Bonneville County, Idaho .....	3086
820.	Adams County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Cassia County, Idaho .....	3088
821.	Adams County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Elmore County, Idaho .....	3092
822.	Adams County et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Latah County, Idaho.....	3095
823.	Bland County, Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46065-DAP: Plaintiff Bland County, Virginia .....	3097
824.	Madison County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46067-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, North Carolina.....	3101
825.	Carroll County, Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46068-DAP: Plaintiff Carroll County, Virginia .....	3104
826.	Grayson County, Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46069-DAP: Plaintiff Grayson County, Virginia.....	3107

827.	Yancey County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46071-DAP: Plaintiff Yancey County, North Carolina.....	3111
828.	Wythe County, Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46072-DAP: Plaintiff Wythe County, Virginia .....	3114
829.	Russell County, Virginia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46073-DAP: Plaintiff Russell County, Virginia .....	3118
830.	Scott County Board of Supervisors v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46074-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Virginia .....	3121
831.	Pulaski County Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46076-DAP: Plaintiff Pulaski County, Virginia .....	3125
832.	Smyth County, Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46077-DAP: Plaintiff Smyth County, Virginia .....	3128
833.	Wyandot County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 46078-DAP: Plaintiff Wyandot County, Ohio.....	3132
834.	Carroll County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 46079-DAP: Plaintiff Carroll County, Ohio.....	3136
835.	City of Clanton, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46084-DAP: Plaintiff Clanton City, Alabama .....	3139
836.	City of Brockton, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46089-DAP: Plaintiff Brockton City, Massachusetts.....	3143
837.	Town of Kingston, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46090-DAP: Plaintiff Kingston Town, Massachusetts .....	3147
838.	City of Eureka et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18- op-46092-DAP: Plaintiff Eureka City, California .....	3151
839.	Town of Walpole, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46093-DAP: Plaintiff Walpole Town, Massachusetts.....	3154
840.	Mercer County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op- 46094-DAP: Plaintiff Mercer County, Ohio.....	3157

841.	Town of Falmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46095-DAP: Plaintiff Falmouth Town, Massachusetts .....	3160
842.	Branch County, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46096-DAP: Plaintiff Branch County, Michigan.....	3164
843.	Town of Longmeadow v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46097-DAP: Plaintiff Longmeadow Town, Massachusetts .....	3167
844.	Fiscal Court of Wolfe County, Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46099-DAP: Plaintiff Wolfe County, Kentucky .....	3171
845.	Fiscal Court of Lee County, Kentucky v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46100-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, Kentucky ....	3174
846.	Town of West Bridgewater v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46102-DAP: Plaintiff West Bridgewater Town, Massachusetts .....	3177
847.	Bacon County, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46105-DAP: Plaintiff Bacon County, Georgia.....	3180
848.	Pierce County, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46107-DAP: Plaintiff Pierce County, Georgia.....	3183
849.	City of Strongsville v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46111-DAP: Plaintiff Strongsville City, Ohio .....	3185
850.	City of Demorest, Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46113-DAP: Plaintiff Demorest City, Georgia .....	3189
851.	Habersham County Medical Center v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46114-DAP: Plaintiff Habersham County Medical Center, Georgia.....	3192
852.	Glynn County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46115-DAP: Plaintiff Glynn County, Georgia.....	3194
853.	Red Cliff Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46116-DAP: Plaintiff Red Cliff Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians, Wisconsin.....	3199
854.	Borough of Ridgefield v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46117-DAP: Plaintiff Ridgefield Borough, New Jersey .....	3202
855.	Levy County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46119-DAP: Plaintiff Levy County, Florida .....	3206

856.	Palm Beach County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46121-DAP: Plaintiff Palm Beach County, Florida .....	3211
857.	Town of Millbury, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46123-DAP: Plaintiff Millbury Town, Massachusetts .....	3215
858.	Letcher County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46124-DAP: Plaintiff Letcher County, Kentucky .....	3219
859.	City of Palm Bay v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46132-DAP: Plaintiff Palm Bay City, Florida .....	3223
860.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Canton Charter Township, Michigan .....	3226
861.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Huron Charter Township, Michigan .....	3230
862.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Livonia City, Michigan .....	3233
863.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Northville Charter Township, Michigan .....	3237
864.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Romulus City, Michigan .....	3241
865.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Van Buren Charter Township, Michigan .....	3245
866.	Charter Township of Canton, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46134-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne City, Michigan .....	3248
867.	Charter Township of Clinton, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46135-DAP: Plaintiff Clinton Charter Township, Michigan .....	3251
868.	City of Virginia Beach, et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46137-DAP: Plaintiff Virginia Beach City, Virginia .....	3254
869.	Chelan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46139-DAP: Plaintiff Chelan County, Washington .....	3257
870.	Robeson County v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46141-DAP: Plaintiff Robeson County, North Carolina .....	3261

871.	Shinnecock Indian Nation v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46142-DAP: Plaintiff Shinnecock Indian Nation, New York .....	3263
872.	Fiscal Court of Montgomery County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46144-DAP: Plaintiff Montgomery County, Kentucky .....	3266
873.	Fiscal Court of Powell County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46145-DAP: Plaintiff Powell County, Kentucky .....	3270
874.	Fond du Lac Band of Lake Superior Chippewa v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46146-DAP: Plaintiff Fond du Lac Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Minnesota .....	3274
875.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46147-DAP: Plaintiff Schuyler County, Illinois .....	3277
876.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46148-DAP: Plaintiff Johnson County, Illinois .....	3281
877.	Town of Lunenburg, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46156-DAP: Plaintiff Lunenburg Town, Massachusetts .....	3284
878.	Town of Wilmington, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46158-DAP: Plaintiff Wilmington Town, Massachusetts .....	3288
879.	Town of North Andover, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46159-DAP: Plaintiff North Andover Town, Massachusetts .....	3292
880.	Town of Upton, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46160-DAP: Plaintiff Upton Town, Massachusetts .....	3296
881.	City of Laurel, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46161-DAP: Plaintiff Laurel City, Mississippi .....	3300
882.	Town of Stoneham, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46164-DAP: Plaintiff Stoneham Town, Massachusetts .....	3304
883.	Tazewell County, Virginia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46167-DAP: Plaintiff Tazewell County, Virginia .....	3308
884.	Livingston County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46168-DAP: Plaintiff Livingston County, Missouri .....	3311

885.	City of Syracuse, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46169-DAP: Plaintiff Syracuse City, New York .....	3315
886.	Lee County Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46171-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, Georgia.....	3319
887.	City of Iuka, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46172-DAP: Plaintiff Iuka City, Mississippi .....	3322
888.	Monroe County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46173-DAP: Plaintiff Monroe County, Mississip .....	3325
889.	Currituck County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46174-DAP: Plaintiff Currituck County, North Carolina.....	3328
890.	Chowan County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46175-DAP: Plaintiff Chowan County, North Carolina.....	3332
891.	Board of Commissioners for Lucas County, Ohio et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46177-DAP: Plaintiff Lucas County, Ohio.....	3336
892.	County of Ingham, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46178-DAP: Plaintiff Ingham County, Michigan .....	3338
893.	Ashe County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46185-DAP: Plaintiff Ashe County, North Carolina .....	3341
894.	Cole County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46189-DAP: Plaintiff Cole County, Missouri.....	3344
895.	Gasconade County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46190-DAP: Plaintiff Gasconade County, Missouri.....	3348
896.	Osage County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46191-DAP: Plaintiff Osage County, Missouri .....	3351
897.	Pulaski County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46192-DAP: Plaintiff Pulaski County, Missouri .....	3353
898.	Reynolds County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46193-DAP: Plaintiff Reynolds County, Missouri .....	3357
899.	Maries County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46194-DAP: Plaintiff Maries County, Missouri .....	3360
900.	Phelps County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46195-DAP: Plaintiff Phelps County, Missouri.....	3363
901.	Warren County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46196-DAP: Plaintiff Warren County, Missouri .....	3367

902.	Montgomery County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46197-DAP: Plaintiff Montgomery County, Missouri .....	3371
903.	Ozark County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46198-DAP: Plaintiff Ozark County, Missouri .....	3374
904.	Muskegon County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46199-DAP: Plaintiff Muskegon County, Michigan .....	3377
905.	Town of Middleborough v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46200-DAP: Plaintiff Middleborough Town, Massachusetts .....	3381
906.	City of Ashland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46203-DAP: Plaintiff Ashland City, Ohio .....	3384
907.	Alexander County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46205-DAP: Plaintiff Alexander County, North Carolina.....	3389
908.	County Commissioners of Dona Ana County, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46206-DAP: Plaintiff Dona Ana County, New Mexico .....	3393
909.	Davie County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46207-DAP: Plaintiff Davie County, North Carolina.....	3396
910.	Plains Township, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46215-DAP: Plaintiff Plains Township, Pennsylvania .....	3399
911.	Franklin County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46216-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, North Carolina.....	3403
912.	Nye County, Nevada v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46238-DAP: Plaintiff Nye County, Nevada.....	3407
913.	Lac Vieux Desert Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46239-DAP: Plaintiff Lac Vieux Desert Band of Lake Superior Chippewa Indians, Michigan .....	3410
914.	Leon County, Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46242-DAP: Plaintiff Leon County, Florida.....	3413
915.	Ripley County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46262-DAP: Plaintiff Ripley County, Missouri.....	3417
916.	Lewis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46263-DAP: Plaintiff Lewis County, Missouri .....	3420
917.	Shelby County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46264-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Missouri .....	3424

918.	Audrain County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46265-DAP: Plaintiff Audrain County, Missouri .....	3427
919.	Tanana Chiefs Conference et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46268-DAP: Plaintiff Southcentral Foundation, Alaska .....	3430
920.	Carroll County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46269-DAP: Plaintiff Carroll County, Georgia .....	3434
921.	Carbon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46270-DAP: Plaintiff Carbon County, Utah.....	3437
922.	Hillsborough County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46281-DAP: Plaintiff Hillsborough County, Florida .....	3441
923.	City of Tampa v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46282-DAP: Plaintiff Tampa City, Florida .....	3444
924.	Union County, Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46284-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Georgia.....	3448
925.	City of Fall River v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46285-DAP: Plaintiff Fall River City, Massachusetts .....	3451
926.	City of Overland Park, Kansas v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46287-DAP: Plaintiff Overland Park City, Kansas .....	3455
927.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46294-DAP: Plaintiff Calhoun County, Illinois.....	3458
928.	Rockdale County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46296-DAP: Plaintiff Rockdale County, Georgia .....	3462
929.	Clayton County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46298-DAP: Plaintiff Clayton County, Georgia.....	3466
930.	Coos County, Oregon v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46300-DAP: Plaintiff Coos County, Oregon .....	3470
931.	Lewis County, Washington, et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46301-DAP: Plaintiff Lewis County, Washington .....	3473
932.	Camden County, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46306-DAP: Plaintiff Camden County, New Jersey.....	3477
933.	City of Hickory v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46307-DAP: Plaintiff Hickory City, North Carolina.....	3481
934.	City of Portland v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46313-DAP: Plaintiff Portland City, Maine .....	3485

935.	City of Bangor v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46314-DAP: Plaintiff Bangor City, Maine .....	3489
936.	City of Lewiston v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46315-DAP: Plaintiff Lewiston City, Maine .....	3492
937.	Washington County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46317-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Tennessee.....	3496
938.	Lauderdale County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46324-DAP: Plaintiff Lauderdale County, Tennessee .....	3499
939.	Montgomery County Board of County Commissioners et al. v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46326-DAP: Plaintiff Montgomery County, Ohio.....	3504
940.	Davidson County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46330-DAP: Plaintiff Davidson County, North Carolina.....	3508
941.	City of Bradenton v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46331-DAP: Plaintiff Bradenton City, Florida .....	3512
942.	Commissioners of St. Mary's County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46334-DAP: Plaintiff St. Marys County, Maryland .....	3515
943.	City of Albany Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46337-DAP: Plaintiff Albany City, Georgia.....	3519
944.	City of Findlay v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46339-DAP: Plaintiff Findlay City, Ohio.....	3523
945.	Mental Health &amp; Recovery Services Board of Allen, Auglaize and Hardin Counties v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46344-DAP: Plaintiff Mental Health & Recovery Services Board of Allen, Auglaize and Hardin Counties, Ohio.....	3527
946.	City of Van Wert v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46345-DAP: Plaintiff Van Wert City, Ohio .....	3531
947.	Webster County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46350-DAP: Plaintiff Webster County, Missouri .....	3534
948.	City of Norwalk v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46351-DAP: Plaintiff Norwalk City, Ohio .....	3538
949.	Moniteau County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46352-DAP: Plaintiff Moniteau County, Missouri.....	3542
950.	Hillsborough County, New Hampshire, v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46353-DAP: Plaintiff Hillsborough County, New Hampshire .....	3545

951.	City of Utica, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46359-DAP: Plaintiff Utica City, New York.....	3548
952.	Anson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-46364-DAP: Plaintiff Anson County, North Carolina.....	3551
953.	County of Kent, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45000-DAP: Plaintiff Kent County, Michigan .....	3555
954.	Camden County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45001-DAP: Plaintiff Camden County, North Carolina.....	3558
955.	Washington County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45002-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, North Carolina .....	3561
956.	Madison County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45006-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, Alabama .....	3565
957.	City of Quincy v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45008-DAP: Plaintiff Quincy City, Massachusetts .....	3569
958.	City of Clearwater in the County of Pinellas v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45009-DAP: Plaintiff Clearwater City, Florida .....	3573
959.	City of Saint Martinville v. AmerisourceBergen Corp et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45013-DAP: Plaintiff St. Martinville City, Louisiana .....	3577
960.	Haywood County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45014-DAP: Plaintiff Haywood County, North Carolina.....	3581
961.	Unified Government of Wyandotte County/Kansas City, Kansas v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al , Case No. 1:19-op-45015-DAP: Plaintiff Kansas City City, Kansas .....	3585
962.	Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, New York .....	3588
963.	County of Maricopa v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45020-DAP: Plaintiff Maricopa County, Arizona.....	3592
964.	Town of Stoughton, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Stoughton Town, Massachusetts.....	3595
965.	City of Anacortes et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45029-DAP: Plaintiff Anacortes City, Washington.....	3599

966.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of McKinley v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al , Case No. 1:19-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff McKinley County, New Mexico .....	3603
967.	City of Thornton v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45034-DAP: Plaintiff Thornton City, Colorado .....	3607
968.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Jefferson v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45035-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Colorado .....	3610
969.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Colorado .....	3612
970.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Arapahoe County, Colorado .....	3616
971.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Aurora City, Colorado .....	3618
972.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Black Hawk City, Colorado.....	3622
973.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Boulder County, Colorado .....	3625
974.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Broomfield City, Colorado .....	3627
975.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Commerce City City, Colorado .....	3630
976.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Denver City, Colorado .....	3633
977.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Fremont County, Colorado .....	3635
978.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Hudson Town, Colorado.....	3638
979.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Larimer County, Colorado .....	3641

980.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Northglenn City, Colorado .....	3643
981.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Teller County, Colorado .....	3646
982.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Adams, et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Westminster City, Colorado .....	3649
983.	Cahto Indian Tribe of the Laytonville Rancheria et al. v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45038-DAP: Plaintiff Cahto Indian Tribe of the Laytonville Rancheria, California.....	3651
984.	Town of Dedham, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45039-DAP: Plaintiff Dedham Town, Massachusetts.....	3654
985.	Duplin County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45040-DAP: Plaintiff Duplin County, North Carolina.....	3658
986.	Manatee County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45044-DAP: Plaintiff Manatee County, Florida .....	3662
987.	Bartow County, Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45045-DAP: Plaintiff Bartow County, Georgia.....	3665
988.	Polk County, Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation , Case No. 1:19-op-45046-DAP: Plaintiff Polk County, Georgia.....	3669
989.	Westwego City v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45047-DAP: Plaintiff Westwego City, Louisiana .....	3673
990.	City of Columbia, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45048-DAP: Plaintiff Columbia City, Mississippi.....	3677
991.	Pamlico County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Pamlico County, North Carolina.....	3681
992.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Taos v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Taos County, New Mexico.....	3684
993.	Rio Arriba County, New Mexico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45054-DAP: Plaintiff Rio Arriba County, New Mexico .....	3688

994.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff St. Clair County, Illinois .....	3692
995.	Town of Athol v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45058-DAP: Plaintiff Athol Town, Massachusetts .....	3696
996.	Town of Rehoboth v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45059-DAP: Plaintiff Rehoboth Town, Massachusetts .....	3700
997.	Town of Fairhaven, MA v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45060-DAP: Plaintiff Fairhaven Town, Massachusetts .....	3704
998.	Town of Norwood v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45061-DAP: Plaintiff Norwood Town, Massachusetts .....	3708
999.	Town of Brookline v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45062-DAP: Plaintiff Brookline Town, Massachusetts .....	3712
1000.	Town of Scituate v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45063-DAP: Plaintiff Scituate Town, Massachusetts .....	3716
1001.	County of Brevard, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45064-DAP: Plaintiff Brevard County, Florida .....	3721
1002.	Town of Orange, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45070-DAP: Plaintiff Orange Town, Massachusetts .....	3724
1003.	City of Florence Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45073-DAP: Plaintiff Florence City, Alabama .....	3727
1004.	Ho-Chunk Nation v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45076-DAP: Plaintiff Ho-Chunk Nation, Wisconsin .....	3731
1005.	Town of Tewksbury v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45077-DAP: Plaintiff Tewksbury Town, Massachusetts .....	3734
1006.	City of Nanticoke, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45081-DAP: Plaintiff Nanticoke City, Pennsylvania .....	3738
1007.	City of Great Falls et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff Anaconda-Deer Lodge County, Montana .....	3742

1008.	City of Great Falls et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff Great Falls City, Montana .....	3746
1009.	City of Great Falls et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff Lake County, Montana .....	3749
1010.	City of Great Falls et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff Missoula City, Montana .....	3752
1011.	Autauga County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45086-DAP: Plaintiff Autauga County, Alabama .....	3756
1012.	County Commissioners of Charles County, Maryland v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45094-DAP: Plaintiff Charles County, Maryland .....	3760
1013.	Noble County, Ohio v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45096-DAP: Plaintiff Noble County, Ohio .....	3764
1014.	Grant County, New Mexico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45108-DAP: Plaintiff Grant County, New Mexico.....	3767
1015.	Mennonite General Hospital, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Hospital Menonita Caguas, Inc., Puerto Rico.....	3770
1016.	Mennonite General Hospital, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Hospital Menonita Gauyama, Inc., Puerto Rico .....	3773
1017.	Mennonite General Hospital, Inc. et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Mennonite General Hospital, Inc., Puerto Rico.....	3775
1018.	City of Medford v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45110-DAP: Plaintiff Medford City, Massachusetts .....	3778
1019.	Missoula County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45112-DAP: Plaintiff Missoula County, Montana .....	3781
1020.	Harrison County, Mississippi v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45113-DAP: Plaintiff Harrison County, Mississippi .....	3784
1021.	County of Mohave v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Mohave County, Arizona .....	3786
1022.	Town of Dennis v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45124-DAP: Plaintiff Dennis Town, Massachusetts .....	3790
1023.	Town of Provincetown v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45125-DAP: Plaintiff Provincetown Town, Massachusetts .....	3794

1024.	County of San Mateo v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45126-DAP: Plaintiff San Mateo County, California .....	3798
1025.	County of Santa Barbara et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45128-DAP: Plaintiff Santa Barbara County, California .....	3800
1026.	City of Blakely, Georgia et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45129-DAP: Plaintiff Arlington City, Georgia .....	3803
1027.	City of Blakely, Georgia et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45129-DAP: Plaintiff Blakely City, Georgia .....	3806
1028.	City of Blakely, Georgia et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45129-DAP: Plaintiff Damascus City, Georgia .....	3810
1029.	Heard County, Georgia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45130-DAP: Plaintiff Heard County, Georgia.....	3813
1030.	Blount County, Tennessee et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Blount County, Tennessee ....	3816
1031.	Blount County, Tennessee et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Tennessee .....	3820
1032.	Hospital Authority of Valdosta and Lowndes County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45133-DAP: Plaintiff Valdosta And Lowndes County, Hospital Authority Of D/B/A South Georgia Medical Center, Georgia .....	3823
1033.	Jackson County Health Care Authority v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45134-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County Health Care Authority, Alabama .....	3827
1034.	City of Rainsville, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45135-DAP: Plaintiff Hammondville Town, Alabama.....	3830
1035.	City of Rainsville, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45135-DAP: Plaintiff Rainsville City, Alabama .....	3834
1036.	City of Red Bay, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Leighton Town, Alabam .....	3838
1037.	City of Red Bay, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Red Bay City, Alabama.....	3841

1038.	City of Red Bay, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Russellville City, Alabama .....	3845
1039.	City of Red Bay, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Sheffield City, Alabama.....	3850
1040.	Iberville Parish Council v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45140-DAP: Plaintiff Iberville Parish Council, Louisiana .....	3853
1041.	City of Vestavia Hills, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45141-DAP: Plaintiff Vestavia Hills City, Alabama .....	3857
1042.	Jones County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45142-DAP: Plaintiff Jones County, North Carolina.....	3861
1043.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Attentus Mouton, LLC d/b/a Lawrence Medical Center, Alabama.....	3865
1044.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Health Care Authority of Morgan County - Decatur City, Alabama.....	3868
1045.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville d/b/a HH Health System, Alabama .....	3871
1046.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville d/b/a Huntsville Hospital, Alabama.....	3875
1047.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville d/b/a Huntsville Hospital for Women and Children, Alabama .....	3879
1048.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville d/b/a Madison Hospital, Alabama.....	3884
1049.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff HH Health System-Athens Limestone, LLC d/b/a Athens Limestone Hospital, Alabama.....	3888
1050.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff HH

	Health System-Morgan, LLC d/b/a Decatur Morgan Hospital- Decatur and Decatur Morgan Hospital-Parkway, Alabama .....	3892
1051.	Health Care Authority of the City of Huntsville et al. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff HH Health System-Shoals, LLC D/B/A Helen Keller Hospital and Red Bay Hospital, Alabama .....	3896
1052.	Wooten v. Purdue Pharmaceuticals, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op- 45145-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Coffee County, Georgia .....	3900
1053.	Walker v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45146- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Crawford County, Georgia .....	3903
1054.	Jolley v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45147- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Harris County, Georgia .....	3907
1055.	Jump v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45155-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Glynn County, Georgia .....	3909
1056.	County of Albany, New York v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45159-DAP: Plaintiff Albany County, New York .....	3914
1057.	Bohannon v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45161- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Jeff Davis County, Georgia .....	3918
1058.	Reece v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45162- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Jones County, Georgia .....	3922
1059.	Dean v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45163-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Laurens County, Georgia .....	3926
1060.	Langford v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45164- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Murray County, Georgia .....	3930
1061.	Berry v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45165- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Oconee County, Georgia .....	3934
1062.	Bennett v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45166- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Pierce County, Georgia .....	3938
1063.	Kile v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45167-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Screven County, Georgia .....	3942
1064.	Scarborough v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op- 45168-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Tift County, Georgia .....	3946
1065.	Royal v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45169- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Ware County, Georgia .....	3949
1066.	Carter v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45170- DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Wayne County, Georgia .....	3953
1067.	Aroostook County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op- 45183-DAP: Plaintiff Aroostook County, Maine .....	3957

1068.	Penobscot County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45184-DAP: Plaintiff Penobscot County, Maine.....	3960
1069.	Washington County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45185-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Maine .....	3963
1070.	Cheyenne &amp; Arapaho Tribes v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45187-DAP: Plaintiff Cheyenne & Arapaho Tribes, Oklahoma.....	3967
1071.	City of Auburn v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45188-DAP: Plaintiff Auburn City, Maine.....	3970
1072.	Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45190-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, Maine.....	3973
1073.	York County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45191-DAP: Plaintiff York County, Maine .....	3977
1074.	City of Waterville v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45193-DAP: Plaintiff Waterville City, Maine .....	3980
1075.	Androscoggin County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45205-DAP: Plaintiff Androscoggin County, Maine .....	3984
1076.	City of Geneva, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45214-DAP: Plaintiff Geneva City, New York .....	3988
1077.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Otero, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45216-DAP: Plaintiff Otero County, New Mexico.....	3991
1078.	County of Navajo v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45217-DAP: Plaintiff Navajo County, Arizona.....	3994
1079.	City of Beverly v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45219-DAP: Plaintiff Beverly City, Massachusetts .....	3997
1080.	City of Memphis v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45220-DAP: Plaintiff Memphis City, Tennessee .....	4001
1081.	City of Lakewood v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45221-DAP: Plaintiff Lakewood City, Washington .....	4005
1082.	County Commission of Washington County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45222-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Oklahoma.....	4008
1083.	County Commission of Okmulgee County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45223-DAP: Plaintiff Okmulgee County, Oklahoma .....	4011
1084.	County Commission of Rogers County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45224-DAP: Plaintiff Rogers County, Oklahoma.....	4015

1085.	County Commission of Nowata County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45225-DAP: Plaintiff Nowata County, Oklahoma.....	4018
1086.	County Commission of Creek County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45226-DAP: Plaintiff Creek County, Oklahoma .....	4022
1087.	County Commissioner of Mayes County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45227-DAP: Plaintiff Mayes County, Oklahoma .....	4025
1088.	Meigs County, Ohio v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45229-DAP: Plaintiff Meigs County, Ohio .....	4029
1089.	Washington County, Ohio v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Marietta City, Ohio.....	4032
1090.	Washington County, Ohio v. Cardinal Health, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45230-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Ohio .....	4035
1091.	Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45231-DAP: Plaintiff Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes, Oklahoma.....	4039
1092.	Cheyenne &amp; Arapaho Tribes v. Watson Laboratories Inc et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45232-DAP: Plaintiff Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes, Oklahoma.....	4043
1093.	Montgomery County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45234-DAP: Plaintiff Montgomery County, Virginia.....	4046
1094.	Giles County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45236-DAP: Plaintiff Giles County, Virginia .....	4050
1095.	County of Jasper v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45238-DAP: Plaintiff Jasper County, Texas.....	4053
1096.	County of Hardin v. Endo Health Solutions, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45241-DAP: Plaintiff Hardin County, Texas.....	4056
1097.	County of Newton v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45242-DAP: Plaintiff Newton County, Texas .....	4059
1098.	City of Galax, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45243-DAP: Plaintiff Galax City, Virginia .....	4063
1099.	Henry County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45245-DAP: Plaintiff Henry County, Virginia .....	4067
1100.	City of Alexandria v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45246-DAP: Plaintiff Alexandria City, Virginia.....	4070
1101.	Pittsylvania County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45247-DAP: Plaintiff Pittsylvania County, Virginia.....	4074

1102.	City of Cullman, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45248-DAP: Plaintiff Cullman City, Alabama .....	4078
1103.	City of Norton, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45249-DAP: Plaintiff Norton City, Virginia.....	4082
1104.	Lee County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45251-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, Virginia.....	4086
1105.	Dickenson County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45252-DAP: Plaintiff Dickenson County, Virginia .....	4090
1106.	Washington County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45254-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Virginia.....	4094
1107.	Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45256-DAP: Plaintiff Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Wisconsin .....	4098
1108.	Kennebec County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45257-DAP: Plaintiff Kennebec County, Maine .....	4101
1109.	Cumberland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45259-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland County, Maine.....	4105
1110.	County of Ionia, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45261-DAP: Plaintiff Ionia County, Michigan.....	4109
1111.	County of Livingston, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma, Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45262-DAP: Plaintiff Livingston County, Michigan .....	4111
1112.	Baldwin County, AL v. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45264-DAP: Plaintiff Baldwin County, Alabama.....	4113
1113.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lea v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45266-DAP: Plaintiff Lea County, New Mexico .....	4117
1114.	City of Tucson v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45267-DAP: Plaintiff Tucson City, Arizona .....	4121
1115.	County of Pima v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45268-DAP: Plaintiff Pima County, Arizona .....	4124
1116.	County of Fannin v. Rite Aid of Georgia, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45269-DAP: Plaintiff Fannin County, Georgia.....	4127
1117.	Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45270-DAP: Plaintiff Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Wisconsin .....	4130
1118.	Winona County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45271-DAP: Plaintiff Winona County, Minnesota.....	4134

1119.	Marion County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45272-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Florida .....	4138
1120.	Miller County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45274-DAP: Plaintiff Miller County, Missouri .....	4141
1121.	Page County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45275-DAP: Plaintiff Page County, Virginia .....	4144
1122.	Hospital Authority of Wayne County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45278-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne County Hospital Authority, Georgia.....	4148
1123.	Town of Warren v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Warren Town, Rhode Island	4151
1124.	Town of Scituate v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Scituate Town, Rhode Island	4155
1125.	Jackson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45283-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Florida.....	4159
1126.	City of Rome, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45284-DAP: Plaintiff Rome City, New York .....	4163
1127.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45286-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Illinois .....	4166
1128.	City of Greensboro v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45289-DAP: Plaintiff Greensboro City, North Carolina .....	4169
1129.	Lee County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45290-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, North Carolina .....	4173
1130.	City of Gulfport, Mississippi v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45291-DAP: Plaintiff Gulfport City, Mississippi .....	4178
1131.	City of Prestonsburg v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45294-DAP: Plaintiff Prestonsburg City, Kentucky .....	4181
1132.	Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa v. Watson Laboratories, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45297-DAP: Plaintiff Bad River Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Wisconsin.....	4185
1133.	City of Brighton v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45298-DAP: Plaintiff Brighton City, Colorado .....	4188
1134.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Bernalillo v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45301-DAP: Plaintiff Bernalillo County, New Mexico .....	4190

1135.	City of Lackawanna, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45303-DAP: Plaintiff Lackawanna City, New York .....	4194
1136.	Meriwether County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45305-DAP: Plaintiff Meriwether County, Georgia .....	4197
1137.	Smith v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45306-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Meriwether County, Georgia.....	4202
1138.	Melton v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45307-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Appling County, Georgia .....	4206
1139.	Talton v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45308-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Houston County, Georgia.....	4210
1140.	City of Sanford v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45311-DAP: Plaintiff Sanford City, Maine .....	4214
1141.	Steverson v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45313-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Telfair County, Georgia .....	4217
1142.	Deese v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45314-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Peach County, Georgia.....	4221
1143.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Catron v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45320-DAP: Plaintiff Catron County, New Mexico.....	4225
1144.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Cibola v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45321-DAP: Plaintiff Cibola County, New Mexico.....	4229
1145.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Sierra v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45322-DAP: Plaintiff Sierra County, New Mexico .....	4233
1146.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Socorro v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45323-DAP: Plaintiff Socorro County, New Mexico.....	4236
1147.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Valencia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45324-DAP: Plaintiff Valencia County, New Mexico .....	4240
1148.	Wilkes-Barre Township, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45325-DAP: Plaintiff Wilkes Barre Township, Pennsylvania .....	4244
1149.	Richland County South Carolina v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45327-DAP: Plaintiff Richland County, South Carolina.....	4248
1150.	City of Woonsocket, Rhode Island v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45328-DAP: Plaintiff Woonsocket City, Rhode Island .....	4251

1151.	City of West Liberty, Kentucky v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45329-DAP: Plaintiff West Liberty City, Kentucky .....	4255
1152.	Sibley County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45333-DAP: Plaintiff Sibley County, Minnesota .....	4258
1153.	Scotland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45336-DAP: Plaintiff Scotland County, North Carolina.....	4262
1154.	Sarasota County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45339-DAP: Plaintiff Sarasota County, Florida .....	4266
1155.	Guilford County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45340-DAP: Plaintiff Guilford County, North Carolina.....	4269
1156.	Lafayette County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45341-DAP: Plaintiff Lafayette County, Mississippi .....	4273
1157.	Granville County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45342-DAP: Plaintiff Granville County, North Carolina.....	4277
1158.	Meeker County, Minnesota v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45343-DAP: Plaintiff Meeker County, Minnesota .....	4281
1159.	Roseau County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45344-DAP: Plaintiff Roseau County, Minnesota.....	4284
1160.	Durham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45346-DAP: Plaintiff Durham County, North Carolina.....	4287
1161.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Curry, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45347-DAP: Plaintiff Curry County, New Mexico .....	4291
1162.	Aroostook Band of Micmacs v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45349-DAP: Plaintiff Aroostook Band of Micmacs, Maine .....	4294
1163.	Lower Brule Sioux Tribe v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45350-DAP: Plaintiff Lower Brule Sioux Tribe, South Dakota .....	4298
1164.	Board of County Commissioners of County of Tulsa v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45352-DAP: Plaintiff Tulsa County, Oklahoma .....	4301

1165.	Board of County Commissioners for San Miguel County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45354-DAP: Plaintiff San Miguel County, New Mexico .....	4306
1166.	Fairview Township, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45355-DAP: Plaintiff Fairview Township, Pennsylvania .....	4310
1167.	Orange County Indiana v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45356-DAP: Plaintiff Orange County, Indiana.....	4313
1168.	White Earth Nation v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45357-DAP: Plaintiff White Earth Nation, Minnesota.....	4317
1169.	William C. Massee, Jr. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45361-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff Of Baldwin County, Georgia....	4320
1170.	Snohomish County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45370-DAP: Plaintiff Snohomish County, Washington.....	4324
1171.	Boone County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45375-DAP: Plaintiff Boone County, Missouri.....	4328
1172.	Callaway County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45378-DAP: Plaintiff Callaway County, Missouri .....	4332
1173.	Wright County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45383-DAP: Plaintiff Wright County, Missouri .....	4336
1174.	Douglas County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45386-DAP: Plaintiff Douglas County, Missouri .....	4339
1175.	Shannon County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45401-DAP: Plaintiff Shannon County, Missouri .....	4343
1176.	Gooding County, Idaho et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45404-DAP: Plaintiff Gooding County, Idaho .....	4346
1177.	Knox County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45406-DAP: Plaintiff Knox County, Missouri .....	4351
1178.	Schuyler County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45408-DAP: Plaintiff Schuyler County, Missouri .....	4355
1179.	Randolph County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45409-DAP: Plaintiff Randolph County, Missouri.....	4358
1180.	City of Seven Hills, Ohio v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45413-DAP: Plaintiff Seven Hills City, Ohio.....	4362
1181.	Pettis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45416-DAP: Plaintiff Pettis County, Missouri .....	4366
1182.	Covington County, Mississippi v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45417-DAP: Plaintiff Covington County, Mississippi .....	4370

1183.	Forsyth County, Georgia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45420-DAP: Plaintiff Forsyth County, Georgia .....	4374
1184.	Walton County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45423-DAP: Plaintiff Walton County, Florida .....	4378
1185.	City of Saint Paul, Minnesota v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45424-DAP: Plaintiff St. Paul City, Minnesota .....	4382
1186.	Maverick County, Texas v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45426-DAP: Plaintiff Maverick County, Texas.....	4387
1187.	Township of Saddle Brook, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45431-DAP: Plaintiff Saddle Brook Township, New Jersey .....	4390
1188.	County of Berkeley, South Carolina v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45436-DAP: Plaintiff Berkeley County, South Carolina.....	4395
1189.	County of Jefferson, NY v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45437-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, New York .....	4397
1190.	Coushatta Tribe of Louisiana et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45438-DAP: Plaintiff Coushatta Tribe of Louisiana, Louisiana .....	4401
1191.	Johnson County, Kansas v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45443-DAP: Plaintiff Johnson County, Kansas.....	4405
1192.	Quapaw Tribe of Oklahoma v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45460-DAP: Plaintiff Quapaw Tribe of Oklahoma, Oklahoma.....	4408
1193.	City of Canton et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45462-DAP: Plaintiff Canton Town, North Carolina.....	4412
1194.	City of Canton et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45462-DAP: Plaintiff Chatham County, North Carolina .....	4415
1195.	City of Tupelo, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45491-DAP: Plaintiff Tupelo City, Mississippi .....	4418
1196.	City of Inez, KY v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45499-DAP: Plaintiff Inez City, Kentucky .....	4422
1197.	County of Curry v. Purdue Pharma, LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45512-DAP: Plaintiff Curry County, Oregon.....	4425
1198.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Lincoln, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45513-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, New Mexico .....	4428

1199.	City of Long Beach, Mississippi v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45517-DAP: Plaintiff Long Beach City, Mississippi .....	4432
1200.	City of Richmond v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45546-DAP: Plaintiff Richmond City, Virginia.....	4435
1201.	Pearl River County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45548-DAP: Plaintiff Pearl River County, Mississippi.....	4439
1202.	City of Amory, Mississippi v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45549-DAP: Plaintiff Amory City, Mississippi .....	4443
1203.	Mitchell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45550-DAP: Plaintiff Mitchell County, North Carolina.....	4446
1204.	DeSoto County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45551-DAP: Plaintiff Desoto County, Mississippi.....	4450
1205.	Leflore County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45552-DAP: Plaintiff Leflore County, Mississippi.....	4454
1206.	City of South Sioux City, Nebraska v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45553-DAP: Plaintiff South Sioux City, Nebraska .....	4457
1207.	Town of Portsmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45554-DAP: Plaintiff Portsmouth Town, Rhode Island .....	4462
1208.	County of Northumberland v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45555-DAP: Plaintiff Northumberland County, Pennsylvania .....	4466
1209.	Bladen County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45557-DAP: Plaintiff Bladen County, North Carolina.....	4469
1210.	City of Paintsville, KY v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45559-DAP: Plaintiff Paintsville City, Kentucky .....	4472
1211.	County of Calhoun v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19- op-45560-DAP: Plaintiff Calhoun County, Michigan .....	4476
1212.	County of Kalamazoo v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45561-DAP: Plaintiff Kalamazoo County, Michigan .....	4479

1213.	Hancock v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45562-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Crisp County, Georgia.....	4483
1214.	St. Johns County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45563-DAP: Plaintiff St Johns County, Florida .....	4486
1215.	Bradford County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45564-DAP: Plaintiff Bradford County, Florida .....	4489
1216.	Seminole County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45565-DAP: Plaintiff Seminole County, Florida.....	4493
1217.	Charter Township of Pittsfield, Michigan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45566-DAP: Plaintiff Pittsfield Charter Township, Michigan .....	4497
1218.	Town of Oxford v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45568-DAP: Plaintiff Oxford Town, Massachusetts .....	4500
1219.	City of New Bedford et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45569-DAP: Plaintiff New Bedford City, Massachusetts .....	4504
1220.	Town of Ayer, Massachusetts v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45570-DAP: Plaintiff Ayer Town, Massachusetts .....	4509
1221.	Morgan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45571-DAP: Plaintiff Morgan County, Kentucky.....	4513
1222.	City of Sheridan v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45572-DAP: Plaintiff Sheridan City, Colorado .....	4516
1223.	City of Federal Heights v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45573-DAP: Plaintiff Federal Heights City, Colorado .....	4519
1224.	Wright Township, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45574-DAP: Plaintiff Wright Township, Pennsylvania .....	4522
1225.	County of Yuma v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45575-DAP: Plaintiff Yuma County, Arizona.....	4526
1226.	City of Wiggins, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45576-DAP: Plaintiff Wiggins City, Mississippi.....	4528
1227.	Franklin County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45577-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Mississippi .....	4532

1228.	Tule River Indian Tribe of California v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45579-DAP: Plaintiff Tule River Indian Tribe of California, California .....	4536
1229.	Lytton Band of Pomo Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45580-DAP: Plaintiff Lytton Band of Pomo Indians, California .....	4539
1230.	Sampson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45583-DAP: Plaintiff Sampson County, North Carolina .....	4543
1231.	City of Oviedo, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45584-DAP: Plaintiff Oviedo City, Florida .....	4546
1232.	Kingston Borough, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45585-DAP: Plaintiff Kingston Borough, Pennsylvania .....	4550
1233.	City of Deltona, Florida v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45586-DAP: Plaintiff Deltona City, Florida .....	4554
1234.	Hamilton County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45589-DAP: Plaintiff Hamilton County, Florida .....	4557
1235.	Suwannee County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45590-DAP: Plaintiff Suwannee County, Florida .....	4560
1236.	Clay County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45591-DAP: Plaintiff Clay County, Florida .....	4565
1237.	City of St. Augustine, Florida v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45592-DAP: Plaintiff St. Augustine City, Florida .....	4568
1238.	City of Florida City, Florida v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45594-DAP: Plaintiff City of Florida City, Florida .....	4572
1239.	City of Port St. Lucie, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45596-DAP: Plaintiff Port St. Lucie City, Florida .....	4575
1240.	Taylor County Florida v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45597-DAP: Plaintiff Taylor County, Florida .....	4578
1241.	City of Sanford, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45599-DAP: Plaintiff Sanford City, Florida .....	4582
1242.	United Keetoowah Band of Cherokee Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45600-DAP: Plaintiff United Keetoowah Band of Cherokee Indians, Kansas .....	4586
1243.	Board of Commissioners of Leavenworth County, Kansas v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45602-DAP: Plaintiff Leavenworth County, Kansas .....	4590

1244.	Union County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45603-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Florida.....	4594
1245.	Dixie County Florida v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45604-DAP: Plaintiff Dixie County, Florida .....	4597
1246.	County Commissioners of Calvert County, Maryland v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45609-DAP: Plaintiff Calvert County, Maryland .....	4601
1247.	Georgetown County, South Carolina v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45612-DAP: Plaintiff Georgetown County, South Carolin .....	4605
1248.	Alamance County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45615-DAP: Plaintiff Alamance County, North Carolina.....	4608
1249.	Sussex County, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45616-DAP: Plaintiff Sussex County, New Jersey.....	4613
1250.	City of Clarksdale v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45620-DAP: Plaintiff Clarksdale City, Mississippi.....	4616
1251.	City of Bismarck v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45629-DAP: Plaintiff Bismarck City, North Dakota.....	4620
1252.	Williams County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45633-DAP: Plaintiff Williams County, North Dakota.....	4624
1253.	Grand Forks County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45647-DAP: Plaintiff Grand Forks County, North Dakota .....	4627
1254.	County Commission of Craig County, Oklahoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45652-DAP: Plaintiff Craig County, Oklahoma .....	4630
1255.	Hanover Township, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45654-DAP: Plaintiff Hanover Township, Pennsylvania .....	4634
1256.	County of Lycoming v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45655-DAP: Plaintiff Lycoming County, Pennsylvania .....	4638
1257.	St. Lucie County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45656-DAP: Plaintiff St. Lucie County, Florida .....	4642
1258.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45657-DAP: Plaintiff Williamson County, Illinois .....	4645
1259.	Claiborne County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45658-DAP: Plaintiff Claiborne County, Tennessee .....	4648

1260.	County of Rockland, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45662-DAP: Plaintiff Rockland County, New York .....	4651
1261.	Hernando County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45667-DAP: Plaintiff Hernando County, Florida ....	4654
1262.	Lee County v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45671-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, Florida.....	4658
1263.	Town of Braintree v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45673-DAP: Plaintiff Braintree Town City, Massachusetts.....	4662
1264.	County of Wicomico, Maryland v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45681-DAP: Plaintiff Wicomico County, Maryland .....	4665
1265.	Fauquier County, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt LLC, et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45686-DAP: Plaintiff Fauquier County, Virginia .....	4669
1266.	Board of Supervisors, Prince William County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45687-DAP: Plaintiff Prince William County, Virginia .....	4673
1267.	Northumberland County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45688-DAP: Plaintiff Northumberland County, Virginia .....	4677
1268.	Strafford County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45689-DAP: Plaintiff Strafford County, New Hampshire.....	4681
1269.	City of Claremont, NH v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45690-DAP: Plaintiff Claremont City, New Hampshire .....	4684
1270.	Grafton County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45691-DAP: Plaintiff Grafton County, New Hampshire.....	4688
1271.	Halifax County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45692-DAP: Plaintiff Halifax County, Virginia .....	4691
1272.	City of Lexington, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45693-DAP: Plaintiff Lexington City, Virginia.....	4695
1273.	Rockbridge County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45694-DAP: Plaintiff Rockbridge County, Virginia.....	4699
1274.	Roanoke County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45695-DAP: Plaintiff Roanoke County, Virginia .....	4702
1275.	City of Roanoke, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45696-DAP: Plaintiff Roanoke City, Virginia.....	4707
1276.	City of Salem, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45697-DAP: Plaintiff Salem City, Virginia .....	4710
1277.	Floyd County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45698-DAP: Plaintiff Floyd County, Virginia.....	4714

1278.	Alleghany County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45700-DAP: Plaintiff Alleghany County, Virginia .....	4718
1279.	Franklin County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45701-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Virginia.....	4722
1280.	Madison County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45702-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, Virginia .....	4726
1281.	Rockingham County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45703-DAP: Plaintiff Rockingham County, New Hampshire .....	4729
1282.	Belknap County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45705-DAP: Plaintiff Belknap County, New Hampshire.....	4733
1283.	Cheshire County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45706-DAP: Plaintiff Cheshire County, New Hampshire.....	4737
1284.	Town of Belmont, NH v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45707-DAP: Plaintiff Belmont Town, New Hampshire .....	4740
1285.	City of Chesapeake, Virginia v. Actavis, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45712-DAP: Plaintiff Chesapeake City, Virginia .....	4743
1286.	Accomack County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45715-DAP: Plaintiff Accomack County, Virginia .....	4748
1287.	City of Bristol, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45719-DAP: Plaintiff Bristol City, Virginia .....	4752
1288.	Louisa County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45720-DAP: Plaintiff Louisa County, Virginia .....	4756
1289.	City of St. Albans, VT v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45721-DAP: Plaintiff St. Albans City, Vermont .....	4760
1290.	City of Youngstown v. Actavis Pharma, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45722-DAP: Plaintiff Youngstown City, Ohio .....	4763
1291.	City of Hazleton, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45724-DAP: Plaintiff Hazleton City, Pennsylvania.....	4767
1292.	Chatham County Hospital Authority, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45725-DAP: Plaintiff Chatham County Hospital Authority, Georgia.....	4771
1293.	County of Alameda, California et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff Alameda County, California .....	4773
1294.	City of Westminster et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45727-DAP: Plaintiff Westminster City, California.....	4775

1295.	City of San Clemente et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45728-DAP: Plaintiff San Clemente City, California.....	4778
1296.	City of Danville, Virginia v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45730-DAP: Plaintiff Danville City, Virginia.....	4782
1297.	Pemiscot County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45733-DAP: Plaintiff Pemiscot County, Missouri.....	4786
1298.	City of Irvine et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45734-DAP: Plaintiff Irvine City, California.....	4789
1299.	City of Costa Mesa et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45736-DAP: Plaintiff Costa Mesa City, California .....	4793
1300.	City of Austin, Indiana v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45739-DAP: Plaintiff Austin City, Indiana.....	4797
1301.	City of Madison, Indiana v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45740-DAP: Plaintiff Madison City, Indiana .....	4800
1302.	Passaic County, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45741-DAP: Plaintiff Passaic County, New Jersey .....	4803
1303.	City of Fairfield, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45742-DAP: Plaintiff Fairfield City, Ohio.....	4807
1304.	City of Argo, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45744-DAP: Plaintiff Argo Town, Alabama .....	4811
1305.	Covington County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45751-DAP: Plaintiff Covington County, Alabama .....	4815
1306.	Bingham County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45758-DAP: Plaintiff Bingham County, Idaho .....	4818
1307.	Bertie County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45759-DAP: Plaintiff Bertie County, North Carolina.....	4821
1308.	LaMoure County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45760-DAP: Plaintiff La Moure County, North Dakota .....	4825
1309.	Fairfax County Board Of Supervisors v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45766-DAP: Plaintiff Fairfax County, Virginia .....	4828
1310.	City Of San Jose v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45768-DAP: Plaintiff San Jose City, California.....	4832
1311.	Oxford, Alabama, City of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45774-DAP: Plaintiff Oxford City, Alabama .....	4836
1312.	Ada County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45775-DAP: Plaintiff Ada County, Idaho .....	4839

1313.	Locust Fork, Town of v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45777-DAP: Plaintiff Locust Fork Town, Alabama .....	4842
1314.	City of Daleville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45778-DAP: Plaintiff Daleville City, Alabama .....	4846
1315.	City of Dadeville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45779-DAP: Plaintiff Dadeville City, Alabama .....	4850
1316.	Triad Health Systems, Inc. v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45780-DAP: Plaintiff Triad Health Systems, Inc., Kentucky .....	4854
1317.	City of Orange Beach, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45784-DAP: Plaintiff Orange Beach City, Alabama .....	4857
1318.	City of Warfield, KY v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45787-DAP: Plaintiff Warfield City, Kentucky .....	4860
1319.	Chariton County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45790-DAP: Plaintiff Chariton County, Missouri .....	4863
1320.	Town of Bennington, Vermont v. Mallinckrodt PLC, et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45791-DAP: Plaintiff Sharon Town, Vermont .....	4866
1321.	Laborers Local 235 Welfare Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45792-DAP: Plaintiff Laborers Local 235 Welfare Fund, New York.....	4870
1322.	Painting Industry Insurance Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45793-DAP: Plaintiff Painting Industry Insurance Fund, New York .....	4873
1323.	CWA Local 1182 &amp; 1183 Health &amp; Welfare Funds v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45794-DAP: Plaintiff CWA Local 1182 Health & Welfare Fund, New York.....	4876
1324.	CWA Local 1182 &amp; 1183 Health &amp; Welfare Funds v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45794-DAP: Plaintiff CWA Local 1183 Health & Welfare Fund, New York.....	4879
1325.	Westchester Heavy Construction Laborers Local 60 Health &amp; Welfare Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45795-DAP: Plaintiff Westchester Heavy Construction Laborers Local 60 Health & Welfare Fund, New York.....	4883
1326.	Orange County, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45797-DAP: Plaintiff Orange County, Florida .....	4887
1327.	City of Covington, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45799-DAP: Plaintiff Covington City, Virginia .....	4891

1328.	City of Blackshear, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45802-DAP: Plaintiff Blackshear City, Georgia.....	4894
1329.	Charleston County, South Carolina v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45803-DAP: Plaintiff Charleston County, South Carolina.....	4897
1330.	NOITU Insurance Trust Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45808-DAP: Plaintiff NOITU Insurance Trust Fund, New York.....	4901
1331.	Local 8A-28A Welfare Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45809-DAP: Plaintiff Local 8A-28A Welfare Fund, New York.....	4903
1332.	Drywall Tapers Insurance Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45810-DAP: Plaintiff Drywall Tapers Insurance Fund, New York.....	4907
1333.	Nassau University Medical Center v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45812-DAP: Plaintiff Nassau University Medical Center, New York.....	4910
1334.	Municipality of Villalba v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45815-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Villalba, Puerto Rico	4913
1335.	Municipality of Catano, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45816-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Catano, Puerto Rico.....	4916
1336.	Municipality of Arroyo, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45817-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Arroyo, Puerto Ric.....	4920
1337.	Municipality of Bayamon, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45818-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Bayamon, Puerto Rico .....	4923
1338.	Municipality of Ceiba, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45819-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Ceiba, Puerto Rico.....	4927
1339.	Municipality of Coamo, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45820-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Coamo, Puerto Rico.....	4931
1340.	County of Knox et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45822-DAP: Plaintiff Knox County, Maine.....	4933
1341.	Russell County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45826-DAP: Plaintiff Russell County, Alabama .....	4937

1342.	City of Alexander City, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45827-DAP: Plaintiff City of Alexander City, Alabama .....	4942
1343.	Structural Steel 806 Health Plan v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45831-DAP: Plaintiff Structural Steel 806 Health Plan, New York .....	4946
1344.	International Brotherhood of Trade Unions Local 713 v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45832-DAP: Plaintiff International Brotherhood of Trade Unions Local 713, New York.....	4949
1345.	City of San Antonio, Texas v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45833-DAP: Plaintiff San Antonio City, Texas .....	4952
1346.	City of Ocala, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45834-DAP: Plaintiff Ocala City, Florida .....	4956
1347.	Brighton Health Plan Solutions, llc d/b/a MagnaCare Administrative Services v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45837-DAP: Plaintiff Brighton Health Plan Solutions, llc d/b/a MagnaCare Administrative Services, New York.....	4959
1348.	Brighton Health Plan Solutions, LLC d/b/a MagnaCare Administrative Services and MagnaCare, LLC v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45838-DAP: Plaintiff Brighton Health Plan Solutions, LLC d/b/a MagnaCare Administrative Services and MagnaCare, LLC, New York .....	4962
1349.	Loudoun County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45842-DAP: Plaintiff Loudoun County, Virginia.....	4966
1350.	City of Auburn v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op- 45843-DAP: Plaintiff Auburn City, New York .....	4970
1351.	Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head (Aquinnah) v. Mallinckrodt Brand Pharmaceuticals, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45844-DAP: Plaintiff Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head (Aquinnah), Massachusetts .....	4973
1352.	Greensville County, VA v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45848-DAP: Plaintiff Greensville County, Virginia.....	4977
1353.	Culpeper County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45849-DAP: Plaintiff Culpeper County, Virginia .....	4981
1354.	Charlotte County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45851-DAP: Plaintiff Charlotte County, Virginia .....	4985
1355.	City of Ogdensburg v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19- op-45852-DAP: Plaintiff Ogdensburg City, New York .....	4988

1356.	Jamaica Hospital Medical Center v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45855-DAP: Plaintiff Jamaica Hospital Medical Center, New York .....	4990
1357.	County of Kauai v. CVS Health Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:19- op-45862-DAP: Plaintiff Kauai County, Hawaii .....	4993
1358.	Flushing Hospital Medical Center v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45866-DAP: Plaintiff Flushing Hospital Medical Center, New York .....	4996
1359.	City of Apopka, Florida v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45883-DAP: Plaintiff Apopka City, Florida .....	4998
1360.	City of Dothan, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45886-DAP: Plaintiff Dothan City, Alabama .....	5002
1361.	The Fiscal Court of Casey County, Kentucky v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45887- DAP: Plaintiff Casey County, Kentucky .....	5006
1362.	The Fiscal Court of Lewis County, Kentucky v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45889- DAP: Plaintiff Lewis County, Kentucky .....	5009
1363.	The Fiscal Court of Gallatin County, Kentucky v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45891- DAP: Plaintiff Gallatin County, Kentucky .....	5013
1364.	Okaloosa County, FL v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45894-DAP: Plaintiff Okaloosa County, Florida .....	5016
1365.	Mayflower Municipal Health Group et al. v. Johnson &amp; Johnson et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45897-DAP: Plaintiff Mayflower Municipal Health Group, Massachusetts.....	5020
1366.	City of Fredericksburg, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45898-DAP: Plaintiff Fredericksburg City, Virginia .....	5023
1367.	Incorporated Village of Garden City, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45902-DAP: Plaintiff Garden City Village, New Yor .....	5027
1368.	Incorporated Village of Island Park, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45903-DAP: Plaintiff Island Park Village, New York.....	5030
1369.	Wise County Board of Supervisors v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45907-DAP: Plaintiff Wise County, Virginia .....	5033
1370.	City of Vancouver v. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45908-DAP: Plaintiff Vancouver City, Washington.....	5036

1371.	Town of Vance, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45909-DAP: Plaintiff Vance Town, Alabama .....	5040
1372.	City of Brent, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45910-DAP: Plaintiff Brent City, Alabama .....	5044
1373.	City of Sweetwater, Florida v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45914-DAP: Plaintiff Sweetwater City, Florida .....	5048
1374.	Town of Rockford, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45915-DAP: Plaintiff Rockford Town, Alabama .....	5052
1375.	Dickey County v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45919-DAP: Plaintiff Dickey County, North Dakota .....	5056
1376.	Town of Easton v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45920-DAP: Plaintiff Easton Town, Massachusetts .....	5059
1377.	Village of Wappingers Falls, New York v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45922-DAP: Plaintiff Wappingers Falls Village, New York .....	5063
1378.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Mesa v. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45923-DAP: Plaintiff Mesa County, Colorado.....	5067
1379.	City of Norfolk, VA v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45926-DAP: Plaintiff Norfolk City, Virginia.....	5069
1380.	County of Burlington v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45928-DAP: Plaintiff Burlington County, New Jersey .....	5073
1381.	Prince George County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45929-DAP: Plaintiff Prince George County, Virginia .....	5077
1382.	Suffolk Transportation Services, Inc. v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45933-DAP: Plaintiff Suffolk Transportation Services, Inc., New York .....	5080
1383.	City of Pascagoula, Mississippi v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45934-DAP: Plaintiff Pascagoula City, Mississippi .....	5082
1384.	UOPW Local 175 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45940-DAP: Plaintiff UOPW Local 175 Welfare Fund, New York.....	5086
1385.	AFL-CIO Local 475 Health &amp; Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45941-DAP: Plaintiff AFL-CIO Local 475 Health & Welfare Fund, New York .....	5088
1386.	Local 381 Group Insurance Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45942-DAP: Plaintiff Local 381 Group Insurance Fund, New York .....	5091

1387.	IUOE Local 138 Health Benefit Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45943-DAP: Plaintiff IUOE Local 138 Health Benefit Fund, New York .....	5093
1388.	United Crafts Benefits Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45945-DAP: Plaintiff United Crafts Benefits Fund, New York.....	5095
1389.	Uniformed Fire Officers Association Benefits Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45946-DAP: Plaintiff Uniformed Fire Officers Association Benefits Fund, New York .....	5097
1390.	City of Huntsville, Alabama v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45947-DAP: Plaintiff Huntsville City, Alabama .....	5100
1391.	Village of Islandia, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45954-DAP: Plaintiff Islandia Village, New York .....	5104
1392.	Village of Amityville, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45955-DAP: Plaintiff Amityville Village, New York .....	5107
1393.	Brookhaven Ambulance Co., Inc. d/b/a South Country Ambulance v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45957-DAP: Plaintiff Brookhaven Ambulance Co., Inc. d/b/a South Country Ambulance, New York .....	5110
1394.	Fiscal Court of Grant County, Kentucky v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45961-DAP: Plaintiff Grant County, Kentucky .....	5112
1395.	City of San Jose, California et al. v. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45964-DAP: Plaintiff San Jose City, California.....	5116
1396.	City of Ocoee, Florida v. Endo Health Solutions, Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45966-DAP: Plaintiff Ocoee City, Florida.....	5120
1397.	Town of Southampton, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45968-DAP: Plaintiff Southampton Town, New York.....	5124
1398.	Coquille Indian Tribe v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45970-DAP: Plaintiff Coquille Indian Tribe, Oregon.....	5127
1399.	Confederated Tribes of the Goshute Reservation v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45972-DAP: Plaintiff Confederated Tribes of the Goshute Reservation, Nevada and Utah ....	5130
1400.	City of Homewood, Alabama v. Teva Pharmaceuticals et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45973-DAP: Plaintiff Homewood City, Alabama .....	5134
1401.	Pinoleville Pomo Nation v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45974-DAP: Plaintiff Pinoleville Pomo Nation, California ....	5138
1402.	Pueblo of Pojoaque v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45975-DAP: Plaintiff Pueblo of Pojoaque, New Mexico .....	5141

1403.	City of Greeley v. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45977-DAP: Plaintiff Greeley City, Colorado .....	5144
1404.	City of Columbia South Carolina v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45979-DAP: Plaintiff Columbia City, South Carolina.....	5146
1405.	City of Homestead, Florida v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45980-DAP: Plaintiff Homestead City, Florida .....	5150
1406.	City of Bainbridge Island v. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:19-op- 45981-DAP: Plaintiff Bainbridge Island City, Washington .....	5154
1407.	Macon County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45982-DAP: Plaintiff Macon County, Alabama .....	5157
1408.	Crenshaw County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45983-DAP: Plaintiff Crenshaw County, Alabama .....	5161
1409.	City of Palatka, Florida v. Endo Health Solutions Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45984-DAP: Plaintiff Palatka City, Florida .....	5166
1410.	County of Freestone v. Purdue Pharma L.P., et al. , Case No. 1:19- op-45985-DAP: Plaintiff Freestone County, Texas.....	5169
1411.	City of Geneva, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45986-DAP: Plaintiff Geneva City, Alabama.....	5173
1412.	Building Service Local 2 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45991-DAP: Plaintiff Building Service Local 2 Welfare Fund, New York.....	5177
1413.	Incorporated Village of Lawrence, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45992-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence Village, New York.....	5180
1414.	Westmoreland County, Virginia et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45993-DAP: Plaintiff Richmond County, Virginia .....	5183
1415.	Westmoreland County, Virginia et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45993-DAP: Plaintiff Warren County, Virginia .....	5186
1416.	Westmoreland County, Virginia et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45993-DAP: Plaintiff Westmoreland County, Virginia .....	5189
1417.	Coosa County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45995-DAP: Plaintiff Coosa County, Alabama .....	5192
1418.	Town of Andover v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA Inc et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45996-DAP: Plaintiff Andover Town, Massachusetts.....	5195
1419.	West Pittston, Pennsylvania v. The Purdue Frederick Company, Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45997-DAP: Plaintiff West Pittston Borough, Pennsylvania .....	5200

1420.	Village of Millerton, NY et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45998-DAP: Plaintiff Millerton Village, New York.....	5204
1421.	Incorporated Village of East Rockaway, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45999-DAP: Plaintiff East Rockaway Village, New York .....	5207
1422.	Incorporated Village of Floral Park v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46000-DAP: Plaintiff Floral Park Village, New York.....	5210
1423.	Village of Stewart Manor, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46002-DAP: Plaintiff Stewart Manor Village, New York.....	5213
1424.	South Farmingdale Fire District, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46003-DAP: Plaintiff South Farmingdale Fire District, New York .....	5217
1425.	Port Washington Water District, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46004-DAP: Plaintiff Port Washington Water District, New York.....	5220
1426.	City of Long Beach, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46005-DAP: Plaintiff Long Beach City, New York .....	5223
1427.	Plumbers Local Union No. 68 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46008-DAP: Plaintiff Plumbers Local Union No. 68 Welfare Fund, Texas.....	5226
1428.	Incorporated Village of Lynbrook, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46009-DAP: Plaintiff Lynbrook Village, New York.....	5229
1429.	Town of Eatonville, Florida v. Endo Health Solutions, Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46014-DAP: Plaintiff Eatonville Town, Florida .....	5232
1430.	Roslyn Water District, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46015-DAP: Plaintiff Roslyn Water District, New York 5236
1431.	Town of Brookhaven, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46018-DAP: Plaintiff Brookhaven Town, New York.....	5239
1432.	Village of Bellport, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46019-DAP: Plaintiff Bellport Village, New York.....	5242
1433.	Incorporated Village of New Hyde Park, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46022-DAP: Plaintiff New Hyde Park Village, New York .....	5245

1434.	Incorporated Village of Valley Stream, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46023-DAP: Plaintiff Valley Stream Village, New York.....	5248
1435.	Incorporated Village of Massapequa Park, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46024-DAP: Plaintiff Massapequa Park Village, New York.....	5251
1436.	Incorporated Village of Westbury, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46025-DAP: Plaintiff Westbury Village, New York.....	5255
1437.	Incorporated Village of Hempstead, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46026-DAP: Plaintiff Hempstead Village, New York.....	5259
1438.	Incorporated Village of Poquott, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46031-DAP: Plaintiff Poquott Village, New York	5262
1439.	Incorporated Village of Lake Grove, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46032-DAP: Plaintiff Lake Grove Village, New York.....	5265
1440.	Town of Smithtown, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46033-DAP: Plaintiff Smithtown Town, New York.....	5268
1441.	Bellmore Fire District, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46034-DAP: Plaintiff Bellmore Fire District, New York	5271
1442.	Town of Hempstead, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46035-DAP: Plaintiff Hempstead Town, New York .....	5274
1443.	Town of Riverhead, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46036-DAP: Plaintiff Riverhead Town, New York.....	5277
1444.	Incorporated Village of Farmingdale, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46037-DAP: Plaintiff Farmingdale Village, New York.....	5280
1445.	Town of Huntington, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46038-DAP: Plaintiff Huntington Town, New York.....	5282
1446.	Incorporated Village of Patchogue, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46039-DAP: Plaintiff Patchogue Village, New York.....	5285
1447.	Town of East Hampton, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46040-DAP: Plaintiff East Hampton Village, New York	5288
1448.	Town of Oyster Bay, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46041-DAP: Plaintiff Oyster Bay Town, New York .....	5291

1449. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners, Maryland .....5294
1450. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Bangor School Department, Maine.....5299
1451. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Cape Elizabeth School District, Maine 5303
1452. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299, Illinois .....5307
1453. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of East Aurora, School District 131, Illinois 5311
1454. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Ellsworth School Department, Maine 5314
1455. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Joliet Public Schools, Illinois.....5319
1456. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 10, Maine 5322
1457. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 13, Maine 5326
1458. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 25, Maine 5330
1459. The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 26, Maine 5335

1460.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 29, Maine 5339
1461.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 34, Maine 5343
1462.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 40, Maine 5348
1463.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 50, Maine 5352
1464.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 57, Maine 5356
1465.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 60, Maine 5361
1466.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 71, Maine 5365
1467.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 9, Maine 5369
1468.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 15, Maine .....	5374
1469.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 35, Maine .....	5378
1470.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP:

	Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 44, Maine .....	5383
1471.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 53, Maine .....	5387
1472.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 55, Maine .....	5392
1473.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 6, Maine .....	5397
1474.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 61, Maine .....	5401
1475.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 72, Maine .....	5406
1476.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 28/Five Town Central School District, Maine .....	5410
1477.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Miami-Dade County Public School District, Florida .....	5416
1478.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Portland School Department, Maine .....	5419
1479.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Rochester City School District, New York.....	5423
1480.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Scarborough School Department, Maine .....	5427

1481.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of South Portland School Department, Maine	5432
1482.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of St. George Municipal School District, Maine	5436
1483.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Thornton Fractional Township High Schools, District 215, Illinois	5441
1484.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205, Illinois	5445
1485.	The Board of Education of the City of Chicago, School District No. 299 v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46042-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Waterville School Department, Maine	5448
1486.	Town of North Hempstead, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46043-DAP: Plaintiff North Hempstead Town, New York	5453
1487.	City of Bayonne, New Jersey v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46044-DAP: Plaintiff Bayonne City, New Jersey	5456
1488.	City of Elizabeth, New Jersey v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46045-DAP: Plaintiff Elizabeth City, New Jersey	5459
1489.	Borough of Paramus, New Jersey v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46046-DAP: Plaintiff Paramus Borough, New Jersey	5463
1490.	Town of Babylon, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46047-DAP: Plaintiff Babylon Town, New York	5466
1491.	North Merrick Fire District, NY v. McKesson Corporation, et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46048-DAP: Plaintiff North Merrick Fire District, New York	5469
1492.	Uniondale Fire District, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46049-DAP: Plaintiff Uniondale Fire District, New York	5472

1493.	Incorporated Village of Northport, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46050-DAP: Plaintiff Northport Village, New York.....	5475
1494.	Village of Port Washington North, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46051-DAP: Plaintiff Port Washington North Village, New York.....	5478
1495.	Incorporated Village of Lloyd Harbor, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46052-DAP: Plaintiff Lloyd Harbor Village, New York.....	5482
1496.	The City of Dunwoody, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46054-DAP: Plaintiff Dunwoody City, Georgia.....	5485
1497.	Incorporated Village of West Hampton Dunes, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46055-DAP: Plaintiff West Hampton Dunes Village, New York.....	5489
1498.	The City of Doraville, Georgia v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46056-DAP: Plaintiff Doraville City, Georgia.....	5492
1499.	The City of Louisville, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46058-DAP: Plaintiff Louisville Town, Alabama.....	5495
1500.	The Health Care Authority of Cullman County et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46059-DAP: Plaintiff Cullman Regional Medical Center, Inc., Alabama.....	5499
1501.	The Health Care Authority of Cullman County et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46059-DAP: Plaintiff Health Care Authority of Cullman County, Alabama .....	5503
1502.	Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46061-DAP: Plaintiff Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, New York .....	5506
1503.	Incorporated Village of Babylon, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46062-DAP: Plaintiff Babylon Village, New York	5509
1504.	Incorporated Village of Nissequogue, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46063-DAP: Plaintiff Nissequogue Village, New York .....	5512
1505.	Incorporated Village of Lindenhurst, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46064-DAP: Plaintiff Lindenhurst Village, New York .....	5516

1506.	Rockville Centre Public Library v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46065-DAP: Plaintiff Rockville Centre Public Library, New York.....	5519
1507.	City of Alamogordo v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46067-DAP: Plaintiff Alamogordo City, New Mexico.....	5522
1508.	City of Hobbs, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46068-DAP: Plaintiff Hobbs City, New Mexico.....	5525
1509.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Hidalgo, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46069-DAP: Plaintiff Hidalgo County, New Mexico.....	5529
1510.	Atlantic County, New Jersey v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46071-DAP: Plaintiff Atlantic County, New Jersey .....	5531
1511.	Town of Clinton, MA v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46072-DAP: Plaintiff Clinton Town, Massachusetts .....	5535
1512.	City of New Port Richey v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46073-DAP: Plaintiff New Port Richey City, Florida .....	5540
1513.	Incorporated Village of Mill Neck, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46074-DAP: Plaintiff Mill Neck Village, New York.....	5543
1514.	Incorporated Village of Old Westbury, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46075-DAP: Plaintiff Old Westbury Village, New York .....	5547
1515.	City of Clifton, New Jersey v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46076-DAP: Plaintiff Clifton City, New Jersey.....	5550
1516.	Levittown Fire District, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46077-DAP: Plaintiff Levittown Fire District, New York 5553
1517.	Friendship Engine &amp; Hose Company, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46078-DAP: Plaintiff Friendship Engine & Hose Company, New York .....	5556
1518.	Town of Islip, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19- op-46079-DAP: Plaintiff Islip Town, New York .....	5559
1519.	Village of Saltaire, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46080-DAP: Plaintiff Saltaire Village, New York .....	5562

1520.	Town of Orangetown, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46081-DAP: Plaintiff Orangetown Town, New York .....	5566
1521.	Town of Haverstraw, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46083-DAP: Plaintiff Haverstraw Town, New York.....	5569
1522.	Village of Greenport, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46084-DAP: Plaintiff Greenport Village, New York.....	5572
1523.	Town of Clinton, New Jersey v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46085-DAP: Plaintiff Clinton Town, New Jersey .....	5576
1524.	Village of Suffern, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46087-DAP: Plaintiff Suffern Village, New York.....	5579
1525.	Town of Clarkstown, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46088-DAP: Plaintiff Clarkstown Town, New York.....	5582
1526.	Village of West Haverstraw, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46089-DAP: Plaintiff West Haverstraw Village, New York.....	5585
1527.	Town of Southold, NY v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46090-DAP: Plaintiff Southold Town, New York.....	5588
1528.	The Town of Wappingers Falls, New York v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46091-DAP: Plaintiff Wappinger Town, New York.....	5592
1529.	City of Spokane v. Endo Health Solutions Inc et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46092-DAP: Plaintiff Spokane City, Washington.....	5595
1530.	Merrick Library v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46097-DAP: Plaintiff Merrick Library, New York .....	5598
1531.	Dade County, Georgia v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46099-DAP: Plaintiff Dade County, Georgia .....	5601
1532.	Centereach Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46100-DAP: Plaintiff Centereach Fire District, New York.....	5604
1533.	City of Ashland, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46102-DAP: Plaintiff Ashland Town, Alabama .....	5607
1534.	City of Center Point, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46103-DAP: Plaintiff Center Point City, Alabama.....	5611
1535.	City of Buffalo v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46104-DAP: Plaintiff Buffalo City, New York .....	5615
1536.	United Wire, Metal &amp; Machine Local 810 Health Benefit Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46105-DAP: Plaintiff United Wire, Metal & Machine Local 810 Health Benefit Fund, New York.....	5619

1537.	Nesconset Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46106-DAP: Plaintiff Nesconset Fire District, New York.....	5622
1538.	Centerport Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46107-DAP: Plaintiff Centerport Fire District, New York.....	5625
1539.	Hauppauge Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46108-DAP: Plaintiff Hauppauge Fire District, New York.....	5628
1540.	Miller Place Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46109-DAP: Plaintiff Miller Place Fire District, New York.....	5631
1541.	Mount Sinai Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46110-DAP: Plaintiff Mount Sinai Fire District, New York.....	5633
1542.	Smithtown Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46111-DAP: Plaintiff Smithtown Fire District, New York.....	5636
1543.	Melville Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46112-DAP: Plaintiff Melville Fire District, New York.....	5639
1544.	Stony Brook Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46113-DAP: Plaintiff Stony Brook Fire District, New York.....	5642
1545.	Village of the Branch, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46114-DAP: Plaintiff Village of the Branch, New York.....	5645
1546.	City of Haleyville, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46118-DAP: Plaintiff Haleyville City, Alabama.....	5648
1547.	City of Centerville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46120-DAP: Plaintiff Centerville City, Alabama .....	5652
1548.	The City of Ormond Beach, Florida v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46121-DAP: Plaintiff Ormond Beach City, Florida.....	5656
1549.	Putnam County, Florida v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46122-DAP: Plaintiff Putnam County, Florida.....	5660
1550.	City of Brundidge, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46128-DAP: Plaintiff Brundidge City, Alabama .....	5663

1551.	City of Lanett, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46130-DAP: Plaintiff Lanett City, Alabama.....	5667
1552.	City of Headland, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46131-DAP: Plaintiff Headland City, Alabama.....	5670
1553.	City of Eufaula, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46132-DAP: Plaintiff Eufaula City, Alabama .....	5674
1554.	City of Middletown, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46133-DAP: Plaintiff Middletown City, Ohio .....	5678
1555.	Coos County et al. v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46136-DAP: Plaintiff Coos County, New Hampshire .....	5682
1556.	Carroll County v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46137-DAP: Plaintiff Carroll County, New Hampshire .....	5685
1557.	Livingston Parish v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46140-DAP: Plaintiff Livingston Parish, Louisiana.....	5688
1558.	City of Espanola, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46142-DAP: Plaintiff Española City, New Mexico .....	5693
1559.	City of Brookhaven, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46143-DAP: Plaintiff Brookhaven City, Mississippi .....	5695
1560.	Ridge Fire District, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46144-DAP: Plaintiff Ridge Fire District, New York	5699
1561.	Village of Great Neck, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46145-DAP: Plaintiff Great Neck Village, New York	5702
1562.	Teamsters Local 445 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46146-DAP: Plaintiff Teamsters Local 445 Welfare Fund, New York.....	5705
1563.	Roofers Local 8 WBPA Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46147-DAP: Plaintiff Roofers Local 8 WBPA Fund, New York.....	5708
1564.	Patrick County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46149-DAP: Plaintiff Patrick County, Virginia.....	5711
1565.	Shenandoah County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46150-DAP: Plaintiff Shenandoah County, Virginia.....	5715
1566.	Allegany County v. Purdue Pharma Lp et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46151-DAP: Plaintiff Allegany County, New York.....	5718

1567.	City of Waynesboro, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46152-DAP: Plaintiff Waynesboro City, Virginia.....	5722
1568.	Cumberland County, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46153-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland County, Virginia .....	5725
1569.	City of Radford, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46154-DAP: Plaintiff Radford City, Virginia .....	5729
1570.	County of Ocean, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46157-DAP: Plaintiff Ocean County, New Jersey .....	5733
1571.	City of Poughkeepsie v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46163-DAP: Plaintiff Poughkeepsie City, New York.....	5736
1572.	Clark County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46168-DAP: Plaintiff Clark County, Nevada .....	5740
1573.	Howard County, Maryland v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46169-DAP: Plaintiff Howard County, Maryland .....	5743
1574.	Town of Hull v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46172-DAP: Plaintiff Hull Town, Massachusetts.....	5747
1575.	Scott County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corp. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46174-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Missouri .....	5751
1576.	Borough of Edwardsville, Pennsylvania v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46176-DAP: Plaintiff Edwardsville Borough, Pennsylvania .....	5755
1577.	Forty Fort Borough, Pennsylvania v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46177-DAP: Plaintiff Forty Fort Borough, Pennsylvania.....	5759
1578.	City of Pontiac, Michigan v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46183-DAP: Plaintiff Pontiac City, Michigan .....	5764
1579.	Lawrence County, Kentucky v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46184-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Kentucky .....	5767
1580.	City of Emporia, Virginia v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-46850-DAP: Plaintiff Emporia City, Virginia .....	5771
1581.	Village of Pleasant Prairie Wisconsin v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Pleasant Prairie Village, Wisconsin .....	5775
1582.	City of Kenosha, Wisconsin v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45011-DAP: Plaintiff Kenosha City, Wisconsin.....	5779

1583.	Bath County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45012-DAP: Plaintiff Bath County, Kentucky .....	5782
1584.	County of Hawaii v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45014-DAP: Plaintiff Hawaii County, Hawaii .....	5786
1585.	Fiscal Court of Monroe County, Kentucky v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45016-DAP: Plaintiff Monroe County, Kentucky.....	5789
1586.	West Hempstead Public Library v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff West Hempstead Public Library, New York.....	5793
1587.	Hui Huliau, A Native Hawaiian Organization v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Hui Huliau, A Native Hawaiian Organization, Hawaii .....	5796
1588.	Hudson Regional Hospital v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45026-DAP: Plaintiff Hudson Regional Hospital, New Jersey .....	5799
1589.	Iron Workers Local 40 Health Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Iron Workers Local 40 Health Fund, New York.....	5801
1590.	Iron Workers Local 361 Health Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Iron Workers Local 361 Health Fund, New York.....	5803
1591.	Iron Workers Local 417 Health Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45029-DAP: Plaintiff Iron Workers Local 417 Health Fund, New York.....	5806
1592.	Metallic Lathers and Reinforcing Iron Workers Local 46 Health &amp; Benefit Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45030-DAP: Plaintiff Metallic Lathers and Reinforcing Iron Workers Local 46 Health & Benefit Fund, New York .....	5808
1593.	UFCW Local 342 Healthcare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff UFCW Local 342 Healthcare Fund, New York .....	5811
1594.	UFCW Local 342 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45034-DAP: Plaintiff UFCW Local 342 Welfare Fund, New York.....	5814
1595.	St. James Fire District v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45035-DAP: Plaintiff St James Fire District, New York.....	5817
1596.	Town of Stony Point, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Stony Point Town, New York	5820

1597.	IBEW Local 25 Health &amp; Benefit Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45037-DAP: Plaintiff IBEW Local 25 Health & Benefit Fund, New York .....	5823
1598.	Tishomingo County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45039-DAP: Plaintiff Tishomingo County, Mississippi .....	5826
1599.	UFCW Local 1500 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45041-DAP: Plaintiff UFCW Local 1500 Welfare Fund, New York.....	5829
1600.	Town of Ramapo, New York v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45042-DAP: Plaintiff Ramapo Town, New York .....	5831
1601.	City of Milwaukee, Wisconsin v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45044-DAP: Plaintiff Milwaukee City, Wisconsin.....	5835
1602.	Amherst County, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45046-DAP: Plaintiff Amherst County, Virginia .....	5839
1603.	Narragansett Indian Tribe v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45047-DAP: Plaintiff Narragansett Indian Tribe, Rhode Island .....	5842
1604.	Medford Volunteer Ambulance v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45048-DAP: Plaintiff Medford Volunteer Ambulance, New York .....	5845
1605.	Islip Terrace Fire District v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Islip Terrace Fire District, New York .....	5848
1606.	North Patchogue Fire District v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45050-DAP: Plaintiff North Patchogue Fire District, New York.....	5850
1607.	City of Calais, Maine v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Calais City, Maine .....	5853
1608.	County of Angelina v. Allergan PLC, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45053-DAP: Plaintiff Angelina County, Texas .....	5857
1609.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff Anaheim City, California .....	5861
1610.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff Encinitas City, California .....	5864
1611.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff La Habra City, California .....	5867
1612.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff La Mesa City, California .....	5870

1613.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff Oxnard City, California .....	5872
1614.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff Placentia City, California .....	5875
1615.	County of Alameda et al. v. Richard S. Sackler et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45055-DAP: Plaintiff Santa Ana City, California.....	5877
1616.	The Fiscal Court of Adair County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45059-DAP: Plaintiff Adair County, Kentucky .....	5880
1617.	City of Henderson v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45062-DAP: Plaintiff Henderson City, Kentucky .....	5884
1618.	Hardin County Fiscal Court et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45063-DAP: Plaintiff Ohio County, Kentucky .....	5888
1619.	Botetourt County, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45064-DAP: Plaintiff Botetourt County, Virginia .....	5891
1620.	Hicksville Water District v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45072-DAP: Plaintiff Hicksville Water District, New York .....	5895
1621.	Williams v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45073-DAP: Plaintiff Sonji B. Williams, administratrix of The Estate of Tyler Michael Wain Williams, North Carolina .....	5898
1622.	The Fiscal Court of Edmonson County v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45084-DAP: Plaintiff Edmonson County, Kentucky .....	5900
1623.	Wyoming, Pennsylvania v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45087-DAP: Plaintiff Wyoming Borough, Pennsylvania.....	5904
1624.	City of Leeds, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L P et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45088-DAP: Plaintiff Leeds City, Alabama .....	5907
1625.	Fairfield, City of, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45089-DAP: Plaintiff Fairfield City, Alabama .....	5911
1626.	Sugar Notch Borough, Pennsylvania v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45090-DAP: Plaintiff Sugar Notch Borough, Pennsylvania .....	5916
1627.	Pell City, Alabama, City of v. Purdue Pharma LP et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45091-DAP: Plaintiff Pell City, Alabama.....	5920
1628.	Stevens v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45092-DAP: Plaintiff Susan K. Stevens, administratrix of The Estate of Toria Captri Stevens, North Carolina .....	5923
1629.	City of Level Plains, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45100-DAP: Plaintiff Level Plains Town, Alabama.....	5926

1630.	Kickapoo Traditional Tribe of Texas v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45104-DAP: Plaintiff Kickapoo Traditional Tribe of Texas, Texas .....	5930
1631.	Geneva County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. , Case No. 1:20-op-45105-DAP: Plaintiff Geneva County, Alabama .....	5933
1632.	Leysen v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45107-DAP: Plaintiff Patty Carol Leysen, administrator of The Estate of Brian Keith Johnston, North Carolina .....	5937
1633.	City of Luverne, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Luverne City, Alabama.....	5939
1634.	Rapides Parish Police Jury v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corp et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45111-DAP: Plaintiff Rapides Parish, Louisiana.....	5943
1635.	Escambia County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45112-DAP: Plaintiff Escambia County, Alabama.....	5947
1636.	City of Chickasaw, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45115-DAP: Plaintiff Chickasaw City, Alabama .....	5951
1637.	City of Satsuma, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45116-DAP: Plaintiff Satsuma City, Alabama .....	5955
1638.	City of Uniontown, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Uniontown Town, Alabama.....	5959
1639.	City of Linden, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45118-DAP: Plaintiff Linden City, Alabama.....	5963
1640.	Town of Dauphin Island, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45119-DAP: Plaintiff Dauphin Island Town, Alabama .....	5967
1641.	Town of Sweet Water, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45120-DAP: Plaintiff Sweet Water Town, Alabama .....	5971
1642.	City of Kirkland v. Endo Health Solutions Inc et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45121-DAP: Plaintiff Kirkland City, Washington.....	5975
1643.	Town of Faunsdale, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Faunsdale Town, Alabama .....	5978
1644.	Phillip Terrell v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corp et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45123-DAP: Plaintiff District Attorney of Rapides Parish, Louisiana.....	5982
1645.	King and Queen County, VA v. Mallinckrodt, PLC, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45138-DAP: Plaintiff King and Queen County, Virginia.....	5987
1646.	Adams County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45140-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Pennsylvania.....	5991

1647.	City of Fullerton et al. v. Cephalon Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Fullerton City, California .....	5994
1648.	Northampton County, VA v. Mallinckrodt, PLC , Case No. 1:20-op-45144-DAP: Plaintiff Northampton County, Virginia.....	5997
1649.	Isle of Wight County v. Mallinckrodt, PLC , Case No. 1:20-op-45145-DAP: Plaintiff Isle of Wight County, Virginia.....	6001
1650.	IBEW Local 716 Electrical Medical Trust v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45148-DAP: Plaintiff IBEW Local 716 Electrical Medical Trust, Texas .....	6005
1651.	The People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45154-DAP: Plaintiff Sangamon County, Illinois.....	6008
1652.	Perry County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45158-DAP: Plaintiff Perry County, Alabama .....	6012
1653.	City of Buena Vista, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45159-DAP: Plaintiff Buena Vista City, Virginia .....	6016
1654.	Mohegan Tribe of Indians of Connecticut v. Endo Health Solutions Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45164-DAP: Plaintiff Mohegan Tribe of Indians of Connecticut, Connecticut .....	6020
1655.	Elko Band of the Te-Moak Tribe of Western Shoshone Indians v. Endo Health Solutions, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45165-DAP: Plaintiff Elko Band of the Te-Moak Tribe of Western Shoshone Indians, Nevada.....	6023
1656.	Stone County, Mississippi v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45168-DAP: Plaintiff Stone County, Mississippi .....	6026
1657.	Seeley v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45169-DAP: Plaintiff Christopher Seeley, as temporary administrator of the Estate of Jennifer Kaczor, deceased, and as guardian of Jocelyn Kaczor, New York .....	6030
1658.	Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head (Aquinnah) v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45170-DAP: Plaintiff Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head (Aquinnah), Massachusetts.....	6033
1659.	Henrico County, VA v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45172-DAP: Plaintiff Henrico County, Virginia.....	6036
1660.	Chesterfield County, VA v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Chesterfield County, Virginia.....	6040
1661.	Mecklenburg County, VA v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45174-DAP: Plaintiff Mecklenburg County, Virginia.....	6044
1662.	Goochland County, VA v. Mallinckrodt, PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45175-DAP: Plaintiff Goochland County, Virginia.....	6048

1663.	City of Winchester, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45176-DAP: Plaintiff Winchester City, Virginia.....	6052
1664.	City of Fairfax, VA v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45177-DAP: Plaintiff Fairfax City, Virginia .....	6056
1665.	Stafford County, VA v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45178-DAP: Plaintiff Stafford County, Virginia.....	6059
1666.	Bedford County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45184-DAP: Plaintiff Bedford County, Pennsylvania.....	6063
1667.	City of Chico et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45189-DAP: Plaintiff Chico City, California.....	6066
1668.	Hinds County, Mississippi v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc., et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45190-DAP: Plaintiff Hinds County, Mississippi .....	6069
1669.	City of West Frankfort, Illinois v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45191-DAP: Plaintiff West Frankfort City, Illinois .....	6071
1670.	City of Herrin, Illinois v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45192-DAP: Plaintiff Herrin City, Illinois.....	6074
1671.	People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45194-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Illinois.....	6077
1672.	City of Madison, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45198-DAP: Plaintiff Madison City, Alabama .....	6080
1673.	City of Maryville, Tennessee et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45199-DAP: Plaintiff Decatur Town, Tennessee.....	6084
1674.	City of Maryville, Tennessee et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45199-DAP: Plaintiff Germantown City, Tennessee .....	6088
1675.	City of Maryville, Tennessee et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45199-DAP: Plaintiff Maryville City, Tennessee .....	6092
1676.	City of Maryville, Tennessee et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45199-DAP: Plaintiff Pigeon Forge City, Tennessee.....	6096
1677.	City of Maryville, Tennessee et al. v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD, et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45199-DAP: Plaintiff Ripley City, Tennessee .....	6100

1678.	DeKalb County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45209-DAP: Plaintiff DeKalb County, Alabama.....	6103
1679.	DeKalb County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45209-DAP: Plaintiff Powell Town, Alabama.....	6107
1680.	City of Oneonta, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45210-DAP: Plaintiff Oneonta City, Alabama.....	6111
1681.	City of Marion, Illinois v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, Ltd. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45215-DAP: Plaintiff Marion City, Illinois .....	6115
1682.	Town of Dandridge, Tennessee v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45216-DAP: Plaintiff Dandridge Town, Tennessee.....	6119
1683.	Town of Cleveland, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45217-DAP: Plaintiff Cleveland Town, Alabama.....	6121
1684.	Town of Cleveland, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45217-DAP: Plaintiff Gurley Town, Alabama.....	6125
1685.	Town of Cleveland, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45217-DAP: Plaintiff Priceville Town, Alabama .....	6128
1686.	City of Killen, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45218-DAP: Plaintiff Killen Town, Alabama .....	6131
1687.	Ard v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45220-DAP: Plaintiff Sheriff of Livingston Parish, Louisiana .....	6135
1688.	City of Daphne, Alabama v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45227-DAP: Plaintiff Daphne City, Alabama.....	6139
1689.	Wayne Farms, LLC v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45229-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne Farms, LLC, Oklahoma.....	6143
1690.	Poarch Band of Creek Indians v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals, LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45231-DAP: Plaintiff Poarch Band of Creek Indians, Alabama .....	6146
1691.	Frederick County, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45233-DAP: Plaintiff Frederick County, Virginia.....	6151
1692.	City of Lakeport et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45242-DAP: Plaintiff Lakeport City, California .....	6154

1693.	Municipality of Cidra, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45244-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Cidra, Puerto Rico.....	6157
1694.	Municipality of Adjuntas, Puerto Rico v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45245-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Adjuntas, Puerto Rico .....	6160
1695.	Fond du Lac Band of Lake Superior Chippewa v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45250-DAP: Plaintiff Fond du Lac Band of Lake Superior Chippewa, Ohio .....	6164
1696.	City of Clearlake et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45251-DAP: Plaintiff Clearlake City, California .....	6166
1697.	City of Dublin et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op- 45255-DAP: Plaintiff Dublin City, California.....	6169
1698.	City of Dublin et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op- 45255-DAP: Plaintiff Murrieta City, California.....	6171
1699.	Fultondale, Alabama, City of et al. v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45265-DAP: Plaintiff Attalla City, Alabama .....	6174
1700.	Fultondale, Alabama, City of et al. v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45265-DAP: Plaintiff Camp Hill Town, Alabama.....	6178
1701.	Fultondale, Alabama, City of et al. v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45265-DAP: Plaintiff Cedar Bluff Town, Alabama.....	6182
1702.	Fultondale, Alabama, City of et al. v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45265-DAP: Plaintiff Centre City, Alabama .....	6186
1703.	Fultondale, Alabama, City of et al. v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45265-DAP: Plaintiff Fultondale City, Alabama .....	6190
1704.	Fultondale, Alabama, City of et al. v. Amneal Pharmaceuticals LLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45265-DAP: Plaintiff Graysville City, Alabama .....	6193
1705.	Municipality of Barceloneta v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45267-DAP: Plaintiff Municipality of Barceloneta, Puerto Rico.....	6198
1706.	City of Muscle Shoals, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45268-DAP: Plaintiff Muscle Shoals City, Alabama.....	6201

1707.	City of Northport, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45272-DAP: Plaintiff Brookwood Town, Alabama .....	6204
1708.	City of Northport, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45272-DAP: Plaintiff Northport City, Alabama .....	6208
1709.	City of Northport, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45272-DAP: Plaintiff Robertsedale City, Alabama .....	6211
1710.	Monroe County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45273-DAP: Plaintiff Monroe County, Alabama.....	6214
1711.	Monroe County, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45273-DAP: Plaintiff Monroeville City, Alabama .....	6218
1712.	Town of Millis, MA v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45275-DAP: Plaintiff Millis Town, Massachusetts .....	6221
1713.	Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners, Maryland .....	6224
1714.	Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Bangor School Department, Maine .....	6228
1715.	Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Cape Elizabeth School District, Maine 6232
1716.	Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of East Aurora, School District 131, Illinois 6236
1717.	Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Ellsworth School Department, Maine 6239
1718.	Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Joliet Public Schools, Illinois.....	6243

- 1719. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 10, Maine 6246
- 1720. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 13, Maine 6250
- 1721. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 25, Maine 6254
- 1722. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 26, Maine 6258
- 1723. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 29, Maine 6262
- 1724. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 34, Maine 6266
- 1725. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 40, Maine 6270
- 1726. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 50, Maine 6274
- 1727. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 57, Maine 6278
- 1728. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 60, Maine 6282
- 1729. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP:

Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 71,
Maine 6286

1730. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine Regional School Unit 9, Maine 6290
1731. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 15, Maine .....6294
1732. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 35, Maine .....6298
1733. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 44, Maine .....6302
1734. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 53, Maine .....6306
1735. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 55, Maine .....6310
1736. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 6, Maine .....6314
1737. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 61, Maine .....6318
1738. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 72, Maine .....6322
1739. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 28/Five Town Central School District, Maine .....6327

1740. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Maine School Administrative District 11, Maine .....6331
1741. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Mason County Public Schools, West Virginia .....6335
1742. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Portland School Department, Maine 6338
1743. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Rochester City School District, New York .....6342
1744. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Scarborough School Department, Maine 6346
1745. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of South Portland School Department, Maine 6350
1746. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of St. George Municipal School District, Maine .....6354
1747. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Thornton Fractional Township High Schools, District 215, Illinois .....6358
1748. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205, Illinois .....6361
1749. Board of Education of Thornton Township High Schools, District 205 et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al., Case No. 1:20-op-45281-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Waterville School Department, Maine 6364

1750.	City of Auburn, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45282-DAP: Plaintiff Auburn City, Alabama .....	6368
1751.	Lower Makefield Township v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45284-DAP: Plaintiff Lower Makefield Township, Pennsylvania .....	6372
1752.	Poarch Band of Creek Indians v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation , Case No. 1:20-op-45285-DAP: Plaintiff Poarch Band of Creek Indians, Alabama .....	6375
1753.	Poarch Band of Creek Indians v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45286-DAP: Plaintiff Poarch Band of Creek Indians, Alabama .....	6379
1754.	Dinwiddie County v. Mallinckrodt, PLC et al. , Case No. 1:20-op-45291-DAP: Plaintiff Dinwiddie County, Virginia .....	6383
1755.	Poarch Band of Creek Indians v. Cardinal Health, Inc. , Case No. 1:20-op-45294-DAP: Plaintiff Poarch Band of Creek Indians, Alabama .....	6387
1756.	District Attorney of Clearfield County v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45022-DAP: Plaintiff District Attorney of Clearfield County, Pennsylvania .....	6390
1757.	Sheet Metal Workers Local 19 Health Fund v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Sheet Metal Workers Local 19 Health Fund, Pennsylvania .....	6394
1758.	Middletown Township v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45030-DAP: Plaintiff Middletown Township, Pennsylvania .....	6397
1759.	Pennington County, South Dakota v. Mylan Pharmaceuticals, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45048-DAP: Plaintiff Pennington County, South Dakota.....	6399
1760.	City of Piedmont, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Piedmont City, Alabama.....	6403
1761.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Cerro Gordo County, Iowa.....	6406
1762.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Chickasaw County, Iowa.....	6408
1763.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Emmet County, Iowa.....	6410
1764.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Jones County, Iowa .....	6412

1765.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, Iowa .....	6414
1766.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Muscatine County, Iowa.....	6416
1767.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Osceola County, Iowa .....	6418
1768.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Poweshiek County, Iowa.....	6421
1769.	Appanoose County et al. v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Wright County, Iowa.....	6423
1770.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Luna v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45056-DAP: Plaintiff Luna County, New Mexico.....	6424
1771.	Board of County Commissioners of The County of Union v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45057-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, New Mexico .....	6426
1772.	City of Las Cruces, New Mexico v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45059-DAP: Plaintiff Las Cruces City, New Mexico.....	6428
1773.	St. John's Riverside Hospital v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45063-DAP: Plaintiff St. John's Riverside Hospital, New York.....	6431
1774.	Transitions Recovery Program v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45066-DAP: Plaintiff Transitions Recovery Program, Florida .....	6433
1775.	Teamsters Local 456 Welfare Fund v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45067-DAP: Plaintiff Teamsters Local 456 Welfare Fund, New York.....	6434
1776.	City of Calera, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Coropration et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45070-DAP: Plaintiff Calera City, Alabama .....	6437
1777.	City of Gatlinburg, Tennessee v. Teva Pharmaceutical Industries, LTD et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45071-DAP: Plaintiff Gatlinburg City, Tennessee .....	6440
1778.	County Board of Arlington County, Virginia v. Mallinckrodt PLC, et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45078-DAP: Plaintiff Arlington County, Virginia .....	6443
1779.	City of Niceville Florida v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45081-DAP: Plaintiff Niceville City, Florida.....	6446

1780.	Russell, KY et al. v. Abbott Laboratories et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45094-DAP: Plaintiff Russell City, Kentucky.....	6449
1781.	Village of Lexington v. Actavis LLC et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Lexington Village, Ohio.....	6452
1782.	Threadgill v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45118-DAP: Plaintiff Shannon Lee Threadgill, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child K.R.T., Washington .....	6455
1783.	Vincent v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45119-DAP: Plaintiff Beth Vincent, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child S.J.S, Kentucky .....	6458
1784.	Rubin v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45121-DAP: Plaintiff Adam Matthew Rubin, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child C.A.R., New York .....	6460
1785.	Rubin v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Adam Matthew Rubin, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child C.M.R., New York .....	6462
1786.	Rubin v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45123-DAP: Plaintiff Adam Matthew Rubin, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child C.J.R., New York .....	6464
1787.	Farrell v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45124-DAP: Plaintiff Maryann Farrell, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child A.N.F., Pennsylvania .....	6466
1788.	Funston v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45125-DAP: Plaintiff Christopher Michael Funston, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child C.C.F., Missouri .....	6468
1789.	MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, a , Case No. 1:21-op-45126-DAP: Plaintiff Tiffany Nicole Burcham, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child L.R.K., Indiana.....	6470
1790.	Moser et al. v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45127-DAP: Plaintiff Rachel Renee Moser, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child A.W.J., Florida .....	6472
1791.	Aanestad v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45128-DAP: Plaintiff Christina Marie Aanestad, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child P.J.A., California.....	6474
1792.	Rowaihy v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45129-DAP: Plaintiff Marsha Marie Rowaihy, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child J.J.A., Missouri.....	6475
1793.	Calkins v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45130-DAP: Plaintiff Vada Elizabeth Calkins, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child D.V.L.C., Missouri .....	6477

1794.	Carpenter v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45131-DAP: Plaintiff Holly Janelle Carpenter, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child C.M.C., Maryland .....	6479
1795.	Chapman v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Thomas Wayne Chapman, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child V.D.C., Alabama.....	6481
1796.	Covington v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45133-DAP: Plaintiff Regina Marie Covington, individually and as next of friend and guardian of Child K.W.C.C., Missouri.....	6484
1797.	Creech v. McKesson Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:21-op-45134-DAP: Plaintiff Christopher Creech, individually and as next friend and guardian of Child L.R.C., New Mexico .....	6486
1798.	Board of County Commissioners of the County of Torrance v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45004-DAP: Plaintiff Torrance County, New Mexico.....	6488
1799.	County of Coryell v. Walgreens Co. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45009-DAP: Plaintiff Coryell County, Texas.....	6489
1800.	County of Kendall v. Walgreens Co. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Kendall County, Texas .....	6493
1801.	Eddy County v. Allergan PLC et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45015-DAP: Plaintiff Eddy County, New Mexico .....	6496
1802.	City of Columbiana, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45016-DAP: Plaintiff Columbiana City, Alabama.....	6498
1803.	City of Columbiana, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45016-DAP: Plaintiff Helena City, Alabama .....	6502
1804.	City of Columbiana, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45016-DAP: Plaintiff Pelham City, Alabama .....	6505
1805.	City of Bay Minette, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Bay Minette City, Alabama.....	6508
1806.	City of Bay Minette, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Loxley Town, Alabama.....	6511
1807.	City of Bay Minette, Alabama et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Summerdale Town, Alabama.....	6514

1808.	City of Gulf Shores, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45019-DAP: Plaintiff Gulf Shores City, Alabama .....	6517
1809.	City of Childersburg, Alabama v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45020-DAP: Plaintiff Childersburg City, Alabama .....	6520
1810.	Board of Education of Boardman Local Schools et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Board Of Education of Boardman Local Schools, Ohio.....	6523
1811.	Board of Education of Boardman Local Schools et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Board of Education of Liberty Local Schools, Ohio .....	6526
1812.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45057-DAP: Plaintiff MSPA Claims I, LLC, Ohio .....	6530
1813.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45057-DAP: Plaintiff MAO-MSO Recovery II, LLC, Ohio 6533
1814.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45057-DAP: Plaintiff MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, Ohio 6537
1815.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Anda, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45526-DAP: Plaintiff MSPA Claims I, LLC, Florida.....	6540
1816.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Anda, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45526-DAP: Plaintiff MAO-MSO Recovery II, LLC, Florida.....	6544
1817.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Anda, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45526-DAP: Plaintiff MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, Florida .....	6548
1818.	MSPA Claims I, LLC et al. v. Anda, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45526-DAP: Plaintiff MSP Recovery Services LLC, Florida .....	6552
1819.	International Union of Painters and Allied Trades 1974 v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45854-DAP: Plaintiff International Union of Painters and Allied Trades 1974, New York ....	6556
1820.	Building Trades Welfare Benefit Fund et. al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et. al. , Case No. 1:19-op-45899-DAP: Plaintiff Building Trades Welfare Benefit Fund, New York .....	6559
1821.	SERIES 17-03-615, a designated series of MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, v. Par Pharmaceutical , Case No. 1:21-op-45079-DAP: Plaintiff SERIES 17-03-615, a designated series of MSP Recovery Claims, Series LLC, a Delaware series limited liability company, Florida .....	6563

1822.	Putnam County School Board v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Putnam County School Board, Florida	6566
1823.	Hancock County Board of Education et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Hamblen County Board of Education, Tennessee	6569
1824.	Hancock County Board of Education et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Hancock County Board of Education, Tennessee	6572
1825.	Marion County Board of Education et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Kanawha County Board of Education, West Virginia	6574
1826.	Marion County Board of Education et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County Board of Education, West Virginia	6577
1827.	Marion County Board of Education et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff McDowell County Board of Education, West Virginia	6580
1828.	Marion County Board of Education et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Wyoming County Board of Education, West Virginia	6582
1829.	Susanville Elementary School District et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45031-DAP: Plaintiff Lassen County Office of Education, California	6584
1830.	Susanville Elementary School District et al. v. Cephalon, Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:22-op-45031-DAP: Plaintiff Susanville Elementary School District, California	6586
1831.	Lee County, AL et al. v. Mylan Pharmaceuticals Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:23-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Lee County, Alabama	6588
1832.	Lee County, AL et al. v. Mylan Pharmaceuticals Inc. et al. , Case No. 1:23-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Winston County, Alabama	6591
1833.	Cleveland County v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al. , Case No. 1:18-op-45304-DAP: Plaintiff Cleveland County, North Carolina	6593
CONCLUSION		6597

C. Each individual Moving Plaintiff should be denied leave to amend.

1. City of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45000-DAP: Plaintiff Lorain City, Ohio

Lorain City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lorain City previously dismissed its claims against some of the PBMs with prejudice in another case. Moreover, Lorain City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lorain City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lorain City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lorain City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Prior Dismissal with Prejudice. Lorain City previously dismissed its claims against Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Express Scripts, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; and OptumRx, Inc.; with prejudice in another case. See County of Cuyahoga et al. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. et al., Case No. 1:23-op-45003 (N.D. Ohio), ECF No. 50. That dismissal "operates as a final adjudication on the merits and has a res judicata effect." Warfield v. AlliedSignal TBS Holdings, Inc., 267 F.3d 538, 542 (6th Cir. 2001); see also Taylor v. United States Gov't, 21 F. App'x 264, 266 (6th Cir. 2001) ("A dismissal with prejudice [by stipulation of the parties] operates as a rejection of the plaintiff's claims on the merits and the doctrine of claim preclusion bars further litigation."). Lorain City's proposed claims against Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Express Scripts, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group

Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; and OptumRx, Inc.; are therefore barred by res judicata and leave to amend should be denied as futile. See Gale v. Charter Twp. of Filer Bd. of Trustees, 142 F. Supp. 3d 549, 554–55 (W.D. Mich. 2015) (“[A] stipulated dismissal with prejudice constitutes an adjudication on the merits” and denying motion for leave to amend complaint when “[p]laintiffs fail to allege any claim within this Court’s federal question jurisdiction that would not be barred by res judicata.”).

Lack of Diligence. Lorain City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lorain City amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 12, 2017. See City of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45000-DAP, ECF No. 68. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lorain City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lorain City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Lorain City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lorain City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lorain City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Lorain City—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lorain City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lorain City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Lorain City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lorain City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Lorain City violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Lorain City filed its original complaint on June 29, 2017, but waited until November 5, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—one year and four months later. See City of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45000-DAP, ECF No. 1-2; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: November 5, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Lorain City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Lorain City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Lorain City’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Lorain City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lorain City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lorain City, an Ohio municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Lorain City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Lorain City’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lorain City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lorain City filed its amended complaint on March 18, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45000-DAP, ECF No. 68. It is therefore indisputable that Lorain City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Lorain City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lorain City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lorain City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

2. City of Parma v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45001-DAP: Plaintiff Parma City, Ohio

Parma City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Parma City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Parma City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Parma City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Parma City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Parma City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Parma City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 12, 2017. See City of Parma v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45001-DAP, ECF No. 54. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Parma City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Parma City's deadline to amend was in 2019.

Parma City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Parma City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Furthermore, in 2023, Parma City filed a separate complaint in this MDL asserting new claims for public nuisance and negligence against Express Scripts, Inc.; Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; OptumRx, Inc.; and other defendants. See Cuyahoga County et al. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. et al., No. 1:23-op-45003 (N.D. Ohio), ECF No. 1. Parma City offers no good cause for its failure to bring its proposed claims against all PBMs in the 2023 case, which is still pending. In addition, Parma City's improper claim-splitting between these two separate cases in the MDL should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App'x at 260–63 (affirming dismissal for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff's claims in a later-filed case were "duplicative of and improperly split" from an earlier-filed case).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Parma City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Parma City—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Parma City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Parma City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Parma City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Parma City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Parma City violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Parma City filed its original complaint on August 9, 2017, but waited until February 26, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—six months later. See City of Parma v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45001-DAP, ECF No. 1-2; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: February 26, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Parma City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Parma City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Parma City’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Parma City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Parma City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Parma City, an Ohio municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Parma City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Parma City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Parma City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Parma City filed its amended complaint on March 15, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Parma v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45001-DAP, ECF No. 54. It is therefore indisputable that Parma City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Parma City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Parma City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Parma City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

3. County of Cuyahoga v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45004-DAP: Plaintiff Cuyahoga County, Ohio

Cuyahoga County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cuyahoga County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cuyahoga County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cuyahoga County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Cuyahoga County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cuyahoga County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cuyahoga County amended its complaint on April 25, 2018, after joining the MDL, as well as on May 30, 2018, and December 19, 2019. See County of Cuyahoga v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45004-DAP, ECF Nos. 27, 35, MDL ECF No. 3021. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cuyahoga County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Cuyahoga County’s deadline to amend was in 2019.

Cuyahoga County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cuyahoga County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Furthermore, in 2023, Cuyahoga County filed a separate complaint in this MDL asserting new claims for public nuisance and negligence against Express Scripts, Inc.; Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; OptumRx, Inc.; and other defendants. See Cuyahoga County et al. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. et al., No. 1:23-op-45003 (N.D. Ohio), ECF No. 1. Cuyahoga County offers no good cause for its failure to bring its proposed claims against all PBMs in the 2023 case, which is still pending. In addition, Cuyahoga County’s improper claim-splitting between these two separate cases in the MDL should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App’x at 260–63 (affirming dismissal for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff’s claims in a later-filed case were “duplicative of and improperly split” from an earlier-filed case).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Cuyahoga County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Cuyahoga County—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Cuyahoga County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cuyahoga County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Cuyahoga County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cuyahoga County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cuyahoga County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.45% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cuyahoga County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Cuyahoga County filed its original complaint on October 27, 2017, but waited until February 20, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See County of Cuyahoga v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45004-DAP, ECF No. 1-2; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: February 20, 2018). Cuyahoga County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cuyahoga County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cuyahoga County, an Ohio municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Cuyahoga County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Cuyahoga County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cuyahoga County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cuyahoga County filed its second amended complaint on May 30, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Cuyahoga v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45004-DAP, ECF No. 35. It is therefore indisputable that Cuyahoga County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Cuyahoga County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cuyahoga County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cuyahoga County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

4. City of Toledo v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Toledo City, Ohio

Toledo City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Toledo City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Toledo City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Toledo City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Toledo City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Toledo City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Toledo City amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after joining the MDL. See City of Toledo

v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Toledo City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Toledo City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Toledo City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Toledo City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Furthermore, in 2023, Toledo City filed a separate complaint in this MDL asserting new claims for public nuisance and negligence against Express Scripts, Inc.; Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; OptumRx, Inc.; and other defendants. See Cuyahoga County et al. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. et al., No. 1:23-op-45003 (N.D. Ohio), ECF No. 1. Toledo City offers no good cause for its failure to bring its proposed claims against all PBMs in the 2023 case, which is still pending. In addition, Toledo City’s improper claim-splitting between these two separate cases in the MDL should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App’x at 260–63 (affirming dismissal for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff’s claims in a later-filed case were “duplicative of and improperly split” from an earlier-filed case).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Toledo City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Toledo City—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Toledo City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Toledo City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Toledo City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Toledo City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Toledo City filed its original complaint on October 30, 2017, but waited until March 1, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See City of Toledo v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1-2; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: March 1, 2018). Toledo City’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Toledo City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Toledo City, an Ohio municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Toledo City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Toledo City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Toledo City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Toledo City filed its amended complaint on March 18, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Toledo v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 27. It is therefore indisputable that Toledo City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Toledo City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Toledo City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Toledo City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

5. Anderson County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45006-DAP: Plaintiff Anderson County, Kentucky

Anderson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Anderson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Anderson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Anderson County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Anderson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Anderson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Anderson County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Anderson County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45006-DAP, ECF No. 9. Anderson County amended its complaint again on March 8, 2019. See Anderson County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45006-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Anderson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Anderson County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Anderson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Anderson County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Anderson County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Anderson County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Anderson County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Anderson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.001% market share for Anderson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Anderson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Anderson County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.37% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Anderson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Anderson County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Anderson County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45006-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Anderson County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Anderson County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Anderson County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Anderson County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Anderson County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Anderson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Anderson County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Anderson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Anderson County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Anderson County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45006-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Anderson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Anderson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Anderson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Anderson County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

6. Franklin County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45007-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Kentucky

Franklin County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Franklin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Franklin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Franklin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Franklin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Franklin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Franklin County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Franklin County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45007-DAP, ECF No. 9. Franklin County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Franklin County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45007-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Franklin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Franklin County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Franklin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Franklin County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Franklin County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Franklin County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Franklin County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Franklin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.003% market share for Franklin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Franklin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Franklin County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl.,

Exhibit C (0.20% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Franklin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Franklin County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Franklin County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, but waited until September 26, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—seven years later. See Franklin County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45007-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 26, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Franklin County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Franklin County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Franklin County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Franklin County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Franklin County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Franklin County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Franklin County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Franklin County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Franklin County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45007-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Franklin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Franklin County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Franklin County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Franklin County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

7. Shelby County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45009-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Kentucky

Shelby County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Shelby County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Shelby County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Shelby County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Shelby County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Shelby County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Shelby County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Shelby County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45009-DAP, ECF No. 10. Shelby County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Shelby County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45009-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Shelby County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Shelby County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Shelby County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Shelby County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Shelby County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Shelby County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Shelby County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Shelby County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Shelby County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Shelby County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Shelby County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.41% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Shelby County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Shelby County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Shelby County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Shelby County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Shelby County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Shelby County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45009-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Shelby County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Shelby County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Shelby County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Shelby County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

8. Henry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Henry County, Kentucky

Henry County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Henry County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Henry County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Henry County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Henry County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Henry County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Henry County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Henry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 10. Henry County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Henry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Henry County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Henry County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Henry County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Henry County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Henry County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Henry County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Henry County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Henry County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.14% market share for Henry County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Henry County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Henry County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl.,

Exhibit C (0.44% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Henry County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Henry County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017. See Henry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Henry County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Henry County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Henry County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Henry County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Henry County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Henry County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Henry County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Henry County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Henry County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Henry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Henry County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Henry County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Henry County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Henry County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

9. Madison County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45011-DAP: Plaintiff Madison County, Kentucky

Madison County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Madison County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Madison County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Madison County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Madison County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Madison County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Madison County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Madison County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45011-DAP, ECF No. 12. Madison County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Madison County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45011-DAP, ECF No. 29. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Madison County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Madison County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Madison County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Madison County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Madison County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Madison County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Madison County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Madison County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Madison County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Madison County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Madison County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Madison County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Madison County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Madison County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Madison County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Madison County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Madison County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45011-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Madison County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Madison County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Madison County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Madison County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

10. Fiscal Court of Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45012-DAP: Plaintiff Cumberland County, Kentucky

Cumberland County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cumberland County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cumberland County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cumberland County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Cumberland County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cumberland County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cumberland County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45012-DAP, ECF No. 6. Cumberland County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45012-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cumberland County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Cumberland County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Cumberland County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cumberland County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Cumberland County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Cumberland County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Cumberland County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cumberland County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Cumberland County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cumberland County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cumberland County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.23% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cumberland County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Cumberland County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Cumberland County filed its original complaint on September 20, 2017, but waited until September 26, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—seven years later. See Fiscal Court of Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45012-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 26, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Cumberland County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Cumberland County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Cumberland County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Cumberland County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cumberland County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cumberland County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cumberland County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cumberland County filed its original complaint on September 20, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Cumberland County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45012-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Cumberland County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Cumberland County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cumberland County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cumberland County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

11. Louisville/Jefferson County MetroGovernment v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45013-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Kentucky

Jefferson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jefferson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jefferson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jefferson County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Jefferson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jefferson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jefferson County first amended its complaint on October 5, 2017. See Louisville/Jefferson County Metro Government v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45013-DAP, ECF No. 24. Jefferson County amended its complaint again on March 8, 2019. See Louisville/Jefferson County Metro Government v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45013-DAP, ECF No. 37. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jefferson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Jefferson County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jefferson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jefferson County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879

(affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jefferson County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jefferson County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jefferson County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jefferson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Jefferson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jefferson County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jefferson County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.35% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jefferson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Jefferson County filed its original complaint on August 21, 2017. See Louisville/Jefferson County Metro Government v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45013-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Jefferson County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Jefferson County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Jefferson County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Jefferson County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Jefferson County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jefferson County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jefferson County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jefferson County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jefferson County filed its original complaint on August 21, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Louisville/Jefferson County Metro Government v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45013-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jefferson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Jefferson County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jefferson County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jefferson County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

12. Fiscal Court of Union County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45015-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Kentucky

Union County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Union County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Union County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Union County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Union County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Union County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Union County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Union County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 12. Union County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Union County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Union County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Union County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Union County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Union County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Union County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Union County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Union County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Union County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Union County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Union County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Union County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.12% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Union County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Union County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Union County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Union County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Union County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Union County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Union County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Union County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Union County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Union County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Union County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Union County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Union County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Union County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Union County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Union County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Union County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

13. Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45016-DAP: Plaintiff Carlisle County, Kentucky

Carlisle County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Carlisle County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Carlisle County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Carlisle County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Carlisle County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Carlisle County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Carlisle County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45016-DAP, ECF No. 10.<sup>1</sup> Carlisle County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45016-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Carlisle County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Carlisle County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Carlisle County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Carlisle County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

---

<sup>1</sup> Some documents appear only as docket text on the individual case docket in the MDL. Those documents are available on the transferor docket, see Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 5:17-cv-00136-TBR (W.D. Ky.).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Carlisle County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Baron & Budd, P.C.; and Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Carlisle County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Carlisle County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Carlisle County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.20% market share for Carlisle County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Carlisle County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Carlisle County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.31% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Carlisle County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Carlisle County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45016-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Carlisle County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Carlisle County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Carlisle County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Carlisle County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Carlisle County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Carlisle County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Carlisle County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Carlisle County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Carlisle County filed its second amended complaint on March 15, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Carlisle County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45016-DAP, ECF No. 23. It is therefore indisputable that Carlisle County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Carlisle County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Carlisle County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Carlisle County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

14. Boyle County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Boyle County, Kentucky

Boyle County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Boyle County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Boyle County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Boyle County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Boyle County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Boyle County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Boyle County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Boyle County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45018-DAP, ECF No. 11. Boyle County amended its complaint again on March 8, 2019. See Boyle County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45018-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Boyle County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Boyle County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Boyle County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Boyle County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Boyle County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Boyle County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Boyle County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Boyle County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Boyle County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Boyle County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Boyle County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl.,

Exhibit C (0.32% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Boyle County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Boyle County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Boyle County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45018-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Boyle County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Boyle County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Boyle County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Boyle County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Boyle County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Boyle County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Boyle County, a Kentucky municipality, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Boyle County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Boyle County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Boyle County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45018-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Boyle County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Boyle County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Boyle County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Boyle County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

15. Fleming County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45019-DAP: Plaintiff Fleming County, Kentucky

Fleming County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Fleming County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Fleming County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Fleming County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Fleming County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Fleming County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Fleming County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fleming County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 11. Fleming County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fleming County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 26. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Fleming County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Fleming County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Fleming County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Fleming County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Fleming County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL

ECF No. 2582. Fleming County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Fleming County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Fleming County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Fleming County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Fleming County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Fleming County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.39% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Fleming County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Fleming County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Fleming County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, but waited until September 10, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—seven years later. See Fleming County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 10, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Fleming County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Fleming County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Fleming County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Fleming County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Fleming County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Fleming County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Fleming County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Fleming County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fleming County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Fleming County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Fleming County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Fleming County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Fleming County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

16. Boone County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45020-DAP: Plaintiff Boone County, Kentucky

Boone County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Boone County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Boone County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Boone County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Boone County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Boone County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Boone County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Boone County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45020-DAP, ECF No. 14. Boone County amended its complaint again on March 8, 2019. See Boone County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45020-DAP, ECF No. 32. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Boone County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Boone County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Boone County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Boone County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Boone County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Boone County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Boone County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Boone County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Boone County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Boone County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Boone County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Boone County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Boone County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Boone County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, but waited until September 19, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—seven years later. See Boone County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45020-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 19, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Boone County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Boone County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Boone County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Boone County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Boone County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Boone County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Boone County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Boone County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Boone County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45020-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Boone County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Boone County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Boone County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Boone County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

17. Pendleton County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45021-DAP: Plaintiff Pendleton County, Kentucky

Pendleton County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pendleton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pendleton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pendleton County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Pendleton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pendleton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pendleton County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Pendleton County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45021-DAP, ECF No. 14. Pendleton County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See

Pendleton County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45021-DAP, ECF No. 31. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pendleton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Pendleton County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Pendleton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pendleton County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Pendleton County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Pendleton County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Pendleton County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Pendleton County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.11% market share for Pendleton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pendleton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Pendleton County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.18% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pendleton County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Pendleton County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017. See Pendleton County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45021-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Pendleton County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Pendleton County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Pendleton County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Pendleton County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Pendleton County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pendleton County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pendleton County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pendleton County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pendleton County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Pendleton County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45021-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Pendleton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Pendleton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pendleton County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pendleton County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

18. Campbell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45022-DAP: Plaintiff Campbell County, Kentucky

Campbell County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Campbell County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Campbell County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Campbell County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Campbell County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Campbell County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Campbell County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Campbell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45022-DAP, ECF No. 8. Campbell County amended its complaint again on March 8, 2019. See Campbell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45022-DAP, ECF No. 30. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Campbell County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Campbell County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Campbell County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Campbell County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Campbell County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Campbell County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Campbell County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Campbell County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See

Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Campbell County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Campbell County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Campbell County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.33% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Campbell County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Campbell County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Campbell County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Campbell County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Campbell County filed its original complaint on September 20, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Campbell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45022-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Campbell County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Campbell County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Campbell County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Campbell County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

19. Garrard County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Garrard County, Kentucky

Garrard County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Garrard County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Garrard County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Garrard County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Garrard County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Garrard County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Garrard County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Garrard County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 11. Garrard County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Garrard County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Garrard County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Garrard County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Garrard County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Garrard County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Garrard County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Garrard County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Garrard County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Garrard County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.26% market share for Garrard County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Garrard County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Garrard County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Garrard County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Garrard County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Garrard County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Garrard County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Garrard County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Garrard County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Garrard County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Garrard County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Garrard County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Garrard County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Garrard County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Garrard County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Garrard County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Garrard County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Garrard County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

20. Lincoln County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45024-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, Kentucky

Lincoln County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lincoln County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lincoln County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lincoln County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lincoln County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lincoln County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lincoln County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Lincoln County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 11. Lincoln County amended its complaint again on March 13, 2019. See Lincoln County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lincoln County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Lincoln County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lincoln County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lincoln County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lincoln County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Lincoln County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lincoln County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lincoln County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Lincoln County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lincoln County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Lincoln County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Lincoln County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Lincoln County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Lincoln County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Lincoln County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Lincoln County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Lincoln County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Lincoln County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Lincoln County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Lincoln County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Lincoln County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Lincoln County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Lincoln County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Lincoln County’s potential claims against them. Lincoln County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lincoln County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lincoln County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lincoln County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lincoln County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Lincoln County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lincoln County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Lincoln County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lincoln County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lincoln County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

21. Nicholas County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Nicholas County, Kentucky

Nicholas County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Nicholas County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Nicholas County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Nicholas County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Nicholas County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Nicholas County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Nicholas County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Nicholas County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45025-DAP, ECF No. 11. Nicholas County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Nicholas County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45025-DAP, ECF No. 30. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Nicholas County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Nicholas County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Nicholas County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Nicholas County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Nicholas County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Nicholas County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Nicholas County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Nicholas County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.003% market share for Nicholas County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Nicholas County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Nicholas County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.44% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Nicholas County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Nicholas County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Nicholas County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Nicholas County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Nicholas County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Nicholas County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45025-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Nicholas County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Nicholas County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Nicholas County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Nicholas County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

22. Bell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45026-DAP: Plaintiff Bell County, Kentucky

Bell County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Bell County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Bell County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Bell County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Bell County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Bell County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Bell County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Bell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45026-DAP, ECF No. 11. Bell County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Bell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45026-DAP, ECF No. 29. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Bell County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Bell County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Bell County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Bell County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Bell County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Bell County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Bell County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Bell County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Bell County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bell County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Bell County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.14% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bell County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Bell County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Bell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45026-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Bell County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Bell County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Bell County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Bell County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Bell County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Bell County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Bell County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Bell County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Bell County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Bell County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45026-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Bell County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Bell County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Bell County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Bell County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

23. Harlan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Harlan County, Kentucky

Harlan County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Harlan County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Harlan County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Harlan County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Harlan County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Harlan County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Harlan County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Harlan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45027-DAP, ECF No. 9. Harlan County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Harlan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45027-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Harlan County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Harlan County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Harlan County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Harlan County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Harlan County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Harlan County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Harlan County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Harlan County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Harlan County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Harlan County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Harlan County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.07% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Harlan County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Harlan County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, but waited until March 12, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Harlan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45027-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: March 12, 2018). Harlan County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Harlan County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Harlan County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Harlan County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Harlan County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Harlan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45027-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Harlan County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Harlan County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Harlan County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Harlan County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

24. Knox County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Knox County, Kentucky

Knox County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Knox County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Knox County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Knox County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Knox County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Knox County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Knox County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Knox County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 11. Knox County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Knox County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Knox County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Knox County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Knox County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Knox County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Knox County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Knox County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Knox County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Knox County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Knox County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Knox County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Knox County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Knox County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Knox County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Knox County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Knox County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See

ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Knox County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Knox County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Knox County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Knox County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Knox County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Knox County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Knox County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Knox County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Knox County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Knox County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Knox County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Knox County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Knox County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

25. Leslie County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45029-DAP: Plaintiff Leslie County, Kentucky

Leslie County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Leslie County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Leslie County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Leslie County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Leslie County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Leslie County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Leslie County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Leslie County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45029-DAP, ECF No. 11. Leslie County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Leslie County Fiscal Court v.

Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45029-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Leslie County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Leslie County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Leslie County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Leslie County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Leslie County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Leslie County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Leslie County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Leslie County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.002% market share for Leslie County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Leslie County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Leslie County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.08% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Leslie County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Leslie County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017. See Leslie County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45029-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Leslie County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Leslie County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Leslie County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Leslie County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Leslie County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Leslie County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Leslie County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Leslie County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Leslie County filed its original complaint on September 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Leslie County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45029-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Leslie County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Leslie County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Leslie County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Leslie County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

26. Whitley County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45030-DAP: Plaintiff Whitley County, Kentucky

Whitley County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Whitley County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Whitley County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Whitley County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Whitley County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Whitley County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Whitley County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Whitley County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45030-DAP, ECF No. 11. Whitley County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Whitley County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45030-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Whitley County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Whitley County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Whitley County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Whitley County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Whitley County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Whitley County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Whitley County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Whitley County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Whitley County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Whitley County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Whitley County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.18% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Whitley County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Whitley County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Whitley County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Whitley County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Whitley County filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Whitley County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45030-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Whitley County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Whitley County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Whitley County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Whitley County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

27. Clay County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45031-DAP: Plaintiff Clay County, Kentucky

Clay County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clay County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clay County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clay County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Clay County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clay County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clay County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Clay County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45031-DAP, ECF No. 6. Clay County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Clay County Fiscal Court v.

Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45031-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clay County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Clay County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Clay County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clay County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Clay County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Clay County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Clay County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clay County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.002% market share for Clay County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clay County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Clay County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.10% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clay County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Clay County filed its original complaint on September 20, 2017. See Clay County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45031-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Clay County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Clay County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Clay County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Clay County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Clay County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clay County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clay County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clay County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clay County filed its original complaint on September 20, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Clay County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45031-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Clay County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Clay County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clay County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clay County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

28. Dayton v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45032-DAP: Plaintiff Dayton City, Ohio

Dayton City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Dayton City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Dayton City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Dayton City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Dayton City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Dayton City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Dayton City amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 13, 2017. See Dayton v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45032-DAP, ECF No. 51. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Dayton City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Dayton City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Dayton City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Dayton City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See

Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Furthermore, in 2023, Dayton City filed a separate complaint in this MDL asserting new claims for public nuisance and negligence against Express Scripts, Inc.; Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; OptumRx, Inc.; and other defendants. See Cuyahoga County et al. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. et al., No. 1:23-op-45003 (N.D. Ohio), ECF No. 1. Dayton City offers no good cause for its failure to bring its proposed claims against all PBMs in the 2023 case, which is still pending. In addition, Dayton City’s improper claim-splitting between these two separate cases in the MDL should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App’x at 260–63 (affirming dismissal for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff’s claims in a later-filed case were “duplicative of and improperly split” from an earlier-filed case).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Dayton City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Dayton City—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Dayton City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Dayton City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.15% market share for Dayton City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dayton City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Dayton City violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Dayton City filed its original complaint on June 5, 2017, but waited until February 23, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—eight months later. See Dayton v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45032-DAP, ECF No. 1-3; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: February 23, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Dayton City's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Dayton City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Dayton City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Dayton City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Dayton City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Dayton City’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Dayton City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Dayton City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Dayton City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Dayton City’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Dayton City’s potential claims against them. Dayton City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Dayton City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Dayton City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Dayton City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Dayton City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Dayton City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Dayton City filed its amended complaint on March 18, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Dayton v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45032-DAP, ECF No. 51. It is therefore indisputable that Dayton City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Dayton City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Dayton City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Dayton City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

29. Clermont County Board Of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff Clermont County, Ohio

Clermont County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clermont County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clermont County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clermont County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Clermont County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clermont County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clermont County first amended its complaint on October 9, 2017. See Clermont County Board Of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 62. Clermont County amended its complaint again on March 6, 2019. See Clermont County Board Of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 94. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clermont County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Clermont County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Clermont County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clermont County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Clermont County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.;

and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Clermont County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Clermont County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clermont County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Clermont County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clermont County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Clermont County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017, but waited until November 3, 2017 to implement a litigation hold. See Clermont County Board Of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: November 3, 2017). Clermont County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clermont County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clermont County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Clermont County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Clermont County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clermont County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clermont County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Clermont County Board Of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Clermont County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Clermont County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clermont County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clermont County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

30. Belmont County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45034-DAP: Plaintiff Belmont County, Ohio

Belmont County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Belmont County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Belmont County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Belmont County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Belmont County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Belmont County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Belmont County first amended its complaint on October 11, 2017. See Belmont County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45034-DAP, ECF No. 61. Belmont County amended its complaint again on March 12, 2019. See Belmont County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45034-DAP, ECF No. 90. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Belmont County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Belmont County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Belmont County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Belmont County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Belmont County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Belmont County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Belmont County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Belmont County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Belmont County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Belmont County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Belmont County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.37% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Belmont County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Belmont County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Belmont County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Belmont County began receiving those services on January 1, 2006. See id. Inasmuch as Belmont County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Belmont County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Belmont County's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Belmont County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Belmont County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017, but waited until September 18, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—seven years later. See Belmont County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45034-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 18, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Belmont County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Belmont County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Belmont County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Belmont County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Belmont County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Belmont County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Belmont County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Belmont County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Belmont County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Belmont County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Belmont County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45034-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Belmont County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Belmont County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Belmont County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Belmont County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

31. Brown County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45035-DAP: Plaintiff Brown County, Ohio

Brown County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Brown County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Brown County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Brown County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Brown County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Brown County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Brown County first amended its complaint on October 12, 2017. See Brown County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45035-DAP, ECF No. 62. Brown County amended its complaint again on March 12, 2019. See Brown County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45035-DAP, ECF No. 91. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Brown County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Brown County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Brown County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Brown County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Brown County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Brown County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Brown County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Brown County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.19% market share for Brown County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Brown County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Brown County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017. See Brown County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45035-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Brown County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Brown County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Brown County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Brown County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Brown County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Brown County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Brown County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Brown County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Brown County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Brown County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Brown County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45035-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Brown County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Brown County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Brown County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Brown County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

32. Vinton County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Vinton County, Ohio

Vinton County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Vinton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Vinton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Vinton County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Vinton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Vinton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Vinton County first amended its complaint on October 11, 2017. See Vinton County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45036-DAP, ECF No. 62. Vinton County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Vinton County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45036-DAP, ECF No. 91. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Vinton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Vinton County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Vinton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Vinton County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Vinton County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Vinton County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Vinton County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Vinton County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.18% market share for Vinton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Vinton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Vinton County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Vinton County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Vinton County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Vinton County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Vinton County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Vinton County filed its original complaint on July 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Vinton County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45036-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Vinton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Vinton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Vinton County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Vinton County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

33. Jackson County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45037-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Ohio

Jackson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jackson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jackson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jackson County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Jackson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jackson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jackson County first amended its complaint on October 12, 2017. See Jackson County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45037-DAP, ECF No. 57. Jackson County amended its complaint again on March 13, 2019. See Jackson County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45037-DAP, ECF No. 86. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jackson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Jackson County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jackson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jackson County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jackson County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jackson County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jackson County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jackson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Jackson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jackson County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Jackson County filed its original complaint on August 2, 2017. See Jackson County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45037-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Jackson County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Jackson County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Jackson County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Jackson County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Jackson County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jackson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jackson County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Jackson County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Jackson County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jackson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jackson County filed its original complaint on August 2, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Jackson County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45037-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jackson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Jackson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jackson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jackson County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

34. Scioto County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45038-DAP: Plaintiff Scioto County, Ohio

Scioto County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Scioto County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Scioto County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Scioto County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Scioto County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Scioto County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Scioto County first amended its complaint on October 9, 2017. See Scioto County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45038-DAP, ECF No. 55. Scioto County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Scioto County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45038-DAP, ECF No. 86. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Scioto County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Scioto County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Scioto County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Scioto County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Scioto County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Scioto County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Scioto County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Scioto County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.19% market share for Scioto County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scioto County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Scioto County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Scioto County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Scioto County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Scioto County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Scioto County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Scioto County filed its original complaint on August 3, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Scioto County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45038-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Scioto County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Scioto County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Scioto County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Scioto County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

35. Pike County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45039-DAP: Plaintiff Pike County, Ohio

Pike County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pike County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pike County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pike County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Pike County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pike County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pike County first amended its complaint on October 9, 2017. See Pike County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45039-DAP, ECF No. 53. Pike County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Pike County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45039-DAP, ECF No. 85. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pike County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Pike County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Pike County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pike County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Pike County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Pike County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Pike County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Pike County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Pike County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pike County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pike County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pike County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Pike County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Pike County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pike County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pike County filed its original complaint on August 10, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Pike County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45039-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Pike County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Pike County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pike County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pike County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

36. Ross County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45040-DAP: Plaintiff Ross County, Ohio

Ross County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Ross County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Ross County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Ross County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Ross County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Ross County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Ross County first amended its complaint on October 12, 2017. See Ross County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45040-DAP, ECF No. 47. Ross County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Ross County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45040-DAP, ECF No. 76. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Ross County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Ross County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Ross County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Ross County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Ross County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Ross County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Ross County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Ross County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Ross County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ross County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Ross County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ross County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Ross County filed its original complaint on August 11, 2017. See Ross County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45040-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Ross County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Ross County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Ross County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Ross County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Ross County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Ross County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Ross County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Ross County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Ross County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Ross County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Ross County filed its original complaint on August 11, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Ross County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45040-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Ross County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Ross County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Ross County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Ross County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

37. City of Cincinnati v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45041-DAP: Plaintiff Cincinnati City, Ohio

Cincinnati City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cincinnati City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cincinnati City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cincinnati City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Cincinnati City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cincinnati City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cincinnati City first amended its complaint on September 22, 2017. See City Of Cincinnati v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45041-DAP, ECF No. 45. Cincinnati City amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See City Of Cincinnati v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45041-DAP, ECF No. 111. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cincinnati City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Cincinnati City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Cincinnati

City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cincinnati City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Cincinnati City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Cincinnati City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Cincinnati City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cincinnati City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.11% market share for Cincinnati City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cincinnati City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cincinnati City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.35% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cincinnati City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Cincinnati City previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Cincinnati City of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Cincinnati City began receiving those services on January 1, 2011. See id. Inasmuch as Cincinnati City seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Cincinnati City knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Cincinnati City's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cincinnati City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cincinnati City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Cincinnati City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Cincinnati City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cincinnati City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cincinnati City filed its original complaint on August 15, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City Of Cincinnati v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45041-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Cincinnati City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Cincinnati City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cincinnati City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cincinnati City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

38. City of Portsmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45042-DAP: Plaintiff Portsmouth City, Ohio

Portsmouth City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Portsmouth City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Portsmouth City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Portsmouth City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Portsmouth City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Portsmouth City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Portsmouth City first amended its complaint on October 26, 2017. See City of Portsmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45042-DAP, ECF No. 55. Portsmouth City amended its complaint again on March 6, 2019. See City of Portsmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45042-DAP, ECF No. 78. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Portsmouth City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Portsmouth City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Portsmouth City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Portsmouth City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Portsmouth City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Portsmouth City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Portsmouth City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Portsmouth City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.19% market share for Portsmouth City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Portsmouth City to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Portsmouth City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Portsmouth City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Portsmouth City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Portsmouth City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Portsmouth City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Portsmouth City filed its original complaint on August 16, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Portsmouth v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45042-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Portsmouth City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Portsmouth City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Portsmouth City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Portsmouth City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

39. Gallia County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45043-DAP: Plaintiff Gallia County, Ohio

Gallia County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Gallia County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Gallia County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Gallia County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Gallia County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Gallia County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Gallia County first amended its complaint on October 9, 2017. See Gallia County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45043-DAP, ECF No. 44. Gallia County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Gallia County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45043-DAP, ECF No. 75. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Gallia County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Gallia County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Gallia County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Gallia County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Gallia County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Gallia County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Gallia County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Gallia County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Gallia County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gallia County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Gallia County filed its original complaint on August 31, 2017. See Gallia County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45043-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Gallia County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Gallia County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Gallia County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Gallia County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Gallia County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Gallia County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Gallia County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Gallia County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Gallia County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Gallia County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Gallia County filed its original complaint on August 31, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Gallia County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45043-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Gallia County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Gallia County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Gallia County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Gallia County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

40. Hocking County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45044-DAP: Plaintiff Hocking County, Ohio

Hocking County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Hocking County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Hocking County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Hocking County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Hocking County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Hocking County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Hocking County first amended its complaint on October 12, 2017. See Hocking County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 46. Hocking County amended its complaint again on March 11, 2019. See Hocking County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 75. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Hocking County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Hocking County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Hocking County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Hocking County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Hocking County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Hocking County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Hocking County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Hocking County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Hocking County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hocking County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Hocking County filed its original complaint on August 31, 2017. See Hocking County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Hocking County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Hocking County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Hocking County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Hocking County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Hocking County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Hocking County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Hocking County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Hocking County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Hocking County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Hocking County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Hocking County filed its original complaint on August 31, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Hocking County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Hocking County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Hocking County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Hocking County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Hocking County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

41. Lawrence County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45045-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Ohio

Lawrence County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lawrence County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lawrence County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lawrence County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lawrence County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lawrence County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lawrence County first amended its complaint on October 11, 2017. See Lawrence County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45045-DAP, ECF No. 46. Lawrence County amended its complaint again on March 13, 2019. See Lawrence County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45045-DAP, ECF No. 75. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lawrence County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Lawrence County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lawrence County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lawrence County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704

F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lawrence County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Lawrence County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lawrence County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lawrence County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.13% market share for Lawrence County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lawrence County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Lawrence County filed its original complaint on August 31, 2017. See Lawrence County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45045-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Lawrence County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Lawrence County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Lawrence County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Lawrence County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Lawrence County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lawrence County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lawrence County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Lawrence County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Lawrence County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lawrence County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lawrence County filed its original complaint on August 31, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Lawrence County Board of Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45045-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lawrence County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Lawrence County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lawrence County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lawrence County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

42. City of Everett v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45046-DAP: Plaintiff Everett City, Washington

Everett City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Everett City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Everett City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Everett City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Everett City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Everett City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Everett City first amended its complaint on October 25, 2017. See City of Everett v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45046-DAP, ECF No. 37. Everett City amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See City of Everett v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45046-DAP, ECF No. 56. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Everett City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Everett City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Everett City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Everett City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Everett City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Everett City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Everett City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Everett City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.19% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Everett City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Everett City filed its original complaint on January 19, 2017. See City of Everett v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45046-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. Despite filing its case years ago, Everett City never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Everett City's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Everett City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Everett City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Everett City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See

Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Washington law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Everett City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Washington law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Everett City, a municipality in Washington, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Everett City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Everett City filed its second amended complaint on March 15, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Everett v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45046-DAP, ECF No. 56. It is therefore indisputable that Everett City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Everett City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Everett City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See

Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Washington, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Everett City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Everett City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than seven years after filing its original complaint on January 19, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora v. Chrisman, 44 F.4th 452, 480 (6th Cir. 2022) (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Everett City, a municipality in Washington, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

43.     City of Tacoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45047-DAP: Plaintiff Tacoma City, Washington

Tacoma City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Tacoma City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Tacoma City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Tacoma City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Tacoma City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Tacoma City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Tacoma City first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See City of Tacoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45047-DAP, ECF No. 34. Tacoma City amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019, as well as on May 28, 2019. See City of Tacoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45047-DAP, ECF Nos. 47, 49. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Tacoma City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Tacoma City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Tacoma City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Tacoma City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Tacoma City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Tacoma City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tacoma City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units

shipped to Tacoma City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.16% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tacoma City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Tacoma City previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Tacoma City of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Tacoma City began receiving those services on September 18, 2007. See id. Inasmuch as Tacoma City seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Tacoma City knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Tacoma City's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Washington law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Tacoma City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Washington law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Tacoma City, a municipality in Washington, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Tacoma City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Tacoma City filed its original complaint on September 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Tacoma v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45047-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Tacoma City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Tacoma City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Tacoma City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Washington, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Tacoma City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Tacoma City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on September 13, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Tacoma City, a municipality in Washington, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

44. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45048-DAP: Plaintiff St. Clair County, Illinois

St. Clair County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. This Court previously remanded St. Clair County's case to state court. Moreover, St. Clair County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. St. Clair County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, St. Clair County's motion should be denied due to futility, as St. Clair County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Jurisdiction. This Court has remanded St. Clair County's case to state court. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45048-DAP, ECF No. 60. That remand deprives this Court of jurisdiction to consider St. Clair County's motion to amend. See, e.g., Cook, 17 F. App'x at 352 ("A remand to state court pursuant to § 1447(c) divests the federal district court of jurisdiction."); Joliffe v. Enterprise Rent-a-Car, 1994 WL 823557, at *2 (W.D. Mich. Aug. 10, 1994) (remanding case to state court and concluding that the court therefore lacked jurisdiction over motion for leave to amend).

Lack of Diligence. St. Clair County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, St. Clair County filed its original complaint on April 19, 2017 and the case was transferred to the MDL on December 13, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45048-DAP, ECF No. 56. St. Clair County could have amended its complaint, without leave, to add claims against the PBMs in 2019. See Section II.A.1, above. Unlike many other plaintiffs, St. Clair County elected not to do so. Instead, St. Clair County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. St. Clair County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to St. Clair County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for St. Clair County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for St. Clair County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to St. Clair County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.38% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for St. Clair County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. St. Clair County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified St. Clair County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and St. Clair County began receiving those services on January 1, 2006. See id. Inasmuch as St. Clair County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), St. Clair County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. St. Clair County’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. St. Clair County filed its original complaint on April 19, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45048-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. Despite filing its case years ago, St. Clair County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating St. Clair County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of St. Clair County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by St. Clair County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and St. Clair County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. Despite the Court’s repeated instructions to the contrary, St. Clair County has never served a Plaintiff Fact Sheet. St. Clair County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[all] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. St. Clair County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But St. Clair County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. St. Clair County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Impermissible Claim-splitting. St. Clair County seeks leave to amend to add claims against the PBMs in two cases: People of the State of Illinois, et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP, et al., No. 1:17-OP-45048-DAP; People of the State of Illinois, et al. v. Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc., et al., No. 1:19-OP-45055-DAP. St. Clair County’s impermissible claim-splitting is a waste of judicial resources and should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App’x at 260–63 (finding no abuse of discretion where district court dismissed plaintiff’s claims for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff’s claims in a later-filed case were “duplicative of and improperly split” from an earlier-filed case); Stripling v. Ingram Barge Co., LLC, 2023 WL 5120238, at *2–4 (M.D. Tenn. Aug. 9, 2023) (dismissing subsequent suit based on the same facts pursuant to the Court’s inherent authority and discretion to manage its own docket). It also demonstrates a fundamental lack of diligence on the part of Plaintiff and the PEC.

Plaintiff Filed a Separate PBM Case. St. Clair County previously filed an opioid case outside the MDL against the PBMs on December 15, 2023. See St. Clair County v. Evernorth Health, Inc. et al., Case No. 3:24-cv-00189 (S.D. Ill.), ECF No. 1-1. St. Clair County also voluntarily dismissed its claims against the PBMs in that case. Id., ECF No. 31. By suing the PBMs outside the MDL in 2023, St. Clair County shows that it possessed facts to assert claims against the PBMs before it moved to amend in the MDL, precluding a showing of good cause here. See Profitt, 2024 WL 3622448, at *4 (affirming denial of leave to amend where plaintiff previously possessed documents showing underlying factual basis for proposed claim).

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for St. Clair County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. St. Clair County filed its original complaint on April 19, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45048-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. Even assuming arguendo that St. Clair County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO’s four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on April 19, 2021. St. Clair County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No.

2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. St. Clair County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. St. Clair County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

45. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Jersey County, Illinois

Jersey County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jersey County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jersey County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jersey County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Jersey County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jersey County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jersey County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 13, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45049-DAP, ECF No. 69. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jersey County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Jersey County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Jersey County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jersey County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jersey County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jersey County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jersey County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jersey County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Jersey County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jersey County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jersey County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jersey County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Jersey County filed its original complaint on August 11, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45049-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Jersey County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Jersey County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Jersey County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Jersey County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Jersey County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jersey County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jersey County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jersey County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jersey County filed its original complaint on August 11, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45049-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jersey County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Jersey County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jersey County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jersey County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

46. People of State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45050-DAP: Plaintiff Alexander County, Illinois

Alexander County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Alexander County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Alexander County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Alexander County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Alexander County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Alexander County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Alexander County first amended its complaint on November 9, 2017. See People of State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45050-DAP, ECF No. 66. Alexander County amended its complaint again on March 6, 2019. See People of State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45050-DAP, ECF No. 72. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Alexander County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Alexander County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Alexander County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Alexander County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information

[she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Alexander County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Alexander County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Alexander County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Alexander County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.19% market share for Alexander County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Alexander County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Alexander County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Alexander County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Alexander County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Alexander County filed its original complaint on August 17, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45050-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Alexander County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Alexander County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Alexander County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Alexander County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

47. Wyoming County Commission v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45051-DAP: Plaintiff Wyoming County, West Virginia

Wyoming County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Wyoming County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Wyoming County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Wyoming County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Wyoming County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in West Virginia, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Wyoming County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Wyoming County filed its original complaint on April 12, 2017 and the case was transferred to the MDL on December 13, 2017. See Wyoming County Commission v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45051-DAP, ECF No. 72. Wyoming County could have amended its complaint, without leave, to add claims against the PBMs in 2019. See Section II.A.1, above. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Wyoming County elected not to do so. Instead, Wyoming County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Wyoming County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Wyoming County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Wyoming County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Wyoming County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Wyoming County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Wyoming County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Wyoming County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Wyoming County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.29% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Wyoming County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Wyoming County filed its original complaint on April 12, 2017. See Wyoming County Commission v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45051-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Wyoming County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Wyoming County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Wyoming County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Wyoming County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Wyoming County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. Despite the Court's repeated instructions to the contrary, Wyoming County has never served a Plaintiff Fact Sheet. Wyoming County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Wyoming County's failure to diligently prosecute its case negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under West Virginia law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Wyoming County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under West Virginia law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Wyoming County, a municipality in West Virginia, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Wyoming County is a plaintiff in West Virginia. Wyoming County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because West Virginia’s public nuisance law does not extend to “the sale, distribution, and manufacture of opioids.” Huntington, 609 F. Supp. 3d at 475; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Wyoming County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Wyoming County filed its original complaint on April 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Wyoming County Commission v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45051-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Wyoming County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on April 12, 2021. Wyoming County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Wyoming County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Wyoming County, a municipality in West Virginia, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

48. Fiscal Court of Oldham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45067-DAP: Plaintiff Oldham County, Kentucky

Oldham County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Oldham County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Oldham County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Oldham County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Oldham County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Oldham County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Oldham County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Oldham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45067-DAP, ECF No. 5. Oldham County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Oldham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45067-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Oldham County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Oldham County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Oldham County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Oldham County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Oldham County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Oldham County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Oldham County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Oldham County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Oldham County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Oldham County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Oldham County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Oldham County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, but waited until July 23, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—ten months later. See Fiscal Court of Oldham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45067-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: July 23, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Oldham County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Oldham County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Oldham County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Oldham County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Oldham County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Oldham County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Oldham County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Oldham County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Oldham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45067-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Oldham County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Oldham County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Oldham County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Oldham County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

49. Fiscal Court of Henderson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45069-DAP: Plaintiff Henderson County, Kentucky

Henderson County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Henderson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Henderson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Henderson County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Henderson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Henderson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Henderson County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Henderson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45069-DAP, ECF No. 5. Henderson County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Henderson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45069-DAP, ECF No. 24. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Henderson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Henderson County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Henderson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Henderson County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information

[she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Henderson County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Henderson County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Henderson County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Henderson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Henderson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Henderson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Henderson County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.17% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Henderson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Henderson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Henderson County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Henderson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Henderson County filed its original complaint on September 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Henderson County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45069-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Henderson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Henderson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Henderson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Henderson County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

50. Fiscal Court of Christian County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45070-DAP: Plaintiff Christian County, Kentucky

Christian County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Christian County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Christian County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Christian County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Christian County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Christian County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Christian County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Christian County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45070-DAP, ECF No. 4. Christian County amended its complaint again on March 8, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Christian County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45070-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Christian County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Christian County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Christian County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Christian County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Christian County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Christian County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Christian County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Christian County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson

Decl. (0.08% market share for Christian County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Christian County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Christian County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.19% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Christian County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Christian County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Christian County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Christian County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Christian County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Christian County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45070-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Christian County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Christian County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Christian County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Christian County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

51. Fiscal Court of Marshall County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45071-DAP: Plaintiff Marshall County, Kentucky

Marshall County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marshall County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marshall County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marshall County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Marshall County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marshall County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marshall County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Marshall County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45071-DAP, ECF No. 4. Marshall County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Marshall County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45071-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marshall County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Marshall County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Marshall County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marshall County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Marshall County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Marshall County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Marshall County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marshall County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Marshall County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marshall County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Marshall County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Marshall County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Marshall County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Marshall County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Marshall County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Marshall County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Marshall County's potential claims against them. Marshall County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marshall County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marshall County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marshall County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marshall County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Marshall County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45071-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Marshall County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Marshall County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marshall County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

52. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45078-DAP: Plaintiff Christian County, Illinois

Christian County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Christian County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Christian County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Christian County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Christian County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Christian County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Christian County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 18, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45078-DAP, ECF No. 11. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Christian County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Christian County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Christian County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Christian County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Christian County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Christian County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Christian County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Christian County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Christian County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Christian County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Christian County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Christian County filed its original complaint on November 14, 2017, but waited until September 25, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—nearly seven years later. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45078-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 25, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Christian County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Christian County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Christian County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Christian County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Christian County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Christian County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Christian County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Christian County filed its original complaint on November 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45078-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Christian County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Christian County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Christian County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Christian County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

53. City of Fort Payne, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45079-DAP: Plaintiff Fort Payne City, Alabama

Fort Payne City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Fort Payne City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Fort Payne City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Fort Payne City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Fort Payne City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Fort Payne City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Fort Payne City amended its complaint on March 13, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 18, 2017. See City of Fort Payne, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45079-DAP, ECF No. 26. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Fort Payne City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Fort Payne City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Fort Payne City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Fort Payne City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Fort Payne City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Fort Payne City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Fort Payne City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Fort Payne City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.27% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Fort Payne City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Fort Payne City filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017, but waited until March 13, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See City of Fort Payne, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45079-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: March 13, 2018). Fort Payne City's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Fort Payne City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Fort Payne City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Fort Payne City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Fort Payne City filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Fort Payne, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45079-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Fort Payne City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Fort Payne City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Fort Payne City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Fort Payne City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Fort Payne City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on November 8, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Fort Payne City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

54. St. Louis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff St. Louis County, Missouri

St. Louis County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. St. Louis County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. St. Louis County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, St. Louis County's motion should be denied due to futility, as St. Louis County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. St. Louis County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, St. Louis County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See St. Louis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 32. St. Louis County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See St. Louis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 36. Unlike many other plaintiffs, St. Louis County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. St. Louis County's deadline to amend was in 2019. St. Louis County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. St. Louis County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to St. Louis County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for St. Louis County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for St. Louis County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to St. Louis County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.44% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for St. Louis County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. St. Louis County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified St. Louis County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and St. Louis County began receiving those services on October 1, 2014. See id. Inasmuch as St. Louis County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), St. Louis County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than nine years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. St. Louis County’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. St. Louis County filed its original complaint on November 10, 2017. See St. Louis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, St. Louis County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating St. Louis County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of St. Louis County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by St. Louis County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and St. Louis County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, St. Louis County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to St. Louis County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified St. Louis County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but

St. Louis County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, St. Louis County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. St. Louis County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against St. Louis County's potential claims against them. St. Louis County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Missouri law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But St. Louis County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Missouri law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. St. Louis County, a municipality in Missouri, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for St. Louis County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. St. Louis County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See St. Louis County, Missouri v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 32. It is therefore indisputable that St. Louis County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. St. Louis County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. St. Louis County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. St. Louis County, a municipality in Missouri, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

55. Boyd County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45084-DAP: Plaintiff Boyd County, Kentucky

Boyd County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Boyd County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Boyd County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Boyd County's motion should be denied due to futility, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Boyd County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Boyd County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Boyd County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45084-DAP, ECF No. 6. Boyd County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Boyd County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45084-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Boyd County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Boyd County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Boyd County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Boyd County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Boyd County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Boyd County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Boyd County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Boyd County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Boyd County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Boyd County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Boyd County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017. See Boyd County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45084-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Boyd County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Boyd County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Boyd County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Boyd County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Boyd County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Boyd County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Boyd County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Boyd County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Boyd County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Boyd County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Boyd County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Boyd County’s potential claims against them. Boyd County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Boyd County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Boyd County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Boyd County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Boyd County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Boyd County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45084-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Boyd County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Boyd County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Boyd County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Boyd County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

56. County of Upshur v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45085-DAP: Plaintiff Upshur County, Texas

Upshur County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Upshur County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Upshur County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Upshur County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Upshur County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Upshur County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Upshur County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 15, 2017. See County of Upshur v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45085-DAP, ECF No. 78. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Upshur County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Upshur County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Upshur County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Upshur County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Upshur County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Upshur County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Upshur County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Upshur County filed its original complaint on September 29, 2017. See County of Upshur v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45085-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Upshur County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Upshur County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Upshur County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Upshur County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Upshur County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Upshur County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Upshur County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Upshur County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Upshur County filed its original complaint on September 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Upshur v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45085-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Upshur County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Upshur County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Upshur County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Upshur County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

57. County of Morris v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45086-DAP: Plaintiff Morris County, Texas

Morris County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Morris County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Morris County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Morris County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Morris County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Morris County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Morris County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 15, 2017. See County of Morris v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45086-DAP, ECF No. 57. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Morris County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Morris County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Morris County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Morris County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Morris County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.003% market share for Morris County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Morris County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Morris County filed its original complaint on November 3, 2017. See County of Morris v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45086-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Morris County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Morris County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Morris County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Morris County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Morris County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Morris County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Morris County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Morris County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Morris County filed its original complaint on November 3, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Morris v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45086-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Morris County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Morris County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Morris County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Morris County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

58. Fiscal Court of Greenup County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45088-DAP: Plaintiff Greenup County, Kentucky

Greenup County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Greenup County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Greenup County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Greenup County’s motion should be denied due to futility, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Greenup County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Greenup County first amended its complaint on October 3, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Greenup County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45088-DAP, ECF No. 9. Greenup County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Greenup County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45088-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Greenup County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Greenup County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Greenup County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Greenup County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Greenup County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Greenup County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Greenup County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Greenup County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Greenup County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Greenup County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Greenup County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Greenup County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45088-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Greenup County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Greenup County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Greenup County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Greenup County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Greenup County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Greenup County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Greenup County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Greenup County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Greenup County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Greenup County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45088-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Greenup County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Greenup County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Greenup County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Greenup County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

59. Fiscal Court of Kenton County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45089-DAP: Plaintiff Kenton County, Kentucky

Kenton County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Kenton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Kenton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Kenton County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Kenton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Kenton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Kenton County first amended its complaint on October 30, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Kenton County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45089-DAP, ECF No. 16. Kenton County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Fiscal Court of Kenton County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45089-DAP, ECF No. 29. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Kenton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Kenton County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Kenton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Kenton County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Kenton County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Kenton County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Kenton County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Kenton County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Kenton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Kenton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Kenton County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.29% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Kenton County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Kenton County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Kenton County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Kenton County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Kenton County filed its original complaint on September 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Kenton County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45089-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Kenton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Kenton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Kenton County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Kenton County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

60. Jessamine County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45090-DAP: Plaintiff Jessamine County, Kentucky

Jessamine County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jessamine County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jessamine County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jessamine County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Jessamine County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jessamine County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jessamine County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 18, 2017, as well as on March 18, 2019. See Jessamine County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45090-DAP, ECF Nos. 19, 20. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jessamine County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Jessamine County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jessamine County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jessamine County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jessamine County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jessamine County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jessamine County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jessamine County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Jessamine County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jessamine County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jessamine County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jessamine County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jessamine County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jessamine County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jessamine County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jessamine County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Jessamine County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45090-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jessamine County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Jessamine County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jessamine County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jessamine County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

61. Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45092-DAP: Plaintiff Lexington-Fayette Urban County, Kentucky

Lexington-Fayette Urban County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lexington-Fayette Urban County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lexington-Fayette Urban County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lexington-Fayette Urban County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lexington-Fayette Urban County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lexington-Fayette Urban County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lexington-Fayette Urban County amended its complaint on March 8, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 18, 2017. See Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45092-DAP, ECF No. 18. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lexington-Fayette Urban County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lexington-Fayette Urban County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lexington-Fayette Urban County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lexington-Fayette Urban County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lexington-Fayette Urban County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Lexington-Fayette Urban County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lexington-Fayette Urban County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lexington-Fayette Urban County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Lexington-Fayette Urban County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lexington-Fayette Urban County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Lexington-Fayette Urban County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.23% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lexington-Fayette Urban County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Lexington-Fayette Urban County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Lexington-Fayette Urban County filed its original complaint on November 9, 2017, but waited until December 13, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—one year later. See Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45092-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: December 13, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Lexington-Fayette Urban County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Lexington-Fayette Urban County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Lexington-Fayette Urban County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Lexington-Fayette Urban County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lexington-Fayette Urban County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lexington-Fayette Urban County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lexington-Fayette Urban County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lexington-Fayette Urban County filed its original complaint on November 9, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45092-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lexington-Fayette Urban County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Lexington-Fayette Urban County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lexington-Fayette Urban County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lexington-Fayette Urban County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

62. Adams County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45093-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Wisconsin

Adams County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Adams County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Adams County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Adams County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Adams County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Adams County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Adams County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adams County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45093-DAP, ECF No. 7. Adams County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adams County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45093-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Adams County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Adams County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Adams County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Adams County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Adams County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Adams County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Adams County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Adams County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017. See Adams County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45093-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Adams County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Adams County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Adams County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Adams County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Adams County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Adams County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Adams County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Adams County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Adams County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Adams County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Adams County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Adams County’s potential claims against them. Adams County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Adams County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Adams County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Adams County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Adams County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adams County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45093-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Adams County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Adams County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Adams County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Adams County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

63. Scott County Indiana Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45094-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Indiana

Scott County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Scott County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Scott County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Scott County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Scott County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Scott County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Scott County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 18, 2017. See Scott County Indiana Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45094-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Scott County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Scott County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Scott County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Scott County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Scott County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Scott County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scott County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Scott County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.47% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scott County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Scott County filed its original complaint on September 11, 2017. See Scott County Indiana Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45094-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. Despite filing its case years ago, Scott County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Scott County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Scott County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Scott County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Scott County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Indiana law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Scott County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Indiana law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Scott County, a municipality in Indiana, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Scott County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Scott County filed its amended complaint on March 15, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Scott County Indiana Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45094-DAP, ECF No. 25. It is therefore indisputable that Scott County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Scott County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Scott County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Scott County, a municipality in Indiana, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

64. Marathon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45095-DAP: Plaintiff Marathon County, Wisconsin

Marathon County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marathon County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marathon County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marathon County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Marathon County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marathon County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marathon County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Marathon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45095-DAP, ECF No. 6. Marathon County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Marathon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45095-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marathon County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Marathon County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Marathon County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marathon County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marathon County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.12% market share for Marathon County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marathon County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Marathon County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Marathon County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until May 11, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—six months later. See Marathon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45095-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 11, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Marathon County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Marathon County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Marathon County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Marathon County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marathon County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marathon County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marathon County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marathon County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marathon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45095-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Marathon County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Marathon County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marathon County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marathon County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

65. Tallapoosa County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45097-DAP: Plaintiff Tallapoosa County, Alabama

Tallapoosa County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Tallapoosa County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Tallapoosa County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Tallapoosa County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Tallapoosa County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Tallapoosa County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Tallapoosa County amended its complaint on March 8, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 18, 2017. See Tallapoosa County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45097-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Tallapoosa County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Tallapoosa County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Tallapoosa County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Tallapoosa County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879

(affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Tallapoosa County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty, & Proctor, P.A.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Tallapoosa County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Tallapoosa County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Tallapoosa County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Tallapoosa County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tallapoosa County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Tallapoosa County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.19% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tallapoosa County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Tallapoosa County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Tallapoosa County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Tallapoosa County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Tallapoosa County filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Tallapoosa County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45097-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Tallapoosa County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Tallapoosa County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Tallapoosa County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Tallapoosa County's public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Tallapoosa County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on November 8, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 ("This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations." (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Tallapoosa County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it "is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate," and thus amendment is futile. See Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Tallapoosa County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

66. Sauk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45098-DAP: Plaintiff Sauk County, Wisconsin

Sauk County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Sauk County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint.

Sauk County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Sauk County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Sauk County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Sauk County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Sauk County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Sauk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45098-DAP, ECF No. 6. Sauk County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Sauk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45098-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Sauk County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Sauk County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Sauk County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Sauk County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Sauk County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Sauk County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sauk County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Sauk County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.24% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sauk County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Sauk County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Sauk County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until May 11, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—six months later. See Sauk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45098-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 11, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Sauk County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Sauk County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Sauk County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Sauk County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Sauk County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Sauk County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Sauk County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Sauk County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Sauk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45098-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Sauk County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Sauk County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Sauk County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Sauk County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

67. Iowa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45099-DAP: Plaintiff Iowa County, Wisconsin

Iowa County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Iowa County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Iowa County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Iowa County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Iowa County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Iowa County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Iowa County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Iowa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45099-DAP, ECF No. 7. Iowa County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Iowa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45099-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Iowa County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Iowa County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Iowa County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Iowa County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Iowa County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.003% market share for Iowa County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Iowa County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Iowa County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.15% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Iowa County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Iowa County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017. See Iowa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45099-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Iowa County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Iowa County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Iowa County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Iowa County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Iowa County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Iowa County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Iowa County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Iowa County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Iowa County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Iowa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45099-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Iowa County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Iowa County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13

(holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Iowa County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Iowa County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

68. Luzerne County, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45100-DAP: Plaintiff Luzerne County, Pennsylvania

Luzerne County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Luzerne County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Luzerne County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Luzerne County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Luzerne County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Luzerne County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Luzerne County amended its complaint on March 13, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 19, 2017. See Luzerne County, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45100-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Luzerne County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Luzerne County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Luzerne County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Luzerne County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Luzerne County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Baron & Budd, P.C.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Luzerne County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Luzerne County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Luzerne County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Luzerne County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Luzerne County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Luzerne County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.27% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Luzerne County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Luzerne County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Luzerne County filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017, but waited until September 23, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—nearly seven years later. See Luzerne County, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45100-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 23, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Luzerne County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Luzerne County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Luzerne County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Luzerne County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Luzerne County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Luzerne County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Luzerne County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Luzerne County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Luzerne County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Luzerne County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Luzerne County’s potential claims against them. Luzerne County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Pennsylvania law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Luzerne County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Pennsylvania law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Luzerne County, a municipality in Pennsylvania, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Luzerne County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Luzerne County filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Luzerne County, Pennsylvania v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45100-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Luzerne County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Luzerne County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Luzerne County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Luzerne County, a municipality in Pennsylvania, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

69. City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP: Plaintiff Etowah County, Alabama

Etowah County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Etowah County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Etowah County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Etowah County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Etowah County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Etowah County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Etowah County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 19, 2017, as well as on March 15, 2019. See City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP, ECF Nos. 5, 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Etowah County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Etowah County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Etowah County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Etowah County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Etowah County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Etowah County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Etowah County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Etowah County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Etowah County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Etowah County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Etowah County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.26% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Etowah County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Etowah County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Etowah County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Etowah County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Etowah County filed its original complaint on October 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Etowah County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Etowah County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Etowah County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Etowah County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Etowah County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on October 25, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Etowah County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Etowah County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

70. City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP: Plaintiff Gadsden City, Alabama

Gadsden City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Gadsden City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Gadsden City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Gadsden City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Gadsden City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Gadsden City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Gadsden City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 19, 2017, as well as on March 15, 2019. See City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45101-DAP, ECF Nos. 5, 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Gadsden City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Gadsden City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Gadsden City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Gadsden City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Gadsden City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Gadsden City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Gadsden City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Gadsden City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson

Decl. (0.02% market share for Gadsden City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gadsden City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Gadsden City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.21% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gadsden City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Gadsden City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Gadsden City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Gadsden City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Gadsden City filed its original complaint on October 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Gadsden, Alabama et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No.

1:17-op-45101-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Gadsden City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Gadsden City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Gadsden City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Gadsden City's public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Gadsden City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on October 25, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 ("This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations." (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Gadsden City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

71. County of Wayne et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45102-DAP: Plaintiff Oakland County, Michigan

Oakland County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Oakland County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Oakland County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Oakland County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Oakland County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Oakland County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Oakland County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See County of Wayne et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45102-DAP, ECF No. 42. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Oakland County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Oakland County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Oakland County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Oakland County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Oakland County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Oakland County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Oakland County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Oakland County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Oakland County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Oakland County began receiving those services on January 1, 2006. See id. Inasmuch as Oakland County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Oakland County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Oakland County's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Oakland County filed its original complaint on October 12, 2017. See County of Wayne et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45102-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Oakland County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Oakland County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Oakland County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Oakland County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Oakland County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Oakland County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Oakland County, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Oakland County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Oakland County filed its original complaint on October 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Wayne et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45102-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Oakland County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Oakland County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Oakland County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Oakland County, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

72. People of the State of Illinois, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45103-DAP: Plaintiff Wabash County, Illinois

Wabash County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Wabash County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Wabash County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Wabash County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Wabash County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Wabash County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Wabash County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45103-DAP, ECF No. 18. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Wabash County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Wabash County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Wabash County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Wabash County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Wabash County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Wabash County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Wabash County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Wabash County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.22% market share for Wabash County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Wabash County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Wabash County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Wabash County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Wabash County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Wabash County filed its original complaint on October 26, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois, et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45103-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Wabash County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Wabash County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Wabash County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Wabash County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

73. Door County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45104-DAP: Plaintiff Door County, Wisconsin

Door County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Door County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Door County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Door County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Door County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Door County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Door County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Door County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 7. Door County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Door County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Door County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Door County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Door County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Door County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Door County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.20% market share for Door County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Door County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Door County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.28% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Door County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Door County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 28, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Door County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 28, 2018). Door County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Door County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Door County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Door County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Door County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Door County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Door County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Door County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Door County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Door County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

74. Laurel County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45105-DAP: Plaintiff Laurel County, Kentucky

Laurel County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Laurel County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Laurel County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Laurel County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Laurel County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Laurel County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Laurel County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Laurel County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45105-DAP, ECF No. 4. Laurel County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Laurel County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45105-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Laurel County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Laurel County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Laurel County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Laurel County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Laurel County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Laurel County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Laurel County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Laurel County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Laurel County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Laurel County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Laurel County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Laurel County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Laurel County filed its original complaint on September 29, 2017. See Laurel County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45105-DAP, ECF No. 2. Despite filing its case years ago, Laurel County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Laurel County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Laurel County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Laurel County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Laurel County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Laurel County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Laurel County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Laurel County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Laurel County filed its original complaint on September 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Laurel County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45105-DAP, ECF No. 2. It is therefore indisputable that Laurel County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Laurel County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Laurel County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Laurel County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

75. Fond du Lac County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45106-DAP: Plaintiff Fond Du Lac County, Wisconsin

Fond Du Lac County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Fond Du Lac County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Fond Du Lac County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Fond Du Lac County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Fond Du Lac County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Fond Du Lac County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Fond Du Lac County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Fond du Lac County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 7. Fond Du Lac County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Fond du Lac County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Fond Du Lac County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Fond Du Lac County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Fond Du Lac County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Fond Du Lac County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Fond Du Lac County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.15% market share for Fond Du Lac County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Fond Du Lac County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Fond Du Lac County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until May 3, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Fond du Lac County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 3, 2018). Fond Du Lac County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Fond Du Lac County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Fond Du Lac County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Fond Du Lac County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Fond Du Lac County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fond du Lac County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Fond Du Lac County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Fond Du Lac County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Fond Du Lac County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Fond Du Lac County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

76. Douglas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45107-DAP: Plaintiff Douglas County, Wisconsin

Douglas County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Douglas County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Douglas County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Douglas County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Douglas County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Douglas County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Douglas County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Douglas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 7. Douglas County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Douglas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Douglas County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Douglas County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Douglas County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Douglas County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Douglas County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.13% market share for Douglas County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Douglas County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Douglas County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.39% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Douglas County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Douglas County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Douglas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Douglas County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Douglas County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Douglas County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Douglas County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Douglas County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Douglas County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Douglas County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Douglas County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Douglas County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Douglas County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

77. Rock County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45108-DAP: Plaintiff Rock County, Wisconsin

Rock County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Rock County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Rock County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Rock County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Rock County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Rock County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Rock County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Rock County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45108-DAP, ECF No. 6. Rock County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Rock County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45108-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Rock County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Rock County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Rock County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Rock County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Rock County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Rock County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rock County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Rock County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Rock County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Rock County began receiving those services on January 1, 2006. See id. Inasmuch as Rock County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Rock County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Rock County's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Rock County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Rock County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45108-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Rock County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Rock County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Rock County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Rock County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Rock County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Rock County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45108-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Rock County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Rock County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Rock County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See

Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Rock County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

78. Pulaski County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45109-DAP: Plaintiff Pulaski County, Kentucky

Pulaski County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pulaski County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pulaski County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pulaski County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Pulaski County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pulaski County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pulaski County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Pulaski County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45109-DAP, ECF No. 5. Pulaski County amended its complaint again on March 9, 2019. See Pulaski County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45109-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pulaski County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Pulaski County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Pulaski County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pulaski County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause.

See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Pulaski County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Pulaski County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Pulaski County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Pulaski County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Pulaski County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pulaski County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Pulaski County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pulaski County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Pulaski County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Pulaski County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Pulaski County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Pulaski County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Pulaski County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Pulaski County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Pulaski County's potential claims against them. Pulaski County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pulaski County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pulaski County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pulaski County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pulaski County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Pulaski County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45109-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Pulaski County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Pulaski County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pulaski County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pulaski County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

79. Perry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45110-DAP: Plaintiff Perry County, Kentucky

Perry County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Perry County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Perry County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Perry County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Perry County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Perry County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Perry County first amended its complaint on October 4, 2017. See Perry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45110-DAP, ECF No. 5. Perry County amended its complaint again on March 14, 2019. See Perry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45110-DAP, ECF No. 29. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Perry County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Perry County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Perry County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Perry County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Perry County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Perry County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Perry County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Perry County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Perry County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Perry County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Perry County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.03% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Perry County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Perry County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017. See Perry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45110-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Perry County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Perry County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Perry County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Perry County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Perry County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Perry County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Perry County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Perry County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Perry County filed its original complaint on September 25, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Perry County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45110-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Perry County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, almost seven years before seeking leave to amend. Perry County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Perry County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Perry County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

80. Eau Claire County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45112-DAP: Plaintiff Eau Claire County, Wisconsin

Eau Claire County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Eau Claire County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Eau Claire County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Eau Claire County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Eau Claire County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Eau Claire County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Eau Claire County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Eau Claire County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45112-DAP, ECF No. 7. Eau Claire County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Eau Claire County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45112-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Eau Claire County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Eau Claire County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Eau Claire County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Eau Claire County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Eau Claire County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Eau Claire County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Eau Claire County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Eau Claire County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Eau Claire County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until August 23, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—nine months later. See Eau Claire County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45112-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: August 23, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Eau Claire County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Eau Claire County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Eau Claire County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Eau Claire County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Eau Claire County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Eau Claire County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Eau Claire County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Eau Claire County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Eau Claire County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45112-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Eau Claire County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Eau Claire County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Eau Claire County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Eau Claire County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

81. Washington County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45114-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Wisconsin

Washington County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Washington County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Washington County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Washington County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Washington County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Washington County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Washington County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Washington County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45114-DAP, ECF No. 6. Washington County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Washington County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45114-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Washington County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Washington County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Washington County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Washington County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Washington County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.27% market share for Washington County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Washington County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Washington County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.43% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Washington County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Washington County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Washington County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45114-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Washington County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Washington County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Washington County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Washington County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Washington County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Washington County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45114-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Washington County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Washington County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Washington County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Washington County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

82. Rusk County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45116-DAP: Plaintiff Rusk County, Wisconsin

Rusk County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Rusk County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Rusk County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Rusk County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Rusk County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Rusk County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Rusk County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Rusk County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 6. Rusk County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Rusk County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Rusk County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Rusk County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Rusk County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Rusk County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Rusk County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Rusk County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rusk County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Rusk County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.22% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rusk County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Rusk County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 25, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Rusk County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 25, 2018). Rusk County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Rusk County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Rusk County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Rusk County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Rusk County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Rusk County v. Purdue Pharma Inc et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Rusk County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Rusk County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Rusk County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Rusk County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

83. Columbia County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45118-DAP: Plaintiff Columbia County, Wisconsin

Columbia County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Columbia County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Columbia County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Columbia County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Columbia County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Columbia County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Columbia County first amended its complaint on July 6, 2018. See Columbia County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45118-DAP, ECF No. 7. Columbia County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Columbia County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45118-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Columbia County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Columbia County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Columbia County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Columbia County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Columbia County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Columbia County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Columbia County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Columbia County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.18% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Columbia County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Columbia County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017. See Columbia County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45118-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Columbia County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Columbia County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Columbia County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Columbia County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Columbia County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Columbia County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Columbia County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Columbia County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Columbia County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Columbia County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Columbia County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Columbia County's potential claims against them. Columbia County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Columbia County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Columbia County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Columbia County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Columbia County filed its first amended complaint on July 6, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Columbia County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45118-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Columbia County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Columbia County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Columbia County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Columbia County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

84. Shawano County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45119-DAP: Plaintiff Shawano County, Wisconsin

Shawano County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Shawano County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Shawano County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Shawano County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Shawano County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Shawano County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Shawano County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Shawano County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 6. Shawano County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Shawano County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Shawano County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Shawano County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Shawano County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Shawano County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Shawano County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.17% market share for Shawano County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Shawano County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Shawano County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.39% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Shawano County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Shawano County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Shawano County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until May 22, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—over six months later. See Shawano County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 22, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Shawano County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Shawano County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Shawano County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Shawano County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Shawano County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Shawano County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Shawano County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Shawano County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Shawano County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Shawano County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend.

Shawano County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Shawano County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Shawano County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

85. Jackson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45121-DAP: Plaintiff Jackson County, Wisconsin

Jackson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jackson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jackson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jackson County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Jackson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jackson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jackson County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Jackson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45121-DAP, ECF No. 7. Jackson County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Jackson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No.

1:17-op-45121-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jackson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Jackson County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jackson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jackson County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jackson County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Jackson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jackson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jackson County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.35% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jackson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Jackson County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Jackson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45121-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Jackson County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jackson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jackson County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jackson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jackson County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Jackson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45121-DAP, ECF

No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Jackson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Jackson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jackson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jackson County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

86. Jefferson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson County, Wisconsin

Jefferson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jefferson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jefferson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jefferson County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Jefferson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jefferson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jefferson County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Jefferson County v. Purdue

Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 5. Jefferson County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Jefferson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jefferson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Jefferson County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jefferson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jefferson County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jefferson County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.13% market share for Jefferson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jefferson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jefferson County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.49% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jefferson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Jefferson County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Jefferson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Jefferson County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jefferson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jefferson County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jefferson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jefferson County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Jefferson County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Jefferson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Jefferson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jefferson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jefferson County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

87. Washburn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45123-DAP: Plaintiff Washburn County, Wisconsin

Washburn County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Washburn County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Washburn County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Washburn County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Washburn County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Washburn County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Washburn County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Washburn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45123-DAP, ECF No. 6. Washburn County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Washburn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45123-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Washburn County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Washburn County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Washburn County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Washburn County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Washburn County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Washburn County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Washburn County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Washburn County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.40% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Washburn County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Washburn County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until May 1, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Washburn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45123-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 1, 2018). Washburn County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Washburn County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Washburn County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Washburn County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Washburn County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Washburn County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Washburn County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Washburn County's potential claims against them. Washburn County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Washburn County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Washburn County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Washburn County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Washburn County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Washburn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45123-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Washburn County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Washburn County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Washburn County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Washburn County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

88. Langlade County v. Purdue Frederick Co et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45124-DAP: Plaintiff Langlade County, Wisconsin

Langlade County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Langlade County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Langlade County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Langlade County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Langlade County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Langlade County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Langlade County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Langlade County v. Purdue Frederick Co et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45124-DAP, ECF No. 6. Langlade County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Langlade County v. Purdue Frederick Co et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45124-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Langlade County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above.

Langlade County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Langlade County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Langlade County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Langlade County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Langlade County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Langlade County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Langlade County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.22% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Langlade County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Langlade County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Langlade County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until November 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—one year later. See Langlade County v. Purdue Frederick Co et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45124-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: November 27, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Langlade County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Langlade County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Langlade County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Langlade County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Langlade County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Langlade County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Langlade County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Langlade County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Langlade County v. Purdue Frederick Co et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45124-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Langlade County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Langlade County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Langlade County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Langlade County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

89. Florence County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45125-DAP: Plaintiff Florence County, Wisconsin

Florence County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Florence County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Florence County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Florence County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Florence County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Florence County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Florence County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Florence County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45125-DAP, ECF No. 6. Florence County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Florence County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45125-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Florence County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Florence County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Florence County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Florence County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Florence County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Florence County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45125-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Florence County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Florence County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Florence County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Florence County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Florence County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Florence County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Florence County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Florence County’s potential claims against them. Florence County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Florence County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Florence County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Florence County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Florence County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Florence County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45125-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Florence County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Florence County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Florence County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Florence County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

90. Price County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45126-DAP: Plaintiff Price County, Wisconsin

Price County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Price County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Price County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Price County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Price County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Price County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Price County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Price County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45126-DAP, ECF No. 6. Price County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Price County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45126-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Price County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Price County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Price County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Price County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Price County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Price County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Price County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Price County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Price County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until July 17, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—eight months later. See Price County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45126-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: July 17, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Price County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Price County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Price County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Price County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Price County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Price County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Price County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Price County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Price County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45126-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Price County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Price County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Price County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Price County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

91. Wood County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45127-DAP: Plaintiff Wood County, Wisconsin

Wood County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Wood County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Wood County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Wood County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Wood County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Wood County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Wood County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Wood County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45127-DAP, ECF No. 6. Wood County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Wood County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45127-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Wood County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Wood County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Wood County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Wood County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Wood County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Wood County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Wood County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Wood County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.42% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Wood County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Wood County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Wood County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45127-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Wood County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Wood County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Wood County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Wood County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Wood County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Wood County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45127-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Wood County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Wood County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Wood County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Wood County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

92. Sheboygan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45128-DAP: Plaintiff Sheboygan County, Wisconsin

Sheboygan County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Sheboygan County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Sheboygan County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Sheboygan County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Sheboygan County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Sheboygan County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Sheboygan County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Sheboygan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45128-DAP, ECF No. 7. Sheboygan County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Sheboygan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45128-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Sheboygan County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Sheboygan County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Sheboygan County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Sheboygan County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Sheboygan County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Sheboygan County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sheboygan County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Sheboygan County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.38% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sheboygan County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Sheboygan County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Sheboygan County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until August 15, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—nine months later. See Sheboygan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45128-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: August 15, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Sheboygan County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Sheboygan County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Sheboygan County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Sheboygan County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Sheboygan County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Sheboygan County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Sheboygan County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Sheboygan County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Sheboygan County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45128-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Sheboygan County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Sheboygan County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Sheboygan County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Sheboygan County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

93. Oneida County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45129-DAP: Plaintiff Oneida County, Wisconsin

Oneida County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Oneida County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Oneida County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Oneida County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Oneida County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Oneida County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Oneida County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Oneida County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45129-DAP, ECF No. 6. Oneida County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Oneida County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45129-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Oneida County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Oneida County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Oneida County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Oneida County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Oneida County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Oneida County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Oneida County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Oneida County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Oneida County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Oneida County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 28, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Oneida County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45129-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 28, 2018). Oneida County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Oneida County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Oneida County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Oneida County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Oneida County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Oneida County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45129-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Oneida County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Oneida County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Oneida County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Oneida County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

94. Ashland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45130-DAP: Plaintiff Ashland County, Wisconsin

Ashland County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Ashland County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Ashland County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Ashland County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Ashland County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Ashland County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Ashland County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Ashland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45130-DAP, ECF No. 5. Ashland County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Ashland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45130-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Ashland County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Ashland County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Ashland County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Ashland County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Ashland County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Ashland County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ashland County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Ashland County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.16% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ashland County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Ashland County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Ashland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45130-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Ashland County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Ashland County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Ashland County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Ashland County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Ashland County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Ashland County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Ashland County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Ashland County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Ashland County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Ashland County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Ashland County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Ashland County's potential claims against them. Ashland County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Ashland County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Ashland County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Ashland County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Ashland County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Ashland County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45130-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Ashland County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Ashland County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Ashland County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Ashland County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

95. Chippewa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Chippewa County, Wisconsin

Chippewa County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Chippewa County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Chippewa County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Chippewa County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Chippewa County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Chippewa County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Chippewa County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Chippewa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 5. Chippewa County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Chippewa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Chippewa County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Chippewa County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Chippewa County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Chippewa County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Chippewa County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.13% market share for Chippewa County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Chippewa County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Chippewa County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.28% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Chippewa County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Chippewa County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until May 7, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Chippewa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 7, 2018). Chippewa County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Chippewa County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Chippewa County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Chippewa County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Chippewa County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Chippewa County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Chippewa County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Chippewa County's potential claims against them. Chippewa County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Chippewa County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Chippewa County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Chippewa County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Chippewa County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Chippewa County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Chippewa County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Chippewa County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Chippewa County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Chippewa County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

96. Dunn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45133-DAP: Plaintiff Dunn County, Wisconsin

Dunn County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Dunn County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Dunn County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Dunn County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Dunn County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Dunn County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Dunn County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Dunn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 5. Dunn County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Dunn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Dunn County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Dunn County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Dunn County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Dunn County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Dunn County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.10% market share for Dunn County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dunn County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Dunn County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.17% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dunn County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Dunn County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Dunn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Dunn County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Dunn County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Dunn County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Dunn County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Dunn County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Dunn County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Dunn County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Dunn County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Dunn County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Dunn County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Dunn County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Dunn County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Dunn County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Dunn County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

97. Forest County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45134-DAP: Plaintiff Forest County, Wisconsin

Forest County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Forest County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Forest County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Forest County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Forest County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Forest County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Forest County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Forest County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45134-DAP, ECF No. 5. Forest County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Forest County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45134-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Forest County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Forest County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Forest County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Forest County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Forest County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.12% market share for Forest County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Forest County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Forest County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.12% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Forest County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Forest County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Forest County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45134-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Forest County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Forest County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Forest County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Forest County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Forest County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Forest County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Forest County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Forest County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Forest County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Forest County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45134-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Forest County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Forest County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No.

2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Forest County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Forest County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

98. Manitowoc County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45135-DAP: Plaintiff Manitowoc County, Wisconsin

Manitowoc County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Manitowoc County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Manitowoc County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Manitowoc County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Manitowoc County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Manitowoc County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Manitowoc County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Manitowoc County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45135-DAP, ECF No. 5. Manitowoc County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Manitowoc County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45135-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Manitowoc County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Manitowoc County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Manitowoc County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Manitowoc County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Manitowoc County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Manitowoc County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Manitowoc County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Manitowoc County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Manitowoc County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45135-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Manitowoc County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Manitowoc County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Manitowoc County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Manitowoc County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Manitowoc County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Manitowoc County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45135-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Manitowoc County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Manitowoc County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Manitowoc County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Manitowoc County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

99. Marquette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Marquette County, Wisconsin

Marquette County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marquette County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marquette County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marquette County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Marquette County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marquette County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marquette County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Marquette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45136-DAP, ECF No. 5. Marquette County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Marquette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45136-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marquette County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Marquette County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Marquette County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marquette County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879

(affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marquette County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marquette County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marquette County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marquette County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marquette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45136-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Marquette County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Marquette County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marquette County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marquette County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

100. Sawyer County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45137-DAP: Plaintiff Sawyer County, Wisconsin

Sawyer County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Sawyer County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Sawyer County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Sawyer County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Sawyer County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Sawyer County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Sawyer County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Sawyer County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45137-DAP, ECF No. 5. Sawyer County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Sawyer County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45137-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Sawyer County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Sawyer County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Sawyer County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Sawyer County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Sawyer County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Sawyer County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sawyer County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Sawyer County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.36% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sawyer County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Sawyer County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Sawyer County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45137-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Sawyer County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Sawyer County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Sawyer County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Sawyer County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Sawyer County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Sawyer County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Sawyer County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Sawyer County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Sawyer County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Sawyer County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45137-DAP, ECF

No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Sawyer County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Sawyer County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Sawyer County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Sawyer County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

101. Trempealeau County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45138-DAP: Plaintiff Trempealeau County, Wisconsin

Trempealeau County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Trempealeau County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Trempealeau County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Trempealeau County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Trempealeau County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Trempealeau County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Trempealeau County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Trempealeau

County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45138-DAP, ECF No. 6. Trempealeau County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Trempealeau County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45138-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Trempealeau County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Trempealeau County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Trempealeau County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Trempealeau County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Trempealeau County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.22% market share for Trempealeau County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Trempealeau County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Trempealeau County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.46% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Trempealeau County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Trempealeau County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Trempealeau County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until August 16, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—eight months later. See Trempealeau County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45138-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: August 16, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Trempealeau County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Trempealeau County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Trempealeau County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Trempealeau County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Trempealeau County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Trempealeau County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Trempealeau County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Trempealeau County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Trempealeau County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above.

Trempealeau County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Trempealeau County's potential claims against them. Trempealeau County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Trempealeau County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Trempealeau County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Trempealeau County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Trempealeau County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Trempealeau County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45138-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Trempealeau County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Trempealeau County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Trempealeau County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Trempealeau County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

102. Waushara County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45139-DAP: Plaintiff Waushara County, Wisconsin

Waushara County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Waushara County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Waushara County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Waushara County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Waushara County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Waushara County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Waushara County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Waushara County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45139-DAP, ECF No. 5. Waushara County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Waushara County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45139-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Waushara County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Waushara County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Waushara County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Waushara County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Waushara County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.20% market share for Waushara County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Waushara County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Waushara County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Waushara County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45139-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Waushara County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend.

See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6 Waushara County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Waushara County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Waushara County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Waushara County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Waushara County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45139-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Waushara County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Waushara County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Waushara County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Waushara County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

103. Buffalo County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45141-DAP: Plaintiff Buffalo County, Wisconsin

Buffalo County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Buffalo County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Buffalo County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Buffalo County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Buffalo County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Buffalo County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Buffalo County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Buffalo County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45141-DAP, ECF No. 5. Buffalo County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019 See Buffalo County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45141-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Buffalo County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Buffalo County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Buffalo County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Buffalo County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Buffalo County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.27% market share for Buffalo County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buffalo County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Buffalo County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Buffalo County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45141-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Buffalo County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Buffalo County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Buffalo County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Buffalo County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Buffalo County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Buffalo County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Buffalo County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Buffalo County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Buffalo County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Buffalo County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Buffalo County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Buffalo County’s potential claims against them. Buffalo County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Buffalo County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Buffalo County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Buffalo County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Buffalo County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Buffalo County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45141-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Buffalo County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Buffalo County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Buffalo County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Buffalo County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

104. Calumet County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45142-DAP: Plaintiff Calumet County, Wisconsin

Calumet County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Calumet County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Calumet County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Calumet County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Calumet County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Calumet County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Calumet County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Calumet County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45142-DAP, ECF No. 5. Calumet County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Calumet County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45142-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Calumet County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Calumet County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Calumet County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Calumet County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Calumet County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.16% market share for Calumet County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Calumet County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Calumet County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Calumet County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until November 1, 2021 to implement a litigation hold—almost four years later. See Calumet County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45142-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: November 1, 2021). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Calumet County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Calumet County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Calumet County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Calumet County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Calumet County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Calumet County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Calumet County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Calumet County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Calumet County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45142-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Calumet County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Calumet County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Calumet County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Calumet County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

105. Dodge County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45143-DAP: Plaintiff Dodge County, Wisconsin

Dodge County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Dodge County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Dodge County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Dodge County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Dodge County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Dodge County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Dodge County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Dodge County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45143-DAP, ECF No. 5. Dodge County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Dodge County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45143-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Dodge County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Dodge County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Dodge County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Dodge County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Dodge County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.23% market share for Dodge County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dodge County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Dodge County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.33% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dodge County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Dodge County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Dodge County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45143-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Dodge County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Dodge County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Dodge County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Dodge County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Dodge County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Dodge County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45143-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Dodge County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Dodge County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Dodge County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Dodge County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

106. Kenosha County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45144-DAP: Plaintiff Kenosha County, Wisconsin

Kenosha County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Kenosha County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Kenosha County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Kenosha County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Kenosha County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Kenosha County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Kenosha County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Kenosha County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45144-DAP, ECF No. 5. Kenosha County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Kenosha County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45144-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Kenosha County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Kenosha County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Kenosha County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Kenosha County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Kenosha County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson

Decl. (0.11% market share for Kenosha County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Kenosha County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Kenosha County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Kenosha County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45144-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Kenosha County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Kenosha County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Kenosha County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Kenosha County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Kenosha County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Kenosha County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Kenosha County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Kenosha County's potential claims against them. Kenosha County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Kenosha County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Kenosha County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Kenosha County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Kenosha County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Kenosha County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45144-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Kenosha County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Kenosha County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Kenosha County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Kenosha County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

107. Marinette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45145-DAP: Plaintiff Marinette County, Wisconsin

Marinette County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marinette County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marinette County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marinette County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Marinette County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marinette County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marinette County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Marinette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45145-DAP, ECF No. 4. Marinette County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Marinette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45145-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marinette County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Marinette County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Marinette County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marinette County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marinette County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.17% market share for Marinette County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marinette County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Marinette County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Marinette County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until July 12, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—seven months later. See Marinette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45145-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: July 12, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Marinette County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Marinette County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Marinette County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Marinette County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Marinette County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Marinette County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Marinette County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Marinette County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Marinette County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Marinette County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Marinette County’s potential claims against them. Marinette County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marinette County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment

substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marinette County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marinette County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marinette County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marinette County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45145-DAP, ECF No. 4. It is therefore indisputable that Marinette County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Marinette County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marinette County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marinette County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

108. St. Croix County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45147-DAP: Plaintiff St. Croix County, Wisconsin

St. Croix County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. St. Croix County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. St. Croix County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, St. Croix County's motion should be denied due to futility, as St. Croix County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. St. Croix County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, St. Croix County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See St. Croix County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 5. St. Croix County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See St. Croix County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, St. Croix County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. St. Croix County's deadline to amend was in 2019. St. Croix County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. St. Croix County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to St. Croix County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for St. Croix County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for St. Croix County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to St. Croix County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.23% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for St. Croix County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. St. Croix County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. St. Croix County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until June 20, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—six months later. See St. Croix County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: June 20, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating St. Croix County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of St. Croix County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by St. Croix County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and St. Croix County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But St. Croix County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. St. Croix County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for St. Croix County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. St. Croix County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See St. Croix County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that St. Croix County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. St. Croix County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. St. Croix County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. St. Croix County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

109. Vernon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45148-DAP: Plaintiff Vernon County, Wisconsin

Vernon County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Vernon County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Vernon County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Vernon County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Vernon County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Vernon County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Vernon County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Vernon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45148-DAP, ECF No. 5. Vernon County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Vernon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45148-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Vernon County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Vernon County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Vernon County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Vernon County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Vernon County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Vernon County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Vernon County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Vernon County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.33% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Vernon County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Vernon County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Vernon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45148-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Vernon County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Vernon County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Vernon County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Vernon County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Vernon County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Vernon County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45148-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Vernon County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Vernon County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Vernon County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Vernon County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

110. Clark County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45150-DAP: Plaintiff Clark County, Wisconsin

Clark County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clark County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clark County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clark County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Clark County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clark County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clark County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Clark County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45150-DAP, ECF No. 5. Clark County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Clark County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45150-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clark County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Clark County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Clark County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clark County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clark County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Clark County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clark County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Clark County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.10% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clark County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Clark County filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Clark County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45150-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Clark County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Clark County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Clark County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Clark County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Clark County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clark County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clark County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clark County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clark County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Clark County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45150-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Clark County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Clark County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clark County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clark County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

111. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45151-DAP: Plaintiff Washington County, Illinois

Washington County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Washington County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Washington County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Washington County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Washington County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Washington County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Washington County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45151-DAP, ECF No. 17. Unlike many other plaintiffs,

Washington County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Washington County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Washington County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Washington County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Washington County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Washington County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Washington County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Washington County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.48% market share for Washington County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Washington County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Washington County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Washington County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Washington County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Washington County filed its original complaint on October 26, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45151-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Washington County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Washington County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Washington County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Washington County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

112. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45152-DAP: Plaintiff Gallatin County, Illinois

Gallatin County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Gallatin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Gallatin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Gallatin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Gallatin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Gallatin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Gallatin County amended its complaint on March 5, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45152-DAP, ECF No. 17. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Gallatin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Gallatin County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Gallatin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Gallatin County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Gallatin County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Gallatin County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Gallatin County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Gallatin County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.44% market share for Gallatin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gallatin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Gallatin County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.44% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gallatin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Gallatin County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Gallatin County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Gallatin County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Gallatin County filed its original complaint on October 26, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants.

See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45152-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Gallatin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Gallatin County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Gallatin County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Gallatin County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

113. Buncombe County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45153-DAP: Plaintiff Buncombe County, North Carolina

Buncombe County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Buncombe County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Buncombe County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Buncombe County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Buncombe County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Buncombe County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above.

Moreover, Buncombe County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See Buncombe County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45153-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Buncombe County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Buncombe County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Buncombe County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Buncombe County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Buncombe County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Buncombe County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Buncombe County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Buncombe County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Buncombe County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buncombe County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Buncombe County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buncombe County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Buncombe County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Buncombe County filed its original complaint on November 14, 2017, but waited until September 26, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—nearly seven years later. See Buncombe County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45153-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 26, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Buncombe County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Buncombe County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Buncombe County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Buncombe County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Buncombe County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Buncombe County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Buncombe County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Buncombe County filed its original complaint on November 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Buncombe County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45153-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Buncombe County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Buncombe County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Buncombe County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Buncombe County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

114. County of Rusk v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45154-DAP: Plaintiff Rusk County, Texas

Rusk County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Rusk County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Rusk County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Rusk County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Rusk County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Rusk County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Rusk County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See County of Rusk v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45154-DAP, ECF No. 56. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Rusk County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Rusk County's deadline to amend was in 2019.

Rusk County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Rusk County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Rusk County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Rusk County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rusk County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Rusk County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.39% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rusk County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Rusk County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017. See County of Rusk v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45154-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Rusk County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Rusk County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Rusk County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Rusk County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Rusk County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Rusk County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Rusk County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Rusk County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Rusk County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Rusk v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45154-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Rusk County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Rusk County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Rusk County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Rusk County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

115. County of Cherokee v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45155-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee County, Texas

Cherokee County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cherokee County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cherokee County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cherokee County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Cherokee County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cherokee County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cherokee County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 20, 2017. See County of Cherokee v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45155-DAP, ECF No. 46. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cherokee County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Cherokee County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Cherokee County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cherokee County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cherokee County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Cherokee County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cherokee County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cherokee County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.22% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cherokee County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Cherokee County filed its original complaint on November 20, 2017. See County of Cherokee v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45155-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Cherokee County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Cherokee County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Cherokee County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Cherokee County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Cherokee County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Cherokee County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Cherokee County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Cherokee County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Cherokee County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Cherokee County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Cherokee County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Cherokee County’s potential claims against them. Cherokee County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cherokee County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cherokee County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cherokee County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cherokee County filed its original complaint on November 20, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Cherokee v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45155-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Cherokee County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Cherokee County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cherokee County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cherokee County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

116. Township of Irvington v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45156-DAP: Plaintiff Irvington Township, New Jersey

Irvington Township's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Irvington Township failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Irvington Township also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Irvington Township's motion should be denied due to futility, as Irvington Township does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Irvington Township was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Irvington Township first amended its complaint on December 6, 2017. See Township of Irvington v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45156-DAP, ECF No. 4. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Irvington Township declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Irvington Township's deadline to amend was in 2019. Irvington Township waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Irvington Township's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Irvington Township’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Irvington Township). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Irvington Township to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Irvington Township’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.21% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Irvington Township to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Irvington Township previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Irvington Township of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Irvington Township began receiving those services on January 2, 2006. See id. Inasmuch as Irvington Township seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am.

Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Irvington Township knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Irvington Township’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Irvington Township filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017. See Township of Irvington v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45156-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Irvington Township never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Irvington Township’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Irvington Township’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Irvington Township’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Irvington Township therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under New Jersey law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Irvington Township’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under New Jersey law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Irvington Township, a municipality in New Jersey, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Irvington Township's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Irvington Township filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Township of Irvington v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45156-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Irvington Township knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Irvington Township's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Irvington Township's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Irvington Township, a municipality in New Jersey, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

117. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45157-DAP: Plaintiff Hamilton County, Illinois

Hamilton County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Hamilton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Hamilton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Hamilton County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Hamilton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Hamilton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Hamilton County amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 21, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45157-DAP, ECF No. 15. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Hamilton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Hamilton County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Hamilton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Hamilton County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Hamilton County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Hamilton County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Hamilton County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Hamilton County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.45% market share for Hamilton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hamilton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Hamilton County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Hamilton County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Hamilton County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Hamilton County filed its original complaint on October 27, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45157-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Hamilton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Hamilton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Hamilton County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Hamilton County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

118. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45158-DAP: Plaintiff Pulaski County, Illinois

Pulaski County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pulaski County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pulaski County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pulaski County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Pulaski County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pulaski County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pulaski County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 21, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45158-DAP, ECF No. 14. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pulaski County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Pulaski County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Pulaski County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pulaski County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Pulaski County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Pulaski County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Pulaski County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Pulaski County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Pulaski County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pulaski County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Pulaski County filed its original complaint on November 17, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45158-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Pulaski County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Pulaski County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Pulaski County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Pulaski County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Pulaski County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pulaski County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pulaski County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pulaski County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pulaski County filed its original complaint on November 17, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45158-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Pulaski County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Pulaski County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pulaski County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pulaski County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

119. County of Bowie v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45159-DAP: Plaintiff Bowie County, Texas

Bowie County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Bowie County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Bowie County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Bowie County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Bowie County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Bowie County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Bowie County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 21, 2017. See County of Bowie v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45159-DAP, ECF

No. 83. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Bowie County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Bowie County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Bowie County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Bowie County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Bowie County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Bowie County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bowie County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Bowie County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.41% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bowie County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Bowie County filed its original complaint on October 2, 2017. See County of Bowie v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45159-

DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Bowie County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Bowie County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Bowie County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Bowie County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Bowie County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Bowie County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Bowie County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Bowie County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Bowie County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Bowie County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Bowie County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Bowie County’s potential claims against them. Bowie County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Bowie County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Bowie County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Bowie County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Bowie County filed its original complaint on October 2, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Bowie v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45159-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Bowie County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, seven years before seeking leave to amend. Bowie County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Bowie County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Bowie County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

120. County of Red River v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45160-DAP: Plaintiff Red River County, Texas

Red River County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Red River County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Red River County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Red River County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Red River County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Red River County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Red River County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 21, 2017. See County of Red River v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45160-DAP, ECF No. 58. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Red River County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Red River County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Red River County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Red River County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Red River County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Red River County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Red River County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Red River County filed its original complaint on November 2, 2017. See County of Red River v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45160-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Red River County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Red River County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Red River County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Red River County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Red River County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Red River County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Red River County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Red River County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Red River County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Red River County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Red River County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Red River County's potential claims against them. Red River County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Red River County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Red River County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Red River County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Red River County filed its original complaint on November 2, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Red River v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45160-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Red River County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Red River County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Red River County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Red River County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

121. County of Titus v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45161-DAP: Plaintiff Titus County, Texas

Titus County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Titus County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Titus County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Titus County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Titus County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Titus County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Titus County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 21, 2017. See County of Titus v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45161-DAP, ECF No. 57. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Titus County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Titus County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Titus County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Titus County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Titus County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Titus County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Titus County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Titus County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.17% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Titus County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Titus County filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017. See County of Titus v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45161-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Titus County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Titus County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Titus County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Titus County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Titus County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Titus County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Titus County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Titus County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Titus County filed its original complaint on November 8, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Titus v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45161-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Titus County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Titus County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Titus County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Titus County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

122. County of Lamar v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45162-DAP: Plaintiff Lamar County, Texas

Lamar County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lamar County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lamar County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lamar County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lamar County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lamar County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lamar County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 21, 2017. See County of Lamar v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45162-DAP, ECF No. 58. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lamar County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lamar County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lamar County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lamar County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lamar County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Lamar County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lamar County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Lamar County filed its original complaint on November 20, 2017. See County of Lamar v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45162-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Lamar County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Lamar County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Lamar County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Lamar County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Lamar County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Lamar County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Lamar County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Lamar County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Lamar County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Lamar County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Lamar County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Lamar County's potential claims against them. Lamar County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lamar County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lamar County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lamar County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lamar County filed its original complaint on November 20, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Lamar v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45162-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lamar County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Lamar County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lamar County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lamar County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

123. Pierce County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45165-DAP: Plaintiff Pierce County, Wisconsin

Pierce County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pierce County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pierce County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pierce County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Pierce County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pierce County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pierce County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Pierce County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45165-DAP, ECF No. 6. Pierce County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Pierce County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45165-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pierce County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Pierce County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Pierce County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pierce County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Pierce County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Pierce County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pierce County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Pierce County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until May 2, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Pierce County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45165-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 2, 2018). Pierce County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pierce County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pierce County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pierce County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pierce County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Pierce County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45165-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Pierce County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on November 7, 2021. Pierce County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pierce County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pierce County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

124. Waupaca County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45166-DAP: Plaintiff Waupaca County, Wisconsin

Waupaca County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Waupaca County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Waupaca County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Waupaca County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Waupaca County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Waupaca County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Waupaca County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Waupaca County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45166-DAP, ECF No. 6. Waupaca County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Waupaca County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45166-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Waupaca County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Waupaca County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Waupaca County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Waupaca County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Waupaca County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Waupaca County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Waupaca County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Waupaca County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.33% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Waupaca County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Waupaca County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017. See Waupaca County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45166-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Waupaca County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Waupaca County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Waupaca County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Waupaca County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Waupaca County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Waupaca County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Waupaca County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Waupaca County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Waupaca County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Waupaca County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45166-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Waupaca County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on November 7, 2021. Waupaca County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Waupaca County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Waupaca County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

125. Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45167-DAP: Plaintiff Lincoln County, Wisconsin

Lincoln County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lincoln County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lincoln County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lincoln County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lincoln County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lincoln County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lincoln County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45167-DAP, ECF No. 6. Lincoln County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45167-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lincoln County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Lincoln County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lincoln County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lincoln County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lincoln County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.11% market share for Lincoln County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lincoln County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Lincoln County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.38% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lincoln County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Lincoln County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45167-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Lincoln County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lincoln County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lincoln County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lincoln County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lincoln County filed its original complaint on November 7, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Lincoln County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45167-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Lincoln County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on November 7, 2021. Lincoln County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lincoln County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lincoln County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

126. Clark County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45172-DAP: Plaintiff Clark County, Kentucky

Clark County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clark County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clark County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clark County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Clark County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clark County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clark County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 28, 2017. See Clark County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45172-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clark County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Clark County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Clark County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clark County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Clark County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Clark County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Clark County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clark County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Clark County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clark County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Clark County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.20% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clark County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clark County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clark County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clark County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clark County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Clark County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45172-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Clark County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Clark County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clark County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clark County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

127. Scott County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45173-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Kentucky

Scott County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Scott County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Scott County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Scott County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Scott County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Scott County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Scott County amended its complaint on March 9, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 28, 2017. See Scott County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45173-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Scott County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Scott County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Scott County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Scott County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Scott County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Scott County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Scott County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Scott County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson

Decl. (0.01% market share for Scott County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scott County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Scott County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.16% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scott County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Scott County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Scott County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Scott County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Scott County filed its original complaint on December 2, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Scott County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45173-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Scott County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Scott County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Scott County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Scott County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

128. Woodford County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45174-DAP: Plaintiff Woodford County, Kentucky

Woodford County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Woodford County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Woodford County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Woodford County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Woodford County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Woodford County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Woodford County amended its complaint on March 9, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on December 28, 2017. See Woodford County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45174-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Woodford County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Woodford County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Woodford County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Woodford County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Woodford County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Woodford County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Woodford County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Woodford County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Woodford County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Woodford County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Woodford County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.40% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Woodford County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Woodford County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Woodford County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Woodford County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Woodford County filed its original complaint on December 2, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Woodford County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:17-op-45174-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Woodford County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Woodford County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Woodford County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Woodford County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

129. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan v. Purdue Pharma, Case No. 1:18-op-45001-DAP: Plaintiff Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan, Massachusetts

Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017 and the case was transferred to the MDL on January 3, 2018. See Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan v. Purdue Pharma, Case No. 1:18-op-45001-DAP, ECF No. 8. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan could have amended its complaint, without leave, to add claims against the PBMs in 2019. See Section II.A.1, above. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan elected not to do so. Instead, Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, but waited until April 25, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan v. Purdue Pharma, Case No. 1:18-op-45001-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 25, 2018). Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Massachusetts law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Massachusetts law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan, a third party payor in Massachusetts, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan v. Purdue Pharma, Case No. 1:18-op-45001-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Massachusetts, public-nuisance claims are subject to a three-year limitations period. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan's public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on November 28, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 ("This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations." (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Local 404 Teamsters Health Service and Insurance Plan, a third party payor in Massachusetts, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

130. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45003-DAP: Plaintiff Hardin County, Illinois

Hardin County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Hardin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Hardin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Hardin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Hardin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Hardin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Hardin County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 5, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45003-DAP, ECF No. 17. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Hardin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Hardin County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Hardin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Hardin County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Hardin County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Hardin County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Hardin County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Hardin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.13% market share for Hardin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hardin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Hardin County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.21% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hardin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Hardin County filed its original complaint on October 26, 2017. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45003-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Hardin County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Hardin County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Hardin County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Hardin County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Hardin County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Hardin County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Hardin County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Hardin County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Hardin County filed its original complaint on October 26, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants.

See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45003-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Hardin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Hardin County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Hardin County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Hardin County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

131. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45004-DAP: Plaintiff Bond County, Illinois

Bond County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Bond County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Bond County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Bond County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Bond County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Bond County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Bond County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 5, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45004-DAP, ECF No. 18. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Bond County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Bond County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Bond County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Bond County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Bond County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Bond County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Bond County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Bond County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Bond County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bond County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Bond County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Bond County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Bond County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Bond County filed its original complaint on October 26, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45004-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Bond County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Bond County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Bond County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Bond County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

132. Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Cherokee Town, Alabama

Cherokee Town’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cherokee Town failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cherokee Town also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cherokee Town’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Cherokee Town does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cherokee Town was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cherokee Town amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018, as well as on March 15, 2019. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF Nos. 12, 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cherokee Town declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Cherokee Town’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Cherokee Town waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cherokee Town’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cherokee Town’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Cherokee Town). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cherokee Town to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cherokee Town’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.27% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cherokee Town to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Cherokee Town filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No.

1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Cherokee Town never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Cherokee Town’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Cherokee Town’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Cherokee Town’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Cherokee Town therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Cherokee Town failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Cherokee Town’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Cherokee Town of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Cherokee Town refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Cherokee Town’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Cherokee Town’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Cherokee Town’s potential claims against them. Cherokee Town’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cherokee Town’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cherokee Town, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cherokee Town’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cherokee Town filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Cherokee Town first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO’s four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 13, 2021. Cherokee Town’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cherokee Town’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Cherokee Town’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Cherokee Town sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 13, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cherokee Town, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

133. Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Colbert County, Alabama

Colbert County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Colbert County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Colbert County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Colbert County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Colbert County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Colbert County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Colbert County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018, as well as on March 15, 2019. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF Nos. 12, 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Colbert County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Colbert County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Colbert County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Colbert County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Colbert County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Colbert County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Colbert County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Colbert County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Colbert County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Colbert County filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Colbert County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Colbert County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Colbert County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Colbert County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Colbert County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Colbert County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Colbert County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Colbert County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Colbert County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Colbert County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Colbert County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Colbert County's potential claims against them. Colbert County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Colbert County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Colbert County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Colbert County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Colbert County filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Colbert County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 13, 2021. Colbert County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Colbert County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Colbert County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Colbert County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 13, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Colbert County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. See Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Colbert County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

134. Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Alabama

Franklin County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Franklin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Franklin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Franklin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Franklin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Franklin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Franklin County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018, as well as on March 15, 2019. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF Nos. 12, 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Franklin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Franklin County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Franklin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Franklin County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Franklin County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Franklin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Franklin County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Franklin County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.22% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Franklin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Franklin County filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Franklin County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Franklin County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Franklin County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Franklin County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Franklin County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Franklin County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Franklin County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Franklin County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Franklin County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Franklin County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Franklin County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Franklin County's potential claims against them. Franklin County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Franklin County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Franklin County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Franklin County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Franklin County filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Franklin County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO’s four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 13, 2021. Franklin County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Franklin County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Franklin County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Franklin County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 13, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Franklin County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Franklin County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

135. Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP: Plaintiff Tuscumbia City, Alabama

Tuscumbia City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Tuscumbia City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Tuscumbia City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Tuscumbia City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Tuscumbia City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Tuscumbia City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Tuscumbia City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018, as well as on March 15, 2019. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF Nos. 12, 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Tuscumbia City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Tuscumbia City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Tuscumbia City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Tuscumbia City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Tuscumbia City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Tuscumbia City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tuscumbia City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Tuscumbia City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.48% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tuscumbia City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Tuscumbia City filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Tuscumbia City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Tuscumbia City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Tuscumbia City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Tuscumbia City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Tuscumbia City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Tuscumbia City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Tuscumbia City's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Tuscumbia City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Tuscumbia City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Tuscumbia City's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Tuscumbia City's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Tuscumbia City's potential claims against them. Tuscumbia City's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Tuscumbia City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Tuscumbia City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Tuscumbia City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Tuscumbia City filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Town of Cherokee Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45005-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Tuscumbia City first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO’s four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 13, 2021. Tuscumbia City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Tuscumbia City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Tuscumbia City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Tuscumbia City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 13, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Tuscumbia City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

136. New Hanover County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45006-DAP: Plaintiff New Hanover County, North Carolina

New Hanover County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. New Hanover County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. New Hanover County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, New Hanover County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as New Hanover County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. New Hanover County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, New Hanover County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018. See New Hanover County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45006-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, New Hanover County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. New Hanover County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. New Hanover County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. New Hanover County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879

(affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. New Hanover County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. New Hanover County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. New Hanover County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to New Hanover County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for New Hanover County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for New Hanover County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to New Hanover County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.31% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for New Hanover County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But New Hanover County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. New Hanover County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for New Hanover County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. New Hanover County filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See New Hanover County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45006-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that New Hanover County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. New Hanover County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. New Hanover County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. New Hanover County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

137. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45007-DAP: Plaintiff Shelby County, Illinois

Shelby County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Shelby County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Shelby County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Shelby County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Shelby County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Shelby County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Shelby County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45007-DAP, ECF No. 11. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Shelby County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Shelby County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Shelby County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Shelby County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Shelby County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Shelby County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Shelby County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Shelby County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.11% market share for Shelby County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Shelby County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Shelby County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Shelby County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Shelby County began receiving those services on December 17, 2008. See id. Inasmuch as Shelby County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Shelby County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Shelby County's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Shelby County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Shelby County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Shelby County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Shelby County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45007-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Shelby County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Shelby County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Shelby County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Shelby County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

138. Fiscal Court of Bullitt County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45009-DAP: Plaintiff Bullitt County, Kentucky

Bullitt County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Bullitt County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Bullitt County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Bullitt County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Bullitt County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Bullitt County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Bullitt County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 10, 2018. See Fiscal Court of Bullitt County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45009-DAP, ECF No. 14. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Bullitt County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Bullitt County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Bullitt County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Bullitt County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Bullitt County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Bullitt County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Bullitt County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Bullitt County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Bullitt County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bullitt County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Bullitt County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Bullitt County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45009-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Bullitt County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Bullitt County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Bullitt County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Bullitt County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Bullitt County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Bullitt County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Bullitt County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Bullitt County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Bullitt County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Bullitt County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45009-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Bullitt County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Bullitt County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Bullitt County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Bullitt County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

139. Fiscal Court of Hopkins County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45010-DAP: Plaintiff Hopkins County, Kentucky

Hopkins County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Hopkins County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Hopkins County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Hopkins County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Hopkins County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Hopkins County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Hopkins County amended its complaint on March 9, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See Fiscal Court of Hopkins County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 35. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Hopkins County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Hopkins County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Hopkins County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Hopkins County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Hopkins County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Hopkins County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Hopkins County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Hopkins County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Hopkins County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hopkins County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Hopkins County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.17% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hopkins County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Hopkins County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017. See Fiscal Court of Hopkins County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Hopkins County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Hopkins County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Hopkins County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Hopkins County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Hopkins County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Hopkins County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Hopkins County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Hopkins County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Hopkins County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fiscal Court of Hopkins County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45010-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Hopkins County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Hopkins County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Hopkins County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Hopkins County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

140. City of Opp, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45011-DAP: Plaintiff Opp City, Alabama

Opp City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Opp City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Opp City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Opp City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Opp City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Opp City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Opp City amended its complaint on March 7, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See City of Opp, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45011-DAP, ECF No. 21. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Opp City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Opp City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Opp City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Opp City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Opp City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Opp City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Opp City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Opp City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Opp City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Opp City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Opp City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl.,

Exhibit C (0.04% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Opp City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Opp City filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017. See City of Opp, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45011-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Opp City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Opp City's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Opp City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Opp City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Opp City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Opp City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Opp City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Opp City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Opp City filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Opp, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45011-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Opp City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Opp City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Opp City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Opp City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Opp City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 14, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Opp City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

141. Ashland County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45012-DAP: Plaintiff Ashland County, Ohio

Ashland County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Ashland County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Ashland County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Ashland County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Ashland County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Ashland County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Ashland County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 18, 2018. See Ashland County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45012-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Ashland County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Ashland County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Ashland County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Ashland County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704

F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Ashland County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Ashland County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Ashland County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Ashland County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Ashland County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ashland County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Ashland County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Ashland County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Ashland County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Ashland County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Ashland County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Ashland County filed its original complaint on December 8, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See Ashland County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45012-DAP, ECF No. 1. Even assuming arguendo that Ashland County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO’s four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 8, 2021. Ashland County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Ashland County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Ashland County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

142. American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45013-DAP: Plaintiff American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan, New York

American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied as moot because American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan already amended its complaint to add claims against the PBMs, despite the PBMs' objections. See MDL ECF Nos. 5638, 5663, 5697. To the extent American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan seeks to allege additional claims other than those set forth in its September 20, 2024 amended complaint, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees District Council 37 Health & Security Plan has made no attempt to establish good cause.

143. Yadkin County, North Carolina v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45014-DAP: Plaintiff Yadkin County, North Carolina

Yadkin County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Yadkin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Yadkin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Yadkin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Yadkin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Yadkin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Yadkin County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See Yadkin County, North Carolina v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45014-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Yadkin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Yadkin County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Yadkin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Yadkin County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Yadkin County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Yadkin County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Yadkin County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Yadkin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.10% market share for Yadkin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Yadkin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Yadkin County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017, but waited until March 5, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Yadkin County, North Carolina v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45014-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: March 5, 2018). Yadkin County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Yadkin County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Yadkin County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Yadkin County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Yadkin County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Yadkin County, North Carolina v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45014-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Yadkin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Yadkin County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Yadkin County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Yadkin County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

144. Rockingham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45015-DAP: Plaintiff Rockingham County, North Carolina

Rockingham County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Rockingham County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Rockingham County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Rockingham County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Rockingham County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Rockingham County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Rockingham County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See Rockingham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Rockingham County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Rockingham County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Rockingham County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Rockingham County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704

F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Rockingham County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Rockingham County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Rockingham County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Rockingham County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Rockingham County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rockingham County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Rockingham County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.28% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rockingham County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Rockingham County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017. See Rockingham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Rockingham County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Rockingham County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Rockingham County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Rockingham County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Rockingham County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Rockingham County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Rockingham County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Rockingham County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Rockingham County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Rockingham County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45015-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Rockingham County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Rockingham County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Rockingham County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Rockingham County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

145. City of Greenfield, v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45017-DAP: Plaintiff City of Greenfield, Massachusetts

City of Greenfield's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. City of Greenfield failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. City of Greenfield also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, City of Greenfield's motion should be denied due to futility, as City of Greenfield does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. City of Greenfield was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, City of Greenfield amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See City of Greenfield, v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45017-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, City of Greenfield declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. City of Greenfield's deadline to amend was in 2019. City of Greenfield waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. City of Greenfield's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. City of Greenfield cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. City of Greenfield, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. City of Greenfield fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to City of Greenfield’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.001% market share for City of Greenfield). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for City of Greenfield to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to City of Greenfield's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.08% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for City of Greenfield to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. City of Greenfield violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. City of Greenfield filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017, but waited until December 18, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—one year later. See City of Greenfield, v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45017-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: December 18, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating City of Greenfield's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of City of Greenfield's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by City of Greenfield's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and City of Greenfield therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Massachusetts law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But City of Greenfield's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Massachusetts law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. City of Greenfield, a municipality in Massachusetts, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for City of Greenfield’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. City of Greenfield filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Greenfield, v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45017-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that City of Greenfield knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. City of Greenfield’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. City of Greenfield’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Massachusetts, public-nuisance claims are subject to a three-year limitations period. City of Greenfield’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because City of Greenfield sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 14, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. City of Greenfield, a municipality in Massachusetts, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

146. Rowan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45018-DAP: Plaintiff Rowan County, Kentucky

Rowan County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Rowan County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Rowan County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Rowan County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Rowan County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Rowan County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Rowan County amended its complaint on March 9, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See Rowan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45018-DAP, ECF No. 24. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Rowan County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Rowan County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Rowan County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Rowan County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Rowan County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Rowan County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Rowan County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Rowan County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Rowan County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rowan County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Rowan County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.21% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Rowan County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kentucky law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Rowan County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kentucky law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Rowan County, a municipality in Kentucky, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Rowan County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Rowan County filed its original complaint on December 2, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Rowan County Fiscal Court v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45018-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Rowan County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Rowan County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Rowan County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Rowan County, a municipality in Kentucky, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

147. Houston County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45019-DAP: Plaintiff Houston County, Alabama

Houston County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Houston County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Houston County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Houston County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Houston County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Houston County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Houston County filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017 and the case was transferred to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See Houston County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 24. Houston County could have amended its complaint, without leave, to add claims against the PBMs in 2019. See Section II.A.1, above. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Houston County elected not to do so. Instead, Houston County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Houston County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Houston County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Houston County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Houston County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Houston County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.18% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Houston County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Houston County filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017. See Houston County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Houston County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Houston County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Houston County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Houston County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Houston County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Houston County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Houston County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Houston County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Houston County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Houston County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Houston County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Houston County’s potential claims against them. Houston County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Houston County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Houston County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Houston County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Houston County filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Houston County, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45019-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Houston County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Houston County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Houston County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Houston County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Houston County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 14, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Houston County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Houston County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

148. City of Greenville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45023-DAP: Plaintiff Greenville City, Alabama

Greenville City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Greenville City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Greenville City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Greenville City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Greenville City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Greenville City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Greenville City filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017 and the case was transferred to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See City of Greenville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 25. Greenville City could have amended its complaint, without leave, to add claims against the PBMs in 2019. See Section II.A.1, above. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Greenville City elected not to do so. Instead, Greenville City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Greenville City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Greenville City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Greenville City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Greenville City to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Greenville City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.06% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Greenville City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Greenville City filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017. See City of Greenville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Greenville City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Greenville City's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Greenville City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Greenville City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Greenville City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Greenville City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Greenville City's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Greenville City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Greenville City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Greenville City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Greenville City’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Greenville City’s potential claims against them. Greenville City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Greenville City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Greenville City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Greenville City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Greenville City filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Greenville, Alabama v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45023-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Greenville City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Greenville City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Greenville City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Greenville City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Greenville City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 13, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Greenville City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

149. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45024-DAP: Plaintiff White County, Illinois

White County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. White County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. White County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, White County's motion should be denied due to futility, as White County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. White County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, White County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, White County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. White County's deadline to amend was in 2019. White County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. White County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. White County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. White County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. White County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to White County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.19% market share for White County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for White County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. White County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. White County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017, but waited until September 25, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—nearly seven years later. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 25, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating White County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of White County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by White County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and White County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But White County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. White County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for White County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. White County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45024-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that White County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. White County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. White County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. White County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

150. Sedgwick County Board of Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45025-DAP: Plaintiff Sedgwick County, Kansas

Sedgwick County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Sedgwick County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Sedgwick County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Sedgwick County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Sedgwick County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Sedgwick County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Sedgwick County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 12, 2018. See Sedgwick County Board of Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45025-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Sedgwick County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Sedgwick County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Sedgwick County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Sedgwick County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Sedgwick County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Sedgwick County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Sedgwick County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Sedgwick County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Sedgwick County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sedgwick County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Sedgwick County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.16% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sedgwick County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Sedgwick County filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017. See Sedgwick County Board of Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45025-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Sedgwick County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Sedgwick County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Sedgwick County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Sedgwick County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Sedgwick County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Kansas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Sedgwick County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Kansas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Sedgwick County, a municipality in Kansas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Sedgwick County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Sedgwick County filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Sedgwick County Board of Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45025-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Sedgwick County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Sedgwick County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Sedgwick County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Sedgwick County, a municipality in Kansas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

151. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45026-DAP: Plaintiff Jasper County, Illinois

Jasper County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jasper County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jasper County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jasper County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Jasper County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jasper County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jasper County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 12, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45026-DAP, ECF No. 15. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jasper County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Jasper County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Jasper County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jasper County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jasper County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jasper County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jasper County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jasper County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.22% market share for Jasper County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jasper County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jasper County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.16% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jasper County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jasper County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jasper County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jasper County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jasper County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45026-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jasper County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Jasper County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jasper County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jasper County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

152. Coshocton County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45027-DAP: Plaintiff Coshocton County, Ohio

Coshocton County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Coshocton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Coshocton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Coshocton County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Coshocton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Coshocton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Coshocton County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 12, 2018. See Coshocton County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45027-DAP, ECF No. 26. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Coshocton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Coshocton County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Coshocton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Coshocton County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Coshocton County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Coshocton County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Coshocton County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Coshocton County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Coshocton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Coshocton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Coshocton County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Coshocton County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Coshocton County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Coshocton County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Coshocton County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Coshocton County filed its original complaint on December 18, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Coshocton County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45027-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Coshocton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Coshocton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Coshocton County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Coshocton County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

153. Buchanan County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45028-DAP: Plaintiff Buchanan County, Missouri

Buchanan County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Buchanan County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Buchanan County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Buchanan County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Buchanan County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Buchanan County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Buchanan County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 12, 2018. See Buchanan County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Buchanan County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Buchanan County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Buchanan County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Buchanan County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Buchanan County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Buchanan County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buchanan County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Buchanan County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo

Decl., Exhibit C (0.30% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buchanan County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Buchanan County filed its original complaint on November 29, 2017. See Buchanan County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Buchanan County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Buchanan County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Buchanan County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Buchanan County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Buchanan County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Buchanan County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Buchanan County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Buchanan County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Buchanan County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Buchanan County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above.

Buchanan County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Buchanan County's potential claims against them. Buchanan County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Missouri law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Buchanan County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Missouri law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Buchanan County, a municipality in Missouri, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Buchanan County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Buchanan County filed its original complaint on November 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Buchanan County, Missouri v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45028-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Buchanan County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Buchanan County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Buchanan County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Buchanan County, a municipality in Missouri, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

154. Ottawa County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45031-DAP: Plaintiff Ottawa County, Ohio

Ottawa County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Ottawa County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Ottawa County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Ottawa County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Ottawa County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Ottawa County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Ottawa County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer through judicial reassignment to the MDL. See Ottawa County Board of County Commissioners v.

AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45031-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Ottawa County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Ottawa County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Ottawa County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Ottawa County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Ottawa County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Ottawa County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Ottawa County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Ottawa County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.14% market share for Ottawa County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ottawa County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Ottawa County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Ottawa County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Ottawa County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Ottawa County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Ottawa County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Ottawa County filed its original complaint on December 8, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Ottawa County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45031-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Ottawa County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Ottawa County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Ottawa County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Ottawa County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

155. County of Lake v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45032-DAP: Plaintiff Lake County, Ohio

Lake County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lake County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lake County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lake County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lake County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lake County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lake County amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 11, 2018, as well as on June 5, 2020. See County of Lake v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45032-DAP, ECF Nos. 16, 19. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lake County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Lake County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Lake County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lake County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lake County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Lake County—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lake County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lake County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.12% market share for Lake County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lake County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lake County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lake County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Lake County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Lake County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lake County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lake County filed its original complaint on December 11, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See County of Lake v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45032-DAP, ECF No. 1-2. Even assuming arguendo that Lake County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO’s four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 11, 2021. Lake County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lake County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lake County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

156. County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff Cascade County, Montana

Cascade County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cascade County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cascade County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cascade County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Cascade County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cascade County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cascade County first amended its complaint on December 1, 2017. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 2. Cascade County amended its complaint again on December 20, 2018, as well as on March 15, 2019. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF Nos. 19, 20. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cascade County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Cascade County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Cascade County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cascade County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cascade County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Cascade County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cascade County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cascade County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cascade County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Cascade County filed its original complaint on November 29, 2017. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Cascade County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Cascade County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Cascade County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Cascade County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Cascade County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Cascade County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Cascade County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Cascade County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Cascade County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Cascade County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF

No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Cascade County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Cascade County’s potential claims against them. Cascade County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Failure to State a Claim. Cascade County, a municipality in Montana, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cascade County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cascade County filed its original complaint on November 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Cascade County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Cascade County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cascade County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cascade County, a municipality in Montana, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

157. County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP: Plaintiff Gallatin County, Montana

Gallatin County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Gallatin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Gallatin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Gallatin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Gallatin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Gallatin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Gallatin County first amended its complaint on December 20, 2018. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 19. Gallatin County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 20. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Gallatin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Gallatin County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Gallatin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Gallatin County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Gallatin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Gallatin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gallatin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Gallatin County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.38% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gallatin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Gallatin County filed its original complaint on December 1, 2017. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 2. Despite filing its case years ago, Gallatin County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Gallatin County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Gallatin County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Gallatin County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Gallatin County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to State a Claim. Gallatin County, a municipality in Montana, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Gallatin County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Gallatin County filed its first amended complaint on December 1, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Cascade v. Purdue Pharma et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45033-DAP, ECF No. 2. It is therefore indisputable that Gallatin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Gallatin County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Gallatin County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Gallatin County, a municipality in Montana, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

158. Lawrence County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45036-DAP: Plaintiff Lawrence County, Mississippi

Lawrence County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lawrence County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lawrence County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lawrence County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lawrence County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lawrence County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lawrence County amended its complaint on March 7, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Lawrence County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45036-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lawrence County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lawrence County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lawrence County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lawrence County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lawrence County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Lawrence County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lawrence County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lawrence County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Lawrence County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lawrence County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Lawrence County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.47% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lawrence County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lawrence County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lawrence County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lawrence County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lawrence County filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Lawrence County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45036-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lawrence County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Lawrence County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lawrence County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lawrence County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

159. Fairfield Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45038-DAP: Plaintiff Fairfield County, Ohio

Fairfield County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Fairfield County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Fairfield County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Fairfield County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Fairfield County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Fairfield County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Fairfield County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Fairfield Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45038-DAP, ECF No. 37. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Fairfield County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Fairfield County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Fairfield County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Fairfield County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Fairfield County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Fairfield County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Fairfield County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Fairfield County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Fairfield County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Fairfield County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Fairfield County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Fairfield County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Fairfield County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Fairfield County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Fairfield County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Fairfield County filed its original complaint on November 17, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Fairfield Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45038-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Fairfield County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Fairfield County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Fairfield County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Fairfield County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

160. Licking County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45041-DAP: Plaintiff Licking County, Ohio

Licking County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Licking County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Licking County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Licking County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Licking County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Licking County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Licking County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Licking County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45041-DAP, ECF No. 50. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Licking County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Licking County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Licking County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Licking County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Licking County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Licking County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Licking County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Licking County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Licking County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Licking County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Licking County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.43% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Licking County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Licking County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Licking County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Licking County began receiving those services on January 2, 2013. See id. Inasmuch as Licking County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Licking County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Licking County’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Licking County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Licking County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Licking County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Licking County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Licking County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Licking County filed its original complaint on October 18, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Licking County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45041-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Licking County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Licking County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Licking County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Licking County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

161. Adams County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45042-DAP: Plaintiff Adams County, Ohio

Adams County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Adams County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Adams County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Adams County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Adams County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Adams County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Adams County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Adams County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45042-DAP, ECF No. 58. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Adams County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Adams County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Adams County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Adams County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Adams County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Adams County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Adams County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Adams County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.16% market share for Adams County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Adams County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Adams County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.49% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Adams County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Adams County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Adams County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Adams County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Adams County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Adams County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Adams County filed its original complaint on October 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adams County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45042-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Adams County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Adams County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Adams County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Adams County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

162. Guernsey County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45044-DAP: Plaintiff Guernsey County, Ohio

Guernsey County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Guernsey County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Guernsey County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Guernsey County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Guernsey County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Guernsey County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Guernsey County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Guernsey County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 54. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Guernsey County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Guernsey County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Guernsey County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Guernsey County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Guernsey County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Guernsey County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Guernsey County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Guernsey County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.10% market share for Guernsey County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Guernsey County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Guernsey County filed its original complaint on October 11, 2017. See Guernsey County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Guernsey County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455.

Litigating Guernsey County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Guernsey County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Guernsey County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Guernsey County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Guernsey County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Guernsey County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Guernsey County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Guernsey County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Guernsey County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Guernsey County filed its original complaint on October 11, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Guernsey County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45044-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Guernsey County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Guernsey County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Guernsey County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Guernsey County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

163. Darke County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45046-DAP: Plaintiff Darke County, Ohio

Darke County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Darke County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Darke County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Darke County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Darke County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Darke County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Darke County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Darke County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45046-DAP, ECF No. 22. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Darke County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Darke County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Darke County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Darke County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Darke County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Darke County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Darke County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See,

e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Darke County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Darke County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Darke County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Darke County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Darke County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Darke County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Darke County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Darke County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Darke County filed its original complaint on December 9, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Darke County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45046-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Darke County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Darke County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Darke County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Darke County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

164. Logan County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45047-DAP: Plaintiff Logan County, Ohio

Logan County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Logan County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Logan County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Logan County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Logan County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Logan County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Logan County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See Logan County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45047-DAP, ECF No. 26. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Logan County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Logan County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Logan County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Logan County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Logan County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Logan County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Logan County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share.

OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Logan County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.18% market share for Logan County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Logan County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Logan County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Logan County filed its original complaint on December 15, 2017, but waited until September 18, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—nearly seven years later. See Logan County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45047-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 18, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Logan County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Logan County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Logan County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Logan County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Logan County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Logan County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Logan County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Logan County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Logan County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Logan County filed its original complaint on December 15, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Logan County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45047-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Logan County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Logan County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Logan County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Logan County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

165. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45049-DAP: Plaintiff Edwards County, Illinois

Edwards County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Edwards County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Edwards County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Edwards County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Edwards County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Edwards County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Edwards County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 16, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45049-DAP, ECF No. 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Edwards County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Edwards County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Edwards County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Edwards County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Edwards County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Edwards County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Edwards County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Edwards County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.29% market share for Edwards County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Edwards County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Edwards County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.13% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Edwards County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Edwards County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Edwards County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Edwards County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Edwards County filed its original complaint on December 12, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45049-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Edwards County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Edwards County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Edwards County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Edwards County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

166. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45052-DAP: Plaintiff Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe, Minnesota

Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe amended its complaint on August 9, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 17, 2018. See Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45052-DAP, ECF No. 19. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has No Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped zero opioid prescriptions to Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit B. Because Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy “ha[s] no market share, they shouldn’t be in the case, period.” ECF No. 3685 at 6:9–14; see Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017. See Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45052-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Minnesota law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Minnesota law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe, a native tribe in Minnesota, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe filed its amended complaint on August 9, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45052-DAP, ECF No. 19. It is therefore indisputable that Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe, a native tribe in Minnesota, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

167. Township of Bloomfield, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45053-DAP: Plaintiff Bloomfield Township, New Jersey

Bloomfield Township's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Bloomfield Township failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Bloomfield Township also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Bloomfield Township's motion should be denied due to futility, as Bloomfield Township does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Bloomfield Township was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Bloomfield Township filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017 and the case was transferred to the MDL on January 17, 2018. See Township of Bloomfield, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45053-DAP, ECF No. 5. Bloomfield Township could have amended its complaint, without leave, to add claims against the PBMs in 2019. See Section II.A.1, above. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Bloomfield Township elected not to do so. Instead, Bloomfield Township waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Bloomfield Township's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Bloomfield Township's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Bloomfield Township). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bloomfield Township to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Bloomfield Township's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo

Decl., Exhibit C (0.15% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bloomfield Township to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Bloomfield Township filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017. See Township of Bloomfield, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45053-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Bloomfield Township never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Bloomfield Township's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Bloomfield Township's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Bloomfield Township's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Bloomfield Township therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under New Jersey law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Bloomfield Township's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under New Jersey law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Bloomfield Township, a municipality in New Jersey, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Bloomfield Township's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Bloomfield Township filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Township of Bloomfield, New Jersey v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45053-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Bloomfield Township knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Bloomfield Township's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Bloomfield Township's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Bloomfield Township, a municipality in New Jersey, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

168. City of Lansing v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45054-DAP: Plaintiff Lansing City, Michigan

Lansing City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lansing City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lansing City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lansing City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lansing City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lansing City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lansing City amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 17, 2018. See City of Lansing v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45054-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lansing City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lansing City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lansing City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lansing City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lansing City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Lansing City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lansing City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Lansing City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Lansing City’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Lansing City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Lansing City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Lansing City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Lansing City’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Lansing City’s potential claims against them. Lansing City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lansing City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lansing City, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lansing City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lansing City filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Lansing v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45054-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lansing City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Lansing City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lansing City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lansing City, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

169. Morrow County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45059-DAP: Plaintiff Morrow County, Ohio

Morrow County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Morrow County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Morrow County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Morrow County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Morrow County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Morrow County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Morrow County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 18, 2018. See Morrow County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45059-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Morrow County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Morrow County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Morrow County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Morrow County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Morrow County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Morrow County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Morrow County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See,

e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Morrow County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Morrow County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Morrow County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Morrow County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.41% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Morrow County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Morrow County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Morrow County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Morrow County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Morrow County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Morrow County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Morrow County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Morrow County's potential claims against them. Morrow County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Morrow County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Morrow County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Morrow County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Morrow County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Morrow County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Morrow County filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Morrow County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45059-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Morrow County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Morrow County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Morrow County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Morrow County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

170. Clinton County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45060-DAP: Plaintiff Clinton County, Ohio

Clinton County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clinton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clinton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clinton County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Clinton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clinton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clinton County amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 18, 2018. See Clinton County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45060-DAP, ECF No. 19. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clinton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Clinton County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Clinton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clinton County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clinton County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.10% market share for Clinton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clinton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Clinton County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Clinton County filed its original complaint on December 20, 2017, but waited until September 13, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—nearly seven years later. See Clinton County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45060-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 13, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Clinton County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Clinton County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Clinton County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Clinton County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Clinton County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Clinton County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Clinton County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Clinton County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Clinton County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Clinton County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Clinton County’s potential claims against them. Clinton County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clinton County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clinton County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Clinton County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Clinton County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clinton County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clinton County filed its original complaint on December 20, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Clinton County Board of Commissioners v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No.

1:18-op-45060-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Clinton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Clinton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clinton County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clinton County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

171. Champaign County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45065-DAP: Plaintiff Champaign County, Ohio

Champaign County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Champaign County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Champaign County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Champaign County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Champaign County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Champaign County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Champaign County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 18, 2018. See Champaign County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45065-DAP, ECF No. 22. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Champaign County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Champaign County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Champaign County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Champaign County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Champaign County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Champaign County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Champaign County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Champaign County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Champaign County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Champaign County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Champaign County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.38% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Champaign County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Champaign County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Champaign County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Champaign County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Champaign County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Champaign County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Champaign County filed its original complaint on December 21, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Champaign County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45065-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Champaign County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Champaign County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Champaign County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Champaign County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

172. Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45070-DAP: Plaintiff Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi

Jefferson Davis County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jefferson Davis County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jefferson Davis County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jefferson Davis County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Jefferson Davis County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jefferson Davis County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jefferson Davis County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 19, 2018. See Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45070-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jefferson Davis County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Jefferson Davis County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jefferson Davis County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jefferson Davis County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jefferson Davis County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey

& Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jefferson Davis County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jefferson Davis County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jefferson Davis County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.07% market share for Jefferson Davis County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jefferson Davis County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jefferson Davis County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.35% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jefferson Davis County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jefferson Davis County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jefferson Davis County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jefferson Davis County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jefferson Davis County filed its original complaint on December 13, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45070-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jefferson Davis County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Jefferson Davis County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jefferson Davis County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jefferson Davis County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

173. Marion County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45075-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Mississippi

Marion County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marion County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marion County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marion County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Marion County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marion County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marion County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 22, 2018. See Marion County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45075-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marion County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Marion County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Marion County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marion County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Marion County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Marion County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Marion County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marion County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Marion County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marion County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Marion County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.16% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marion County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Marion County filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017. See Marion County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45075-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Marion County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Marion County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Marion County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Marion County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Marion County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marion County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marion County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marion County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marion County filed its original complaint on December 14, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marion County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45075-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Marion County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Marion County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marion County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marion County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

174. City of Mobile, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45076-DAP: Plaintiff Mobile City, Alabama

Mobile City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Mobile City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Mobile City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Mobile City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Mobile City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Mobile City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Mobile City amended its complaint on March 7, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 22, 2018. See City of Mobile, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45076-DAP, ECF No. 21. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Mobile City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Mobile City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Mobile City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Mobile City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Mobile City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP;

Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Mobile City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Mobile City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Mobile City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Mobile City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Mobile City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Mobile City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.13% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Mobile City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Mobile City violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Mobile City filed its original complaint on December 27, 2017, but waited until January 23, 2020 to implement a litigation hold—a little over 2 years later. See City of Mobile, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45076-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: January 23, 2020). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Mobile City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Mobile City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Mobile City’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Mobile City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Mobile City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Mobile City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Mobile City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Mobile City filed its original complaint on December 27, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Mobile, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45076-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Mobile City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Mobile City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Mobile City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Mobile City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Mobile City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—nearly seven years after filing its original complaint on December 27, 2017—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Mobile City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

175. County of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45078-DAP: Plaintiff Lorain County, Ohio

Lorain County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lorain County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lorain County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lorain County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lorain County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lorain County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lorain County amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 18, 2018. See County of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45078-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lorain County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lorain County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lorain County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lorain County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Furthermore, in 2023, Lorain County filed a separate complaint in this MDL asserting new claims for public nuisance and negligence against Express Scripts, Inc.; Express Scripts Holding Company, n/k/a Evernorth Health, Inc.; Merck-Medco, n/k/a Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; Medco Health Solutions, Inc.; UnitedHealth Group Incorporated; Optum, Inc.; OptumRx, Inc.; and other defendants. See Cuyahoga County et al. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. et al., No. 1:23-op-45003 (N.D. Ohio), ECF No. 1. Lorain County offers no good cause for its failure to bring its proposed claims against all PBMs in the 2023 case, which is still pending. In addition, Lorain County's improper claim-splitting between these two separate cases in the MDL should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App'x at 260–63 (affirming dismissal for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff's claims in a later-filed case were “duplicative of and improperly split” from an earlier-filed case).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lorain County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.11% market share for Lorain County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lorain County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lorain County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lorain County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Lorain County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Lorain County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lorain County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lorain County filed its original complaint on January 18, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See County of Lorain v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45078-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. Even assuming arguendo that Lorain County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on January 18, 2022. Lorain County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lorain County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lorain County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

176. County of Trumbull v. Purdue Pharma L.P., Case No. 1:18-op-45079-DAP: Plaintiff Trumbull County, Ohio

Trumbull County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Trumbull County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Trumbull County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Trumbull County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Trumbull County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Trumbull County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Trumbull County amended its complaint on March 18, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 18, 2018, as well as on June 5, 2020. See County of Trumbull v. Purdue Pharma L.P., Case No. 1:18-op-45079-DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Trumbull County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Trumbull County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Trumbull County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Trumbull County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Trumbull County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Napoli Shkolnik, PLLC—that have been bringing claims against the PBMs since 2019. Trumbull County—through its counsel—was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Trumbull County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Trumbull County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Trumbull County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Trumbull County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Trumbull County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Trumbull County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Trumbull County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Trumbull County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Trumbull County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Trumbull County filed its original complaint on December 11, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries for which it now seeks to recover under RICO against the PBMs. See County of Trumbull v. Purdue Pharma L.P., Case No. 1:18-op-45079-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. Even assuming arguendo that Trumbull County first learned of its injury on the day it filed its original complaint, RICO's four-year statute of limitations expired, at the very latest, on December 11, 2021. Trumbull County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Trumbull County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Trumbull County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

177. City of Elyria v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45080-DAP: Plaintiff Elyria City, Ohio

Elyria City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Elyria City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Elyria City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Elyria City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Elyria City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Elyria City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Elyria City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019. See City of Elyria v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45080-DAP, ECF No. 21. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Elyria City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Elyria City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Elyria City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Elyria City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Elyria City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.10% market share for Elyria City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Elyria City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Elyria City violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Elyria City filed its original complaint on January 3, 2018, but waited until July 24, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—six months later. See City of Elyria v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45080-DAP, ECF No. 1-1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: July 24, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Elyria City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Elyria City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Elyria City’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Elyria City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Elyria City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Elyria City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Elyria City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Elyria City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Elyria City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Elyria City filed its original complaint on November 28, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Elyria v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45080-DAP, ECF No. 1-1. It is therefore indisputable that Elyria City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Elyria City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Elyria City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See

Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Elyria City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

178. County of Smith v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45081-DAP: Plaintiff Smith County, Texas

Smith County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Smith County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Smith County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Smith County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Smith County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Smith County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Smith County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 23, 2018. See County of Smith v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45081-DAP, ECF No. 41. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Smith County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Smith County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Smith County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Smith County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Smith County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Smith County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Smith County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Smith County filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017. See County of Smith v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45081-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Smith County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Smith County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Smith County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Smith County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Smith County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Texas law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Smith County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Texas law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Smith County, a municipality in Texas, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Smith County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Smith County filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Smith v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45081-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Smith County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Smith County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Smith County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Smith County, a municipality in Texas, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

179. Saginaw, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45082-DAP: Plaintiff Saginaw County, Michigan

Saginaw County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Saginaw County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Saginaw County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Saginaw County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Saginaw County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Saginaw County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Saginaw County amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 23, 2018. See Saginaw, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45082-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Saginaw County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Saginaw County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Saginaw County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Saginaw County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Saginaw County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Saginaw County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Saginaw County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Saginaw County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Saginaw County filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017, but waited until September 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—nine and a half months later. See Saginaw, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45082-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 30, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Saginaw County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Saginaw County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Saginaw County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Saginaw County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Saginaw County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Saginaw County, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Saginaw County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Saginaw County filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Saginaw, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45082-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Saginaw County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Saginaw County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Saginaw County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Saginaw County, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

180. Genesee, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45083-DAP: Plaintiff Genesee County, Michigan

Genesee County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Genesee County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Genesee County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Genesee County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Genesee County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Genesee County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Genesee County amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 23, 2018. See Genesee, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Genesee County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Genesee County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Genesee County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Genesee County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Genesee County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Genesee County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Genesee County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Genesee County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Genesee County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Genesee County began receiving those services on June 1, 2008. See id. Inasmuch as Genesee County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Genesee County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Genesee County’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Genesee County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Genesee County filed its original complaint on December 18, 2017, but waited until October 12, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—nearly ten months later. See Genesee, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: October 12, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Genesee County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Genesee County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Genesee County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Genesee County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Genesee County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Genesee County, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Genesee County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Genesee County filed its original complaint on December 18, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Genesee, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45083-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Genesee County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Genesee County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Genesee County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Genesee County, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

181. City of Detroit, Michigan, A Municipal Corporation v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45084-DAP: Plaintiff Detroit City, Michigan

Detroit City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Detroit City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Detroit City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Detroit City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Detroit City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Detroit City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Detroit City amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 23, 2018. See City of Detroit, Michigan, A Municipal Corporation v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45084-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Detroit City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Detroit City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Detroit City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Detroit City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Detroit City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.24% market share for Detroit City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Detroit City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Detroit City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Detroit City, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Detroit City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Detroit City filed its original complaint on December 18, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Detroit, Michigan, A Municipal Corporation v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45084-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Detroit City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Detroit City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Detroit City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Detroit City, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

182. Macomb, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45085-DAP: Plaintiff Macomb County, Michigan

Macomb County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Macomb County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Macomb County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Macomb County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Macomb County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Macomb County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Macomb County amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 23, 2018. See Macomb, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45085-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Macomb County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Macomb County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Macomb County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Macomb County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Macomb County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Macomb County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Macomb County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Macomb County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Macomb County, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Macomb County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Macomb County filed its original complaint on December 19, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Macomb, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45085-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Macomb County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Macomb County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Macomb County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Macomb County, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

183. Surry County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45086-DAP: Plaintiff Surry County, North Carolina

Surry County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Surry County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Surry County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Surry County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Surry County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Surry County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Surry County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 23, 2018. See Surry County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45086-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Surry County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Surry County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Surry County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Surry County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Surry County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Surry County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Surry County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Surry County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Surry County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Surry County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Surry County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit

C (0.22% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Surry County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Surry County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Surry County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Surry County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Surry County filed its original complaint on December 29, 2017, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Surry County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45086-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Surry County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six and a half years before seeking leave to amend. Surry County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Surry County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Surry County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

184. County of Summit, Ohio et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45090-DAP: Plaintiff Akron City, Ohio

Akron City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Akron City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Akron City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Akron City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Akron City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Akron City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Akron City first amended its complaint on April 25, 2018. See County of Summit, Ohio et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45090-DAP, ECF No. 7. Akron City amended its complaint again on May 18, 2018, as well as on March 21, 2019. See County of Summit, Ohio et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45090-DAP, ECF Nos. 8, 157. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Akron City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Akron City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Akron City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Akron City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Akron City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Motley Rice LLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Akron City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Akron City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Akron City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Akron City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Akron City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. Despite the Court’s repeated instructions to the contrary, Akron City has never served a Plaintiff Fact Sheet. Akron City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Akron City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Akron City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Akron City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Akron City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Akron City’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Akron City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Akron City filed its first amended complaint on May 18, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Summit, Ohio et al. v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45090-DAP, ECF No. 8. It is therefore indisputable that Akron City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Akron City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Akron City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Akron City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

185. Amite County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45097-DAP: Plaintiff Amite County, Mississippi

Amite County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Amite County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Amite County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Amite County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Amite County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Amite County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Amite County amended its complaint on March 7, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018. See Amite County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45097-DAP, ECF No. 25. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Amite County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Amite County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Amite County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Amite County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Amite County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Amite County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Amite County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Amite County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.11% market share for Amite County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Amite County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Amite County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.48% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Amite County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Amite County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Amite County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Amite County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Amite County filed its amended complaint on March 7, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Amite County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45097-DAP, ECF No. 25. It is therefore indisputable that Amite County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Amite County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Amite County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Amite County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

186. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45098-DAP: Plaintiff Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, North Carolina

Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians’ untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' motion should be denied due to futility, as Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians amended its complaint on March 10, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018, as well as on August 13, 2019. See Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45098-DAP, ECF Nos. 6, 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' deadline to amend was in 2019. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians’ geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.004% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018. See Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45098-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians’ case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians’ document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, a native tribe in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45098-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend.

Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians' request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians, a native tribe in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

187. Cecil County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45100-DAP: Plaintiff Cecil County, Maryland

Cecil County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cecil County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cecil County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cecil County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Cecil County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cecil County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cecil County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018. See Cecil County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45100-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cecil County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Cecil County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Cecil County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cecil County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Cecil County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Cecil County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Cecil County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cecil County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson

Decl. (0.06% market share for Cecil County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cecil County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cecil County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.32% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cecil County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Cecil County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Cecil County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Cecil County began receiving those services on January 1, 2016. See id. Inasmuch as Cecil County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Cecil County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct eight years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Cecil County's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Cecil County filed its original complaint on January 9, 2018. See Cecil County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case

No. 1:18-op-45100-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Cecil County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Cecil County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Cecil County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Cecil County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Cecil County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Maryland law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cecil County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Maryland law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cecil County, a municipality in Maryland, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cecil County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cecil County filed its original complaint on January 9, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Cecil County, Maryland v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45100-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Cecil County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Cecil County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cecil County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Maryland, public-nuisance claims are subject to a three-year limitations period. Cecil County's public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Cecil County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 9, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 ("This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations." (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cecil County, a municipality in Maryland, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

188. City of Woburn v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45103-DAP: Plaintiff Woburn City, Massachusetts

Woburn City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Woburn City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Woburn City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Woburn City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Woburn City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Woburn City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Woburn City amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018. See City of Woburn v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45103-DAP, ECF No. 24. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Woburn City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Woburn City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Woburn City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Woburn City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Woburn City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Woburn City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Woburn City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Woburn City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Woburn City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Woburn City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Woburn City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.27% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Woburn City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Massachusetts law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Woburn City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Massachusetts law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Woburn City, a municipality in Massachusetts, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Woburn City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Woburn City filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Woburn v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45103-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Woburn City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Woburn City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Woburn City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Massachusetts, public-nuisance claims are subject to a three-year limitations period. Woburn City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Woburn City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 8, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Woburn City, a municipality in Massachusetts, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

189. Marquette, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45104-DAP: Plaintiff Marquette County, Michigan

Marquette County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marquette County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marquette County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marquette County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Marquette County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marquette County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marquette County amended its complaint on March 16, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018. See Marquette, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 28. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marquette County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Marquette County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Marquette County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marquette County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marquette County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.12% market share for Marquette County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marquette County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Marquette County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Marquette County filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018, but waited until September 28, 2018 to implement a litigation hold—eight and a half months later. See Marquette, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 28, 2018). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Marquette County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Marquette County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Marquette County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Marquette County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Michigan law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marquette County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Michigan law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marquette County, a municipality in Michigan, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marquette County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marquette County filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marquette, County of v. Purdue Pharma L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45104-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Marquette County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Marquette County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marquette County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marquette County, a municipality in Michigan, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

190. City of Methuen v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45106-DAP: Plaintiff Methuen Town City, Massachusetts

Methuen Town City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Methuen Town City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Methuen Town City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Methuen Town City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Methuen Town City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Methuen Town City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Methuen Town City amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018. See City of Methuen v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 24. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Methuen Town City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Methuen Town City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Methuen Town City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Methuen Town City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Methuen Town City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Methuen Town City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Methuen Town City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Methuen Town City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Methuen Town City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Methuen Town City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Methuen Town City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.04% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Methuen Town City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Methuen Town City filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018. See City of Methuen v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Methuen Town City never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Methuen Town City's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Methuen Town City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Methuen Town City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Methuen Town City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Massachusetts law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Methuen Town City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Massachusetts law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Methuen Town City, a municipality in Massachusetts, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Methuen Town City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Methuen Town City filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Methuen v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45106-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Methuen Town City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Methuen Town City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Methuen Town City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Massachusetts, public-nuisance claims are subject to a three-year limitations period. Methuen Town City's public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Methuen Town City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 8, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 ("This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations." (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Methuen Town City, a municipality in Massachusetts, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

191. Haywood County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45107-DAP: Plaintiff Haywood County, Tennessee

Haywood County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Haywood County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Haywood County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Haywood County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Haywood County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Haywood County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Haywood County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 25, 2018. See Haywood County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Haywood County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Haywood County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Haywood County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Haywood County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Haywood County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Haywood County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Haywood County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Haywood County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.001% market share for Haywood County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Haywood County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Haywood County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.07% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Haywood County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Haywood County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Haywood County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, but waited until December 13, 2019 to implement a litigation hold—almost two years later. See Haywood County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: December 13, 2019). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Haywood County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Haywood County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Haywood County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Haywood County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Tennessee law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Haywood County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Tennessee law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Haywood County, a municipality in Tennessee, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Haywood County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Haywood County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Haywood County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45107-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Haywood County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Haywood County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Haywood County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Haywood County, a municipality in Tennessee, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

192. Onslow County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45114-DAP: Plaintiff Onslow County, North Carolina

Onslow County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Onslow County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Onslow County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Onslow County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Onslow County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Onslow County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Onslow County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 29, 2018. See Onslow County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45114-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Onslow County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Onslow County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Onslow County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Onslow County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Onslow County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Onslow County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Onslow County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See,

e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Onslow County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Onslow County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Onslow County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Onslow County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.31% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Onslow County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Onslow County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Onslow County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Onslow County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Onslow County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Onslow County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45114-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Onslow County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Onslow County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Onslow County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Onslow County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

193. City of Jacksonville v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45115-DAP: Plaintiff Jacksonville City, North Carolina

Jacksonville City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jacksonville City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jacksonville City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jacksonville City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Jacksonville City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jacksonville City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jacksonville City amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 29, 2018. See City of Jacksonville v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45115-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jacksonville City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Jacksonville City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Jacksonville City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jacksonville City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Jacksonville City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Jacksonville City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Jacksonville City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jacksonville City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Jacksonville City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jacksonville City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jacksonville City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.28% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jacksonville City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jacksonville City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jacksonville City, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jacksonville City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jacksonville City filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Jacksonville v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45115-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jacksonville City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Jacksonville City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jacksonville City's request for leave to amend to add a

RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jacksonville City, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

194. Polk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45116-DAP: Plaintiff Polk County, Iowa

Polk County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Polk County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Polk County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Polk County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Polk County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Polk County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Polk County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Polk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 7. Polk County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Polk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Polk County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Polk County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Polk County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Polk County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Polk County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Polk County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Polk County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Polk County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.36% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Polk County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Polk County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Polk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Polk County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Polk County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Polk County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Polk County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Polk County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Polk County v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45116-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Polk County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Polk County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Polk County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Polk County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

195. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Brown County, Wisconsin

Brown County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Brown County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Brown County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Brown County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Brown County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Brown County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Brown County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Brown County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Brown County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Brown County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Brown County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Brown County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Brown County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.15% market share for Brown County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Brown County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Brown County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.40% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Brown County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Brown County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Brown County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Brown County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Brown County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Brown County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Brown County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Brown County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Brown County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Brown County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Brown County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Brown County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Brown County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF

No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Brown County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Brown County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

196. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Crawford County, Wisconsin

Crawford County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Crawford County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Crawford County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Crawford County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Crawford County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Crawford County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Crawford County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Crawford County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Crawford County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Crawford County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Crawford County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Crawford County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Crawford County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Crawford County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Crawford County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Crawford County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until May 4, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 4, 2018). Crawford County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Crawford County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Crawford County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Crawford County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Crawford County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Crawford County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Crawford County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Crawford County's potential claims against them. Crawford County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Crawford County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Crawford County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Crawford County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Crawford County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Crawford County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Crawford County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Crawford County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Crawford County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

197. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Kewaunee County, Wisconsin

Kewaunee County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Kewaunee County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Kewaunee County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Kewaunee County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Kewaunee County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Kewaunee County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Kewaunee County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Kewaunee County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Kewaunee County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Kewaunee County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Kewaunee County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Kewaunee County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Kewaunee County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.37% market share for Kewaunee County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Kewaunee County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Kewaunee County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Kewaunee County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Kewaunee County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Kewaunee County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Kewaunee County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Kewaunee County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Kewaunee County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Kewaunee County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Kewaunee County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Kewaunee County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Kewaunee County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Kewaunee County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Kewaunee County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Kewaunee County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

198. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Outagamie County, Wisconsin

Outagamie County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Outagamie County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Outagamie County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Outagamie County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Outagamie County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Outagamie County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Outagamie County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Outagamie County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Outagamie County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Outagamie County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Outagamie County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Outagamie County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Outagamie County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.09% market share for Outagamie County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Outagamie County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Outagamie County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Outagamie County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Outagamie County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Outagamie County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Outagamie County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Outagamie County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Outagamie County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Outagamie County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Outagamie County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Outagamie County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Outagamie County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Outagamie County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

199. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Ozaukee County, Wisconsin

Ozaukee County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Ozaukee County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Ozaukee County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Ozaukee County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Ozaukee County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Ozaukee County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Ozaukee County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Ozaukee County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Ozaukee County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Ozaukee County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Ozaukee County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Ozaukee County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Ozaukee County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.22% market share for Ozaukee County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ozaukee County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Ozaukee County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.45% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Ozaukee County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Ozaukee County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Ozaukee County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Ozaukee County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Ozaukee County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Ozaukee County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Ozaukee County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Ozaukee County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Ozaukee County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Ozaukee County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Ozaukee County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

200. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Pepin County, Wisconsin

Pepin County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pepin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pepin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pepin County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Pepin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pepin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pepin County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Pepin County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pepin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Pepin County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Pepin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pepin County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Had Zero Dispenses. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy did not dispense a single opioid prescription to Pepin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the period for which OptumRx has data (2010 to 2019). See Gustafson Decl.. Because OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy “ha[s] no market share, they shouldn’t be in the case, period.” ECF No. 3685 at 6:9–14; see Section III.A.2, above. Thus, Pepin County cannot show good cause to add claims against OptumRx in its capacity as a home delivery pharmacy.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Pepin County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.14% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pepin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pepin County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pepin County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pepin County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pepin County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Pepin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Pepin County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pepin County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pepin County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

201. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Racine County, Wisconsin

Racine County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Racine County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Racine County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Racine County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Racine County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Racine County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Racine County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Racine County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Racine County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Racine County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Racine County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Racine County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Racine County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.17% market share for Racine County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Racine County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Racine County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Racine County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Racine County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Racine County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Racine County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Racine County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Racine County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Racine County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Racine County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Racine County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

202. Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP: Plaintiff Winnebago County, Wisconsin

Winnebago County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Winnebago County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Winnebago County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Winnebago County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Winnebago County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Winnebago County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Winnebago County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. Winnebago County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Winnebago County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Winnebago County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Winnebago County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Winnebago County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Winnebago County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Winnebago County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Winnebago County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Winnebago County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.28% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Winnebago County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Winnebago County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Winnebago County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Winnebago County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Winnebago County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Winnebago County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Winnebago County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Winnebago County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Winnebago County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Winnebago County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Winnebago County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Winnebago County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above.

Winnebago County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Winnebago County's potential claims against them. Winnebago County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Wisconsin law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Winnebago County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Wisconsin law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Winnebago County, a municipality in Wisconsin, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Winnebago County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Winnebago County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Brown County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45117-DAP, ECF No. 5. It is therefore indisputable that Winnebago County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Winnebago County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Winnebago County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Winnebago County, a municipality in Wisconsin, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

203. Tippah County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45118-DAP: Plaintiff Tippah County, Mississippi

Tippah County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Tippah County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Tippah County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Tippah County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Tippah County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Tippah County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Tippah County amended its complaint on March 7, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 29, 2018. See Tippah County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45118-DAP, ECF No. 22. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Tippah County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Tippah County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Tippah County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Tippah County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Tippah County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Tippah County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Tippah County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the "plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint"); Thurmond, 649 F. App'x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff's counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants' conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Tippah County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson

Decl. (0.02% market share for Tippah County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tippah County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Tippah County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.20% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Tippah County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Tippah County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Tippah County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Tippah County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Tippah County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Tippah County's case is therefore subject to "dismiss[al] with prejudice" for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Tippah County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Tippah County's potential claims against them. Tippah County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Tippah County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Tippah County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Tippah County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Tippah County filed its amended complaint on March 7, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Tippah County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45118-DAP, ECF No. 22. It is therefore indisputable that Tippah County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Tippah County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Tippah County’s request for leave to amend to add a

RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Tippah County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

204. Benton County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45119-DAP: Plaintiff Benton County, Mississippi

Benton County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Benton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Benton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Benton County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Benton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Benton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Benton County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 30, 2018. See Benton County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Benton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Benton County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Benton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Benton County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Benton County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Benton County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Benton County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Benton County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.06% market share for Benton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Benton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Benton County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.13% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Benton County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Benton County filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018. See Benton County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Benton County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Benton County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Benton County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Benton County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Benton County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Benton County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Benton County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Benton County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Benton County filed its amended complaint on March 11, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Benton County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45119-DAP, ECF No. 23. It is therefore indisputable that Benton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Benton County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Benton County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Benton County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

205. Union County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45120-DAP: Plaintiff Union County, Mississippi

Union County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Union County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Union County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Union County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Union County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Union County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Union County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 30, 2018. See Union County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45120-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Union County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Union County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Union County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Union County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Union County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Union County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Union County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Union County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Union County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Union County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Union County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.07% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Union County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Union County filed its original complaint on January 8, 2018. See Union County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45120-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Union County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Union County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Union County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Union County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Union County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Union County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Union County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Union County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Union County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Union County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Union County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Union County's potential claims against them. Union County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Union County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Union County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Union County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Union County filed its amended complaint on March 11, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Union County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45120-DAP, ECF No. 6. It is therefore indisputable that Union County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Union County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Union County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Union County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

206. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Bremer County, Iowa

Bremer County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Bremer County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Bremer County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Bremer County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Bremer County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Bremer County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Bremer County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Bremer County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Bremer County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Bremer County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Bremer County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Bremer County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Bremer County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Bremer County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bremer County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Bremer County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.05% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Bremer County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Bremer County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See

Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Bremer County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Bremer County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Bremer County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Bremer County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Bremer County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Bremer County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Bremer County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period.

ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Bremer County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Bremer County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

207. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Buchanan County, Iowa

Buchanan County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Buchanan County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Buchanan County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Buchanan County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Buchanan County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Buchanan County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Buchanan County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Buchanan County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Buchanan County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Buchanan County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Buchanan County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Buchanan County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Buchanan County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.03% market share for Buchanan County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buchanan County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Buchanan County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.42% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Buchanan County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Buchanan County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See

Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Buchanan County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Buchanan County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Buchanan County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Buchanan County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Buchanan County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Buchanan County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Buchanan County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period.

ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Buchanan County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Buchanan County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

208. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Carroll County, Iowa

Carroll County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Carroll County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Carroll County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Carroll County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Carroll County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Carroll County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Carroll County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Carroll County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Carroll County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Carroll County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Carroll County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Carroll County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Carroll County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Carroll County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Carroll County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Carroll County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.19% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Carroll County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Carroll County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Carroll County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Carroll County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Carroll County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Carroll County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Carroll County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Carroll County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Carroll County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Carroll County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Carroll County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

209. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Clay County, Iowa

Clay County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clay County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clay County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clay County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Clay County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clay County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clay County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Clay County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clay County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Clay County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Clay County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clay County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clay County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.32% market share for Clay County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clay County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Clay County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until May 1, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: May 1, 2018). Clay County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Clay County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Clay County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Clay County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Clay County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Clay County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Clay County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Clay County’s potential claims against them. Clay County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clay County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clay County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clay County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clay County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Clay County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Clay County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clay County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clay County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

210. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Clayton County, Iowa

Clayton County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Clayton County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Clayton County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Clayton County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Clayton County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Clayton County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Clayton County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Clayton County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Clayton County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Clayton County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Clayton County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Clayton County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Clayton County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Clayton County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clayton County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units

shipped to Clayton County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.38% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Clayton County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Clayton County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Clayton County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Clayton County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Clayton County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Clayton County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Clayton County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Clayton County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Clayton County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Clayton County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Clayton County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

211. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Dallas County, Iowa

Dallas County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Dallas County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Dallas County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Dallas County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Dallas County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Dallas County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Dallas County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Dallas County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Dallas County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Dallas County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Dallas County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Dallas County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Dallas County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.24% market share for Dallas County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dallas County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Dallas County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until June 28, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See

Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: June 28, 2018). Dallas County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Dallas County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Dallas County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Dallas County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Dallas County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Dallas County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Dallas County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF

No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Dallas County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Dallas County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

212. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Humboldt County, Iowa

Humboldt County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Humboldt County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Humboldt County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Humboldt County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Humboldt County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Humboldt County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Humboldt County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Humboldt County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Humboldt County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Humboldt County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Humboldt County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Humboldt County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Humboldt County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.001% market share for Humboldt County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Humboldt County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Humboldt County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.25% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Humboldt County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Humboldt County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See

Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Humboldt County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Humboldt County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Humboldt County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Humboldt County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Humboldt County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Humboldt County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Humboldt County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Humboldt County's potential claims against them. Humboldt County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Humboldt County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Humboldt County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Humboldt County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Humboldt County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Humboldt County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Humboldt County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Humboldt County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Humboldt County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

213. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Johnson County, Iowa

Johnson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Johnson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Johnson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Johnson County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Johnson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Johnson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Johnson County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Johnson County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Johnson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Johnson County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Johnson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Johnson County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Johnson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Johnson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Johnson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Johnson County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.11% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Johnson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Johnson County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until June 19, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: June 19, 2018). Johnson County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Johnson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Johnson County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Johnson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Johnson County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Johnson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Johnson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Johnson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Johnson County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

214. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Iowa

Marion County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marion County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marion County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marion County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Marion County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marion County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Marion County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Marion County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marion County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Marion County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Marion County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marion County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marion County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.25% market share for Marion County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marion County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Marion County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.46% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marion County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Marion County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Marion County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marion County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marion County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marion County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marion County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Marion County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Marion County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marion County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marion County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

215. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Mitchell County, Iowa

Mitchell County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Mitchell County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Mitchell County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Mitchell County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Mitchell County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Mitchell County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Mitchell County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Mitchell County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Mitchell County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Mitchell County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Mitchell County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Mitchell County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Had Zero Dispenses. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy did not dispense a single opioid prescription to Mitchell County’s geographic jurisdiction over the period for which OptumRx has data (2010 to 2019). See Gustafson Decl.. Because OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy “ha[s] no market share, they shouldn’t be in the case, period.” ECF No. 3685 at 6:9–14; see Section III.A.2, above. Thus, Mitchell County cannot show good cause to add claims against OptumRx in its capacity as a home delivery pharmacy.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Mitchell County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.02% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Mitchell County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Mitchell County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Mitchell County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Mitchell County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Mitchell County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Mitchell County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Mitchell County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Mitchell County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Mitchell County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Mitchell County’s potential claims against them. Mitchell County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Mitchell County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28..

Failure to State a Claim. Mitchell County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Mitchell County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Mitchell County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Mitchell County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Mitchell County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Mitchell County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Mitchell County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

216. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Plymouth County, Iowa

Plymouth County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Plymouth County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Plymouth County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Plymouth County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Plymouth County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Plymouth County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Plymouth County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Plymouth County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Plymouth County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Plymouth County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Plymouth County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Plymouth County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Had Zero Dispenses. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy did not dispense a single opioid prescription to Plymouth County's geographic jurisdiction over the period for which OptumRx has data (2010 to 2019). See Gustafson Decl.. Because OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy "ha[s] no market share, they shouldn't be in the case, period." ECF No. 3685 at 6:9–14; see Section III.A.2, above. Thus, Plymouth County cannot show good cause to add claims against OptumRx in its capacity as a home delivery pharmacy.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Plymouth County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.33% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Plymouth County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Plymouth County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Plymouth County’s violation of the Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Plymouth County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Plymouth County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Plymouth County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Plymouth County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Plymouth County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Plymouth County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Plymouth County's potential claims against them. Plymouth County's failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that "plaintiffs' counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation"); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Plymouth County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Plymouth County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Plymouth County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Plymouth County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Plymouth County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Plymouth County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period.

ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Plymouth County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Plymouth County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

217. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Scott County, Iowa

Scott County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Scott County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Scott County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Scott County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Scott County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Scott County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Scott County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Scott County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Scott County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Scott County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Scott County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Scott County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Scott County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Scott County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scott County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Scott County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.24% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Scott County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Scott County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Scott County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws.

See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Scott County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Scott County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Scott County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Scott County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Scott County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Scott County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Scott County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Scott County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Scott County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Scott County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Scott County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Scott County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

218. Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP: Plaintiff Winneshiek County, Iowa

Winneshiek County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Winneshiek County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Winneshiek County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Winneshiek County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Winneshiek County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Winneshiek County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Winneshiek County first amended its complaint on May 25, 2018. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. Winneshiek County amended its complaint again on March 15, 2019. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 10. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Winneshiek County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Winneshiek County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Winneshiek County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Winneshiek County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Winneshiek County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.004% market share for Winneshiek County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Winneshiek County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Winneshiek County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.10% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Winneshiek County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Winneshiek County filed its original complaint on January 5, 2018, but waited until April 27, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 27, 2018). Winneshiek County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Iowa law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Winneshiek County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Iowa law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Winneshiek County, a municipality in Iowa, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Winneshiek County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Winneshiek County filed its first amended complaint on May 25, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Adair County et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45122-DAP, ECF No. 7. It is therefore indisputable that Winneshiek County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Winneshiek County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Winneshiek County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Winneshiek County, a municipality in Iowa, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

219. City of Cleveland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45132-DAP: Plaintiff Cleveland City, Ohio

Cleveland City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Cleveland City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Cleveland City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to submit a plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Cleveland City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Cleveland City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Cleveland City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Cleveland City first amended its complaint on April 25, 2018. See City of Cleveland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 12. Cleveland City amended its complaint again on May 18, 2018. See City of Cleveland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 98. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Cleveland City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Cleveland City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Cleveland City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Cleveland City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Cleveland City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Cleveland City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Cleveland City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Cleveland City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Cleveland City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cleveland City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Cleveland City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.44% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Cleveland City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Prosecute. Despite the Court’s repeated instructions to the contrary, Cleveland City has never served a Plaintiff Fact Sheet. Cleveland City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Cleveland City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Cleveland City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Cleveland City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Cleveland City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Cleveland City’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Cleveland City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Cleveland City filed its original complaint on March 6, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Cleveland, Ohio v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45132-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Cleveland City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Cleveland City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Cleveland City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Cleveland City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

220. Campbell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. (JRG2), Case No. 1:18-op-45133-DAP: Plaintiff Campbell County, Tennessee

Campbell County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Campbell County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Campbell County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Campbell County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Campbell County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Campbell County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Campbell County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 30, 2018. See Campbell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. (JRG2), Case No. 1:18-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Campbell County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Campbell County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Campbell County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Campbell County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Campbell County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Campbell County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Campbell County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Campbell County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Campbell County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Campbell County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Campbell County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.22% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Campbell County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Campbell County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Campbell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. (JRG2), Case No. 1:18-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Campbell County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Tennessee law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Campbell County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Tennessee law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Campbell County, a municipality in Tennessee, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Campbell County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Campbell County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Campbell County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al. (JRG2), Case No. 1:18-op-45133-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Campbell County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Campbell County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Campbell County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Campbell County, a municipality in Tennessee, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

221. Williamson County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45134-DAP: Plaintiff Williamson County, Tennessee

Williamson County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Williamson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Williamson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Williamson County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Williamson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Williamson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Williamson County amended its complaint on March 13, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on January 31, 2018. See Williamson County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45134-DAP, ECF No. 13. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Williamson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Williamson County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Williamson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Williamson County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Williamson County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; and Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Williamson County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Williamson County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Williamson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Williamson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Williamson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Williamson County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.24% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Williamson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Williamson County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Williamson County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Williamson County began receiving those services on April 1, 2014. See id. Inasmuch as Williamson County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Williamson County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Williamson County’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Tennessee law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Williamson County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Tennessee law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Williamson County, a municipality in Tennessee, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above; Glenn, 642 F. Supp. 3d at 638.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Williamson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Williamson County filed its original complaint on January 3, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Williamson County, Tennessee v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45134-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Williamson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Williamson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Williamson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Williamson County, a municipality in Tennessee, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

222. Greene County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45136-DAP: Plaintiff Greene County, Tennessee

Greene County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Greene County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Greene County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Greene County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Greene County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Greene County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Greene County amended its complaint on March 8, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 1, 2018. See Greene County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45136-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Greene County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Greene County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Greene County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Greene County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Greene County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Greene County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Greene County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Greene County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Greene County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Greene County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Greene County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.10% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Greene County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Greene County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Greene County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45136-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Greene County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Tennessee law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Greene County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Tennessee law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Greene County, a municipality in Tennessee, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Greene County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Greene County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Greene County, Tennessee v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45136-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Greene County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Greene County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Greene County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Greene County, a municipality in Tennessee, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

223. Muskingum County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45137-DAP: Plaintiff Muskingum County, Ohio

Muskingum County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Muskingum County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Muskingum County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Muskingum County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Muskingum County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Muskingum County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Muskingum County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 2, 2018. See Muskingum County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45137-DAP, ECF No. 26. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Muskingum County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Muskingum County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Muskingum County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Muskingum County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Muskingum County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Muskingum County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Muskingum County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Muskingum County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Muskingum County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Muskingum County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Muskingum County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Muskingum County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Muskingum County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Muskingum County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Muskingum County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Muskingum County filed its original complaint on January 15, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Muskingum County Board of County Commissioners v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45137-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Muskingum County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Muskingum County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Muskingum County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Muskingum County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

224. People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45138-DAP: Plaintiff Coles County, Illinois

Coles County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Coles County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Coles County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Coles County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Coles County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Coles County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Coles County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 2, 2018. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45138-DAP, ECF No. 9. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Coles County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Coles County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Coles County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Coles County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Coles County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Coles County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Coles County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Coles County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Coles County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Coles County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Coles County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.13% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Coles County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Illinois law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Coles County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Illinois law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Coles County, a municipality in Illinois, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Coles County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Coles County filed its original complaint on January 17, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See People of the State of Illinois et al. v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45138-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Coles County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Coles County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Coles County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Coles County, a municipality in Illinois, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

225. Catawba County North Carolina v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45145-DAP: Plaintiff Catawba County, North Carolina

Catawba County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Catawba County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Catawba County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Catawba County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Catawba County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Catawba County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Catawba County amended its complaint on March 11, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 5, 2018. See Catawba County North Carolina v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45145-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Catawba County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Catawba County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Catawba County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Catawba County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Catawba County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey &

Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Catawba County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Catawba County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Catawba County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Catawba County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Catawba County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Catawba County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.21% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Catawba County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Catawba County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Catawba County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Catawba County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Catawba County filed its original complaint on January 11, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Catawba County North Carolina v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45145-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Catawba County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Catawba County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Catawba County's request for leave to amend to add a

RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Catawba County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

226. Forrest County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45147-DAP: Plaintiff Forrest County, Mississippi

Forrest County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Forrest County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Forrest County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Forrest County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Forrest County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Forrest County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Forrest County amended its complaint on March 7, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on April 2, 2018. See Forrest County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 17. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Forrest County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Forrest County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Forrest County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Forrest County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Forrest County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Forrest County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Forrest County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Forrest County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Forrest County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Forrest County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Forrest County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.14% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Forrest County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Forrest County filed its original complaint on January 18, 2018. See Forrest County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Forrest County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Forrest County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Forrest County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Forrest County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Forrest County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Mississippi law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Forrest County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Mississippi law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Forrest County, a municipality in Mississippi, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Forrest County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Forrest County filed its amended complaint on March 7, 2019, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Forrest County, Mississippi v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45147-DAP, ECF No. 17. It is therefore indisputable that Forrest County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, five years before seeking leave to amend. Forrest County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Forrest County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Forrest County, a municipality in Mississippi, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

227. Wayne County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45150-DAP: Plaintiff Wayne County, Ohio

Wayne County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Wayne County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Wayne County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Wayne County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Wayne County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Wayne County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Wayne County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after directly filing in the MDL. See Wayne County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45150-DAP, ECF No. 38. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Wayne County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Wayne County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Wayne County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Wayne County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Wayne County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Wayne County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Wayne County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Wayne County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.12% market share for Wayne County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Wayne County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Wayne County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Wayne County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Wayne County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Wayne County's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Wayne County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Wayne County filed its original complaint on February 2, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Wayne County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45150-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Wayne County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Wayne County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Wayne County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Wayne County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

228. Baldwin County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45152-DAP: Plaintiff Baldwin County, Alabama

Baldwin County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Baldwin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Baldwin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Baldwin County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Baldwin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Baldwin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Baldwin County amended its complaint on March 6, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 5, 2018. See Baldwin County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45152-DAP, ECF No. 11. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Baldwin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Baldwin County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Baldwin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Baldwin County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Baldwin County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Baldwin County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Baldwin County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Baldwin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Baldwin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Baldwin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Baldwin County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.34% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Baldwin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Baldwin County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Baldwin County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Impermissible Claim-splitting. Baldwin County seeks leave to amend to add claims against the PBMs in two cases: Baldwin County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation, et al., No. 1:18-op-45152-DAP; and Baldwin County, Alabama v. Sackler, et al., No. 1:19-op-45264-DAP. Baldwin County’s impermissible claim-splitting is a waste of judicial resources and should be rejected. See Waad, 762 F. App’x at 260–63 (finding no abuse of discretion where district court dismissed plaintiff’s claims for improper claim splitting where the plaintiff’s claims in a later-filed case were “duplicative of and improperly split” from an earlier-filed case); Stripling, 2023 WL 5120238, at *2–4 (dismissing subsequent suit based on the same facts pursuant to the Court’s inherent authority and discretion to manage its own docket). It also demonstrates a fundamental lack of diligence on the part of Plaintiff and the PEC.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Baldwin County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Baldwin County filed its original complaint on January 12, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Baldwin County, Alabama v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45152-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Baldwin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Baldwin County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Baldwin County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Baldwin County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Baldwin County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 12, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Baldwin County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Baldwin County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

229. Hancock County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45153-DAP: Plaintiff Hancock County, Tennessee

Hancock County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Hancock County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Hancock County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Hancock County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Hancock County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Hancock County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Hancock County amended its complaint on March 8, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 6, 2018. See Hancock County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45153-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Hancock County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Hancock County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Hancock County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Hancock County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Hancock County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Hancock County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Hancock County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Hancock County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.003% market share for Hancock County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hancock County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Hancock County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.07% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Hancock County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Hancock County filed its original complaint on January 18, 2018. See Hancock County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45153-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Hancock County never implemented a litigation hold and is instead purporting to rely on non-specific and unidentified document retention laws. See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: *(Never)). This is a plain violation of this Court's orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Hancock County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Hancock County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Hancock County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Hancock County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Tennessee law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Hancock County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Tennessee law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Hancock County, a municipality in Tennessee, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Hancock County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Hancock County filed its original complaint on January 18, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Hancock County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45153-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Hancock County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Hancock County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Hancock County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Hancock County, a municipality in Tennessee, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

230. City of Revere v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45155-DAP: Plaintiff Revere City, Massachusetts

Revere City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Revere City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Revere City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Revere City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Revere City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Revere City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Revere City amended its complaint on March 8, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 7, 2018. See City of Revere v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45155-DAP, ECF No. 27. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Revere City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Revere City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Revere City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Revere City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Revere City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Revere City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Revere City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Revere City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.002% market share for Revere City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Revere City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units

shipped to Revere City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.21% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Revere City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Massachusetts law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Revere City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Massachusetts law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Revere City, a municipality in Massachusetts, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Revere City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Revere City filed its original complaint on January 22, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Revere v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45155-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Revere City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Revere City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above.

Revere City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Massachusetts, public-nuisance claims are subject to a three-year limitations period. Revere City's public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Revere City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 22, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Revere City, a municipality in Massachusetts, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

231. City of Baton Rouge v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45160-DAP: Plaintiff Baton Rouge City, Louisiana

Baton Rouge City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Baton Rouge City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Baton Rouge City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Baton Rouge City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Baton Rouge City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Baton Rouge City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Baton Rouge City amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 8, 2018. See City of Baton Rouge v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45160-DAP, ECF No. 7. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Baton Rouge City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Baton Rouge City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Baton Rouge City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Baton Rouge City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Baton Rouge City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Baton Rouge City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Baton Rouge City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Baton Rouge City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Baton Rouge City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Baton Rouge City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Baton Rouge City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.27% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Baton Rouge City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Baton Rouge City filed its original complaint on January 23, 2018. See City of Baton Rouge v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45160-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Baton Rouge City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Baton Rouge City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Baton Rouge City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Baton Rouge City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Baton Rouge City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Louisiana law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Baton Rouge City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Louisiana law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Baton Rouge City, a municipality in Louisiana, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Baton Rouge City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Baton Rouge City filed its original complaint on January 23, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Baton Rouge v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45160-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Baton Rouge City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Baton Rouge City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Baton Rouge City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Louisiana, public-nuisance claims are subject to an one-year limitations period. Baton Rouge City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Baton Rouge City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 23, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Baton Rouge City, a municipality in Louisiana, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

232. Franklin County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45162-DAP: Plaintiff Franklin County, Ohio

Franklin County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Franklin County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Franklin County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Franklin County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Franklin County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Franklin County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Franklin County amended its complaint on March 14, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Franklin County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45162-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Franklin County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Franklin County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Franklin County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Franklin County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Franklin County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Franklin County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Franklin County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Franklin County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Franklin County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Franklin County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Franklin County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.41% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Franklin County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Franklin County previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Franklin County of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Franklin County began receiving those services on April 1, 2007. See id. Inasmuch as Franklin County seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Franklin County knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Franklin County’s delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline).

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Franklin County violated its basic duty to implement a timely litigation hold. Franklin County filed its original complaint on January 30, 2018, but waited until September 20, 2024 to implement a litigation hold—six years later. See Franklin County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45162-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: September 20, 2024). This is a plain violation of this Court’s orders. ECF Nos. 232; 5455. Litigating Franklin County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Franklin County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Franklin County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Franklin County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Franklin County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Franklin County, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff’s Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Franklin County is a plaintiff in Ohio. Franklin County’s request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because “all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act.” In re Nat’l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Franklin County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Franklin County filed its original complaint on January 30, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Franklin County Board of County Commissioners v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45162-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Franklin County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Franklin County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Franklin County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Franklin County, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

233. City of Lebanon v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45163-DAP: Plaintiff Lebanon City, Ohio

Lebanon City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Lebanon City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Lebanon City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Lebanon City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Lebanon City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by state law in Ohio, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Lebanon City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Lebanon City amended its complaint on March 13, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See City of Lebanon v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45163-DAP, ECF No. 23. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Lebanon City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Lebanon City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Lebanon City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Lebanon City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Lebanon City cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Lebanon City, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Lebanon City fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Lebanon City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Lebanon City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Lebanon City to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prior Notice as an Express Scripts Client. Lebanon City previously entered into a contract with Express Scripts for PBM services related to utilization management and formulary development. See Achter Decl., Exhibit A. That contract notified Lebanon City of the PBM services Express Scripts provides and Lebanon City began receiving those services on June 6, 2012. See id. Inasmuch as Lebanon City seeks to add claims against Express Scripts entities related to utilization management or formulary placement (see, e.g., Rochester Am. Compl. ¶¶ 733, 741, 786–816, 821–22, 845), Lebanon City knew or should have known of the alleged wrongful conduct more than ten years before moving to amend. See Section III.A.2, above. Lebanon City's delay in seeking leave to amend negates any finding of good cause for leave to amend. Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (denying motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Ohio law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Lebanon City's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Ohio law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Lebanon City, a municipality in Ohio, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

Plaintiff's Public Nuisance Claim is Futile. Lebanon City is a plaintiff in Ohio. Lebanon City's request for leave to add the PBMs as defendants to a public nuisance claim should be denied as futile because "all common-law public-nuisance claims arising from the sale of a product have been abrogated by the Ohio Product Liability Act." In re Nat'l Prescription Opiate Litig., 2024 WL 5049302, at *1, 2024-OHIO-5744, ¶ 1; see Section III.B.3, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Lebanon City's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Lebanon City filed its original complaint on January 30, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See City of Lebanon v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45163-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Lebanon City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Lebanon City's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Lebanon City's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Lebanon City, a municipality in Ohio, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

234. Johnson County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. (TVI), Case No. 1:18-op-45164-DAP: Plaintiff Johnson County, Tennessee

Johnson County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Johnson County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Johnson County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to timely implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Johnson County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Johnson County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Johnson County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Johnson County amended its complaint on March 8, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Johnson County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. (TV1), Case No. 1:18-op-45164-DAP, ECF No. 8. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Johnson County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Johnson County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Johnson County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Johnson County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Johnson County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Johnson County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Johnson County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Johnson County’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.08% market share for Johnson County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Johnson County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Johnson County’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.46% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Johnson County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Timely Implement a Litigation Hold. Johnson County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, but waited until April 30, 2018 to implement a litigation hold. See Johnson County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. (TVI), Case No. 1:18-op-45164-DAP, ECF No. 1; see also ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: April 30, 2018). Johnson County's violation of the Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455) and disregard for its discovery obligations is prejudicial to the PBMs and weighs heavily against any finding of good cause for leave to amend. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Tennessee law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Johnson County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Tennessee law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Johnson County, a municipality in Tennessee, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Johnson County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Johnson County filed its original complaint on January 4, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Johnson County v. Amerisourcebergen Drug Corporation et al. (TVI), Case No. 1:18-op-45164-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Johnson County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Johnson County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Johnson County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Johnson County, a municipality in Tennessee, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

235. Gaston County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45166-DAP: Plaintiff Gaston County, North Carolina

Gaston County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Gaston County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Gaston County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Gaston County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Gaston County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Gaston County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Gaston County amended its complaint on March 12, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Gaston County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45166-DAP, ECF No. 6. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Gaston County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Gaston County’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Gaston County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Gaston County’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

Prior Notice Through Counsel. Gaston County cannot meet the Rule 16 good cause standard because it is represented by the same counsel—Greene, Ketchum, Farrell, Bailey & Tweel, LLP; Powell & Majestro; Baron & Budd, P.C.; Levin, Papantonio, Thomas, Mitchell, Rafferty & Proctor, P.A.; and McHugh Fuller Law Group, PLLC—that filed claims against the PBMs in 2019. See MDL ECF No. 2582. Gaston County, through its counsel, was on notice of potential claims against the PBMs and could readily have amended its complaint to add the PBMs much earlier. Gaston County fails to explain why it was unable to assert claims against the PBMs in 2019 when its own attorneys were already asserting those claims on behalf of other clients. See, e.g., Duggins, 195 F.3d at 834 (affirming denial of leave to amend after the close of discovery when the “plaintiff was obviously aware of the basis of the claim for many months, especially since some underlying facts were made a part of the complaint”); Thurmond, 649 F. App’x at 1006 (affirming denial of leave to amend for undue delay in part because plaintiff’s counsel had access to discovery in related cases and was previously aware of the proposed new defendants’ conduct).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Gaston County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.05% market share for Gaston County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gaston County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Gaston County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.24% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Gaston County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under North Carolina law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Gaston County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under North Carolina law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Gaston County, a municipality in North Carolina, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Gaston County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Gaston County filed its original complaint on January 28, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Gaston County v. AmerisourceBergen Drug Corporation et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45166-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Gaston County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Gaston County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Gaston County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Gaston County, a municipality in North Carolina, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester's complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

236. County of Onondaga, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45170-DAP: Plaintiff Onondaga County, New York

Onondaga County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Onondaga County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Onondaga County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Onondaga County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Onondaga County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, and its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations.

Lack of Diligence. Onondaga County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above.

Moreover, Onondaga County amended its complaint on March 13, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See County of Onondaga, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45170-DAP, ECF No. 68. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Onondaga County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaint. See Section II.A.1, above. Onondaga County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Onondaga County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Onondaga County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Onondaga County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Onondaga County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Onondaga County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Onondaga County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.39% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Onondaga County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Onondaga County filed its original complaint on January 23, 2018. See County of Onondaga, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45170-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Onondaga County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Onondaga County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Onondaga County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Onondaga County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Onondaga County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under New York law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Onondaga County's delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs' ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under New York law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Onondaga County's proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Onondaga County filed its original complaint on January 23, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See County of Onondaga, New York v. Purdue Pharma, L.P. et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45170-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Onondaga County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Onondaga County's RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO's four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by "discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim" (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Onondaga County's request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

237. Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Dora City, Alabama

Dora City's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Dora City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Dora City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Dora City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Dora City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Dora City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Dora City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-

DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Dora City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Dora City’s deadline to amend was in 2019. Dora City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Dora City’s lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order’s deadline because plaintiff “had all the information [she] needed” to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a “wait-and-see approach” instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx’s Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Dora City’s geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.01% market share for Dora City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dora City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx’s home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts’ Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Dora City’s geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.09% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Dora City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts’ mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Dora City filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Dora City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Dora City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Dora City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Dora City’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Dora City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Dora City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Dora City’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Dora City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Dora City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Dora City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Dora City’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Dora City’s potential claims against them. Dora City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Dora City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Dora City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Dora City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Dora City filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Dora City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Dora City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Dora City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Dora City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Dora City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 29, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Dora City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

238. Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Jasper City, Alabama

Jasper City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Jasper City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Jasper City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Jasper City’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Jasper City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Jasper City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Jasper City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-

DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Jasper City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Jasper City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Jasper City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Jasper City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Jasper City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Jasper City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jasper City to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Jasper City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.12% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Jasper City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Jasper City filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Jasper City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Jasper City’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Jasper City’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Jasper City’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Jasper City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Jasper City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Jasper City’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Jasper City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Jasper City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Jasper City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Jasper City’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Jasper City’s potential claims against them. Jasper City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Jasper City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Jasper City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Jasper City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Jasper City filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Jasper City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Jasper City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Jasper City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Jasper City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Jasper City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 29, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Jasper City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

239. Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Marion County, Alabama

Marion County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Marion County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Marion County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Marion County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Marion County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Marion County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover,

Marion County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Marion County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Marion County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Marion County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Marion County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Marion County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.04% market share for Marion County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marion County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Marion County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.10% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Marion County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Marion County filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Marion County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court’s orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Marion County’s case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Marion County’s document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Marion County’s disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Marion County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Marion County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Marion County’s health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Marion County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Marion County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Marion County’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Marion County’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Marion County’s potential claims against them. Marion County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Marion County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Marion County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Marion County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Marion County filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Marion County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Marion County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Marion County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Marion County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Marion County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 29, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marion County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Marion County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

240. Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Pickens County, Alabama

Pickens County’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Pickens County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Pickens County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Pickens County’s motion should be denied due to futility, as Pickens County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Pickens County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Pickens County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Pickens County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Pickens County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Pickens County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Pickens County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Pickens County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Pickens County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Pickens County to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Pickens County filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Pickens County never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Pickens County's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Pickens County's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Pickens County's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Pickens County therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Pickens County failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Pickens County's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Pickens County of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Pickens County refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court's orders, Pickens County's case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Pickens County's refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs' ability to defend against Pickens County’s potential claims against them. Pickens County’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Pickens County’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Pickens County, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Pickens County’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Pickens County filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Pickens County knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Pickens County’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Pickens County’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Pickens County’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Pickens County sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 29, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pickens County lacks statutory standing to assert a public nuisance claim under Alabama law because it “is clearly not an individual, nor a city, nor the [s]tate,” and thus amendment is futile. Lee County, 2022 WL 450810, at *4 (concluding an Alabama county lacked standing to bring a Ala. Code § 6-5-121 claim); see Section III.B.3, above.

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Pickens County, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

241. Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Sumiton City, Alabama

Sumiton City’s untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Sumiton City failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Sumiton City also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Sumiton City's motion should be denied due to futility, as Sumiton City does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Sumiton City was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Sumiton City amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Sumiton City declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Sumiton City's deadline to amend was in 2019. Sumiton City waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Sumiton City's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Sumiton City's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.001% market share for Sumiton City). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sumiton City to add dispensing claims against

OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Sumiton City's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.02% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Sumiton City to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

Failure to Implement a Litigation Hold. Sumiton City filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. Despite filing its case years ago, Sumiton City never implemented a litigation hold, in violation of this Court's orders (ECF Nos. 232; 5455). See ECF No. 5687-1 (Date Litigation Hold Implemented: Never). Litigating Sumiton City's case would force the parties and the Court to waste time and resources ascertaining the extent of Sumiton City's document destruction and the appropriate sanctions—just as the parties were forced to do in the three PBM bellwethers that failed to implement litigation holds until 2024. The PBMs are prejudiced by Sumiton City's disregard for its most basic discovery obligations as a litigant, compounded by the delay in seeking leave to amend, and Sumiton City therefore lacks good cause for leave to amend its complaint. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28 (denying leave to amend in part because the passage of time resulted in significant prejudice due to the loss of documents or records); see also Section III.A.4, above.

Failure to Prosecute. In its Plaintiff Fact Sheet, Sumiton City failed to provide complete answers to Questions I.B.8 and I.B.9, relating to Sumiton City's health plans, carriers, third party administrators, and pharmacy benefit managers throughout the relevant time period. The PBMs notified Sumiton City of this deficiency on September 16, 2024 (see Exhibit B), but Sumiton City refused to amend or supplement its Fact Sheet. Under this Court’s orders, Sumiton City’s case is therefore subject to “dismiss[al] with prejudice” for failure to prosecute. ECF No. 4985 at 1 (emphasis in original); see Section III.A.5, above. Sumiton City’s refusal to provide basic information related to its health care plans prejudices the PBMs’ ability to defend against Sumiton City’s potential claims against them. Sumiton City’s failure to diligently prosecute its case, coupled with the prejudice against the PBMs, negates any finding of good cause and leave to amend should be denied. See Final Amendment Order, ECF No. 5455 at 2 (directing counsel to dismiss, not seek leave to amend, in any case that “plaintiffs’ counsel does not intend to zealously pursue in litigation”); Range, 2017 WL 9477693, at *4 n.6 (denying motion for leave to amend as moot because claims were dismissed for failure to prosecute).

Prejudice Due to Loss of Evidence. Under Alabama law, the PBMs have the right to seek to allocate fault to other parties. See Section III.A.6, above. But Sumiton City’s delay in seeking to amend its complaint has impaired the PBMs’ ability to exercise those allocation-of-fault rights under Alabama law due to the loss of relevant evidence over time. That impairment substantially prejudices the PBMs in their ability to defend themselves. See Pethtel, 2020 WL 6827791, at *28.

Failure to State a Claim. Sumiton City, a municipality in Alabama, has not pleaded any facts showing that the PBMs caused or substantially contributed to its injuries. Instead, it relies exclusively on the amended complaint of the City of Rochester, a differently situated plaintiff from another state. See Section III.B.1, above.

RICO Statute of Limitations. The statute of limitations for Sumiton City’s proposed RICO claim against the PBMs has expired. Sumiton City filed its original complaint on January 29, 2018, alleging the same type of injuries and alleging a RICO claim against other defendants. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF No. 1. It is therefore indisputable that Sumiton City knew of its RICO injury, at the very latest, the day it filed a complaint asserting a RICO claim, six years before seeking leave to amend. Sumiton City’s RICO claim is therefore time-barred by RICO’s four-year limitations period. ECF No. 2568 at 13 (holding that the RICO limitations period is triggered by “discovery of the injury, not discovery of [the] other elements of a claim” (quoting Rotella, 528 U.S. at 555)); see Section III.B.4, above. Sumiton City’s request for leave to amend to add a RICO claim should be denied as futile. See Oakley, 2016 WL 1117596, at *5 (denying motion for leave to amend because RICO claims were time-barred).

Public Nuisance Statute of Limitations. In Alabama, public-nuisance claims are subject to a two-year limitations period. Sumiton City’s public-nuisance claim against the PBMs is therefore time-barred because Sumiton City sought leave to amend its complaint on July 29, 2024—more than six years after filing its original complaint on January 29, 2018—and the proposed amendment does not relate back to the original filing for purposes of the applicable statute of limitations. See Zakora, 44 F.4th at 480 (“This court has repeatedly held that an amendment which adds a new party creates a new cause of action and there is no relation back to the original filing for purposes of limitations.” (cleaned up)).

Plaintiff Lacks Standing. Sumiton City, a municipality in Alabama, lacks standing to state a claim for relief under any of the New York laws referenced in the City of Rochester’s complaint. See Section III.B.6, above.

242. Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP: Plaintiff Walker County, Alabama

Walker County's untimely motion for leave to amend should be denied for several reasons. Walker County failed to provide notice of its proposed amendments through a proposed complaint. Walker County also lacks good cause under Rule 15 or Rule 16 due to a lack of diligence, failure to implement a litigation hold, failure to submit a complete plaintiff fact sheet, and because its untimely motion would unduly prejudice the PBMs. Moreover, Walker County's motion should be denied due to futility, as Walker County does not assert any allegations tying the PBMs to its alleged harm, its proposed public nuisance claim is barred by the statute of limitations, its RICO claim is barred by the statute of limitations, and it lacks standing to assert claims under New York state law.

Lack of Diligence. Walker County was on notice of its claims against the PBMs for years but failed to exercise due diligence by moving to amend earlier. See Section II.A, above. Moreover, Walker County amended its complaint on March 15, 2019, after transfer to the MDL on February 12, 2018. See Marion County, Alabama et al. v. Purdue Pharma LP et al., Case No. 1:18-op-45171-DAP, ECF Nos. 11, 12. Unlike many other plaintiffs, Walker County declined to add claims against the PBMs in its amended complaints. See Section II.A.1, above. Walker County's deadline to amend was in 2019. Walker County waited five years after its deadline to amend to seek leave to assert claims against the PBMs. Walker County's lack of diligence in pursuing its claims negates any finding of good cause. See Garza, 972 F.3d at 879 (affirming denial of motion to amend nine months after the scheduling order's deadline because plaintiff "had all the information [she] needed" to bring claims before the deadline); Glazer, 704 F.3d at 459 (affirming denial of motion to amend because plaintiff took a "wait-and-see approach" instead of timely moving to amend).

OptumRx's Home-Delivery Pharmacy Has a Negligible Market Share. OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of opioid units shipped to Walker County's geographic jurisdiction over the ten-year period of 2010 to 2019. See Gustafson Decl. (0.02% market share for Walker County). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Walker County to add dispensing claims against OptumRx's home-delivery pharmacy years after the amendment deadline. See Section III.A.2, above.

Express Scripts' Mail Order Pharmacy a Negligible Market Share. Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy shipped less than 0.5% of the total number of prescription opioid units shipped to Walker County's geographic jurisdiction during 2009 to 2019. See DeCarlo Decl., Exhibit C (0.20% market share). That insignificant dispensing volume is much too low to support a finding of good cause for Walker County to add dispensing claims against Express Scripts' mail order pharmacy entities. See Section III.A.2, above.

